1.2 A. Presumptive Eligibility Period and B. Application for Presumptive Eligibility

A. Presumptive Eligibility Period

- The presumptive period begins on the date the determination is made.
- The end date of the presumptive period is the earlier of:
 - The date the eligibility determination for regular Medicaid is made, if an application for Medicaid is filed by the last day of the month following the month in which the determination of presumptive eligibility is made; or
 - The last day of the month following the month in which the determination of presumptive eligibility is made, if no application for Medicaid is filed by that date.
- Periods of presumptive eligibility are limited as follows:
 - a. No more than one period within a calendar year.
 - b. No more than one period within two calendar years.
 - c. No more than one period within a six-month period, starting with the effective date of the initial presumptive eligibility period.
 - d. No more than one period within a twelve-month period, starting with the effective date of the initial presumptive eligibility period.
 - e. Other reasonable limitation:

1.3 C. Presumptive Eligibility Determination and D. Qualified Entities

C. Presumptive Eligibility Determination

The presumptive eligibility determination is based on the following factors:

- The individual must meet the categorical requirements of 42 CFR 435.218.
- Household income must not exceed the applicable income standard described at 42 CFR 435.218.
 - a. A reasonable estimate of MAGI-based income is used to determine household income.
 - b. Gross income is used to determine household size.
3. State residency
4. Citizenship, status as a national, or satisfactory immigration status

D. Qualified Entities

- The state uses qualified entities, as defined in section 1920A of the Act, to determine eligibility presumptively for this eligibility group. A qualified entity is an entity that that is determined by the agency to be capable of making presumptive eligibility determinations based on an individual's household income and other requirements.
- The following qualified entities are used to determine presumptive eligibility for this eligibility group:
