E. APPROVAL OF SUSTAINABLE USE MANAGEMENT PLAN UNDER WBCA

NOTE 1: This application is for approval of a scientifically-based sustainable use management plan that must be granted before wild-caught species can be imported from the approved exporting country. Birds from an approved program can be imported into the U.S. without a Wild Bird Conservation Act permit. Sustainable use management plans developed by the country of export should be submitted for species, which breed in the country of export. If the species does not breed in the country of export, the Service will consider sustainable use management plans only when the plan is scientifically valid and nesting (breeding) information can be provided from countries in which the species breeds.

NOTE 2: Complete all questions on the application. Mark questions that are not applicable with "N/A". Given the length of many of your responses, use separate sheets of paper to respond to the application questions. On all attachments or separate sheets you are submitting, indicate the number of the application question you are addressing.

Electronic submission of inventories, photographs, and receipts: Some applications contain extensive inventories and /or a large number of photographs or receipts. You may provide electronic versions of the documents. Such a submission will assist in expediting the processing of your application since it may reduce data entry by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. If you wish to provide information electronically, please either include a disk containing your information or, once you have received an application number via the e-mailed acknowledgement letter, e-mail your information to Permits@fws.gov. Be sure to include the application number provided in the acknowledgement e-mail that will be sent to you when we receive your application.

_____ I will be submitting documents electronically.

1. Name and address where you wish the permit to be mailed, if different from page 1. If you would like expedited shipping, please enclose a self-addressed, pre-paid, computer-generated, courier service airway bill. If unspecified, all documents will be mailed via regular mail through the U.S. Postal Service.
2. Whom should we contact if we have questions about the application (name, phone number, and e-mail)?
3. Have you or any of the owners of the business (if applying as a business, corporation, or institution), been assessed a civil penalty or convicted of any criminal provision of any statute or regulation relating to the activity for which the application is filed; been convicted, or entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, for a felony violation of the Lacey Act, the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, or the Bald and Golden Eagle Protection Act; forfeited collateral; OR are currently under charges for any violation of the laws mentioned above?

No Yes

If you answered "Yes" to Question 3, provide: a) the individual's name; b) date of charge; c) charge(s); d) location of incident; e) court, and f) action taken for each violation. Please be aware that a "Yes" response does not automatically disqualify you from getting a permit.

4. Background Information, including:

- a. Scientific and common name of the species to be covered under the plan;
- b. Letters from the country of export's Management and Scientific Authorities transmitting the management plan of this species;
- c. A summary of the country of export's legislation related to this species and legislation implementing CITES and where appropriate, a summary of implementing regulations;
- d. A summary, from the country of export's Management Authority, of the infrastructure and law enforcement and monitoring mechanisms to ensure both enforcement and compliance with the requirements of the management plan, and that the number of birds removed from the wild or exported will be consistent with the management plan;
- e. Recent information on the distribution of the species within the country of export including scientific references and maps, and historical information on distributions, if relevant; and
- f. The species' status and its current population trend in the country of export, including scientific references and copies of the most recent non-detriment findings made by the exporting country's Scientific Authority.

5. Habitat information, including:

- a. A general description of habitats used by the species for each portion of the life cycle completed within the country of export;
- b. Recent information on the size and distribution of these habitats throughout the country of export and in each area or region of take, including scientific references and maps. The approximate location of any reserves that provide protection for this species should be indicated on the accompanying map(s), along with a brief description of how reserves are protected and how that protection is enforced;
- c. Status and trends of the important habitats used by the species in the country of export as a whole whenever available and within each area or region of take, including scientific references;
- d. Factors, including management activities, favoring or threatening the species' habitat in the foreseeable future within each area or region of take, and throughout the country of export whenever available, including scientific references; and
- e. A list of management plans that have been or are being planned, developed, or implemented for the species' important habitats, if any.

6. Information on the role of the species in its ecosystem, including:

- b. Within each area or region of take, documentation for recent population data or estimates, conducted for at least 3 separate years or 1 year with a description of survey plans for future years. These population assessments should have been conducted during the same season (breeding or non-breeding) of each year for which documentation is submitted (i.e., be methodologically comparable - both temporally and spatially);
- c. Within each area or region of take, a scientific assessment (with documentation) of recent reproductive (nesting) success. This assessment should include information on the number of young produced per egg-laying female per year or per nesting pair, or if scientifically appropriate for the species to be exported, estimates on the number of young produced per year from pre-breeding and post-breeding surveys conducted within the same annual cycle;
- d. Within each area or region of take, estimation (with documentation) of annual mortality or loss including natural mortality and take for subsistence use, export trade, and domestic trade in each area of take; or
- e. When appropriate, information (with documentation) on the number of young, which can be taken from the area, as a result of a conservation enhancement program.

8. Information on the determination of biologically sustainable use including:

9. Information on species value including:

- a. For species that are considered "pests" in the country of origin: documentation that such a species is a pest, including a description of the type of pest, - e.g., agricultural, disease carrier; a description of the damage the pest species causes to its ecosystem; and a description of how the sustainable use management plan controls population levels of the pest species; or
- b. For non-pest species: a description of how the sustainable use management plan promotes the value of the species and its habitats. Incentives for conservation may be generated by environmental education,
