Consent to Participate in an Evaluation Study

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) National Evaluation of SAMHSA's Homeless Programs

Staff Site Visit Interview Consent

About the Study

This site visit interview is part of the data collection for a national evaluation effort to describe the implementation, effectiveness and sustainability of the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA) Center for Mental Health Services (CMHS) and Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT) Homeless Programs throughout the country. SAMHSA's Homeless Programs include CSAT Grants for the Benefit of Homeless Individuals (GBHI) General, Services in Supportive Housing (SSH) and Cooperative Agreements to Benefit Homeless Individuals (CABHI) grants, CMHS SSH grants and CMHS Projects for Assistance in Transition from Homelessness (PATH) grants. The evaluation will examine the effects of the SAMHSA Homeless Programs project activities on client outcomes, treatment services, services systems and cost-effectiveness and identify challenges and successes in implementing and sustaining projects for homeless or housed individuals who have substance abuse and mental health problems. RTI International, an independent non-profit research company in Research Triangle Park, North Carolina, is conducting the national cross-program evaluation for SAMHSA's Homeless Programs.

This site visit is a follow-up to our review of your grant application, other materials your program submitted to SAMHSA, the Project Director Telephone Interview, and our telephone discussions organizing the site visit. You are one of 75 program sites funded by SAMHSA's CMHS and CSAT Homeless Programs in 2009, 2010, 2011 or 2012 who will be participating in evaluation site visits. We will tour your program sites, observe your interventions and meet individually or in groups with Project Directors, Program Managers, Financial/Accounting staff, local contracted and agency employed Evaluation staff, Quality Assurance/Continuous Quality Improvement staff, and Treatment, Wrap Around Services, Housing and Case Management staff who may be agency employees or from a collaborating partner agency who are implementing the local SAMHSA funded program, along with partners and other stakeholders, trainers or consultants. We will also be holding a focus group with some of your project participants who if they choose to participate will complete a separate consent form for the client focus group. In these staff/partner/stakeholder interviews and group meetings we will be asking about your perspectives on the local Homeless Programs project and services to help SAMHSA improve their GBHI, GBHI-CABHI, SSH and PATH Homeless Programs and the supports they offer to clients and grantees. These questions include background information about your agency and local community, the services provided by your agency and partners, your experience implementing, evaluating and sustaining the program, the costs of the program and lessons learned; these questions were approved by SAMHSA's CMHS and CSAT. Participants will be asked to share lessons learned with regard to barriers and successful strategies to overcome barriers to implementation, factors that impede or facilitate sustainability and their experience with and recommendations for implementing, adapting and evaluating evidence-based treatment, supportive services and housing practices. Participants may also be asked about their experience with CMHS and CSAT technical assistance (TA) or other supports and to provide input about ways SAMHSA may support future grantees. We will also observe your services/interventions and tour where your participants receive their services and housing.

The OMB control number for this project is 0930-XXXX. Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average from 1-3.5 hours per respondent, per year, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to SAMHSA Reports Clearance Officer, 1 Choke Cherry Road, Room 7-1044, Rockville, Maryland, 20857.

Voluntary Participation and Privacy

Your participation in this interview is completely voluntary. You can refuse any part of the study and you can stop participating at any time. You can refuse to answer any question.

Information about the program will be summarized and used for reporting to SAMHSA and may be disseminated in reports, via SAMHSA or the evaluation's website, conferences or professional journals. While your opinions and direct quotes will not be linked to your name and kept private for reporting and dissemination purposes, many of the interviews may be held with other employees, partners or consultants, therefore, others in the group may be able to link you to your comments and opinions. Quotes may be linked to your project and thus your agency. We will not divulge your individual responses to anyone else outside of the research team and your individual responses will not be shared with SAMHSA. Your name will be removed from transcripts and for computer entered data; you will be assigned an ID number to ensure that study data is not directly associated with your name. All computer entered data is password protected and all hard copy and tape files will be stored in locked cabinets accessible only to the research staff.

Risks and Benefits of the Study

There is minimal risk of participation in these site visit interviews. In addition to the privacy protections described above, we will reduce the risk of inadvertent disclosure by associating your responses with a unique identifier and not your name. However, as others from your agency or partners may be present during the interviews we cannot guarantee that your responses will not be disclosed by others.

For GBHI, GBHI-CABHI and SSH sites, the interviews and group meetings will be held over three days; for PATH sites, the interviews and group meetings will be held over two days. Individual and group interviews will each take from about one and a half to two and a half hours; there may be multiple interviews over the period of the site visit. No incentive for participation is provided. Information about your program and comments from staff will be aggregated within your site or, for certain information, aggregated with other Homeless Programs sites. The results will help stakeholders, practitioners, policy makers, researchers and funders learn more about the efforts of local SAMHSA's Homeless Program Initiatives, factors contributing to their success and help inform SAMHSA and future programs about what works.

Consent to Participate in an Evaluation Study

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration National Evaluation of SAMHSA's Homeless Programs

Client Site Visit Focus Group Consent

Introduction

You are being asked to take part in a national study of the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA) Homeless Programs, including the Grants for the Benefit of Homeless Individuals (GBHI) Program, the Services in Supportive Housing (SSH) program, the Cooperative Agreements to Benefit Homeless Individuals (CABHI) program, and the Projects for Assistance in Transition from Homelessness (PATH) program. The study is going to measure how the program is doing in helping people who have been homeless. This form describes who can be in the study and the risks and benefits of being in the study. This form also tells how your information will be protected and who you can call if you have any questions. Please ask the interviewer to explain anything you do not understand before you make your decision.

Purpose

RTI International (RTI) is an independent non-profit research company in Research Triangle Park, North Carolina. RTI is conducting this study of SAMHSA's Homeless Programs. The questions asked in this group meeting are asked as part of this study. This focus group meeting is meant to help us learn how the program is doing. It may also help find ways to make the program better. This focus group interview is sponsored by SAMHSA, which is a government agency. The RTI team will be facilitating this focus group interview. Because you are a client of one of the Homeless Programs, we are asking for your help in understanding how the program may benefit you and your suggestions for improvement.

Procedures

This group will include other clients from your program and the evaluation staff from RTI or its research partners. We will have a discussion about your experiences with homelessness, services, and recommendations. We will take notes and record the interview to make sure all notes are accurate. Once we have confirmed the accuracy of the notes, we will destroy the recording. Please only use your first name if you identify yourself. Your name will not be used in the notes.

Study Duration

The group will meet one time for 1.5 hours. That includes time to read this permission form, listen to instructions, and take part in a group discussion.

While we ask that all group members keep the information we discuss in the group private, there is also a chance that other group members will share the group discussion with others outside of the group. The information collected in this group interview will help us learn how SAMHSA's Homeless Programs are doing. It may also help improve the programs for future clients.
