

SUPPORTING STATEMENT
Return of U.S. Persons With Respect to Certain Foreign Partnerships
OMB No. 1545-1668

13488. CIRCUMSTANCES NECESSITATING COLLECTION OF INFORMATION

In the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 (TRA 1997) Congress significantly modified the information reporting requirements with respect to foreign participants. The specific changes are as follows:

A. Section 6038. Prior to TRA 1997, section 6038 required U.S. persons that control a foreign corporation to furnish information about that corporation. TRA 1997 amended section 6038 so that it now also requires U.S. persons that control a foreign corporation to furnish information about that partnership. The IRS issued regulations that say controlling U.S. persons and 10% partners must report under 6038.

B. Section 6038B. Prior to TRA 1997, section 6038B required that certain transfers by U.S. persons to foreign corporations be reported. TRA 1997 expended section 6038B to require United States persons to also report certain transfers to foreign partnerships. The IRS issued regulations under section 6038B with respect to transfers to foreign partnerships in February, 1999. A person required to report under section 6038B is referred to in the form instructions as “category (3) filer”.

C. Section 6046A. Congress added section 6046A to the Code in 1982. Nevertheless, thus far the IRS has never required taxpayers to report under section 6046A. As originally enacted, section 6046A required U.S. persons to file a return reporting their acquisitions and dispositions of foreign partnership interests, as well as any substantial changes in their proportional foreign partnership interests. TRA 1997 modified section 6046A so that it now provides that acquisitions and dispositions must be reported only if the U.S. person directly or indirectly holds at least 10% interest in the partnership either before or after such acquisition or disposition. It also now provides that a change in a proportional interest must only be reported if the change is equivalent to at least a 10% interest in the partnership.
