

Exercise 1

Session # _____

1. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- Data from the American Community Survey are used to figure out the number of people in the country.
- Data from the American Community Survey are used to figure out where to build new fire stations.

2. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- The Census Bureau is using the Internet to collect this information in an effort to save taxpayers' money.
- A paper questionnaire is not available as an option for responding to the ACS.

Exercise 2

Session # _____

1. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- You are required by law to complete the ACS.
- The Census Bureau is required by law to conduct the ACS.

2. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- You can complete the ACS using a smartphone.
- If you can't respond online, you can complete the ACS by calling our 1-800 number.

Exercise 3

Session # _____

1. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- The Census Bureau first conducted the ACS in 2005.
- The ACS is conducted every five years.

2. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- The ACS provides information about employment, housing, and crime rates in communities across the country.
- The ACS helps local officials to understand how their communities change over time.

Exercise 4

Session # _____

1. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- The Census Bureau provides your individual information to communities for planning purposes.
- The ACS is a mandatory survey.

2. Which of the following pieces of information was in the letter?

- You can call our 1-800 number to request a paper form.
- The ACS is conducted every year.