According to our records, you are not qualified for benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act based on your 2013 railroad earnings.

To be qualified for benefits in the general benefit year July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015, you must have had railroad earnings of at least $3512.50 in 2013, counting no more than $1405 for any month. If you think our records are wrong and you believe you are qualified, complete and return the enclosed Form UI-9.

Even though you are not qualified for benefits based on your 2013 earnings, you may now be eligible for benefits based on an extension of the general benefit year which ended June 30, 2014. To be eligible for these benefits you must have at least 10 years of railroad service and must not have voluntarily left work without good cause or voluntarily retired. If you believe that you meet these requirements, please answer the questions below, sign your name in the space provided, and return this letter to the address shown above.
