Explanation of difference Program change Adjustment	Given that the HECM issuer community is small (14 participants) with data collected and shared among multiple entities, Ginnie Mae would like to expand its data collection to include an additional 4 data points. Because the data is already available and within the Issuer's possession, it does not place any additional burden on the Issuer. This will prompt a change to our file layout, however, given that all data is transmitted electronically this will not increase the actual burden associated with data submission. There are also no complaints from the HECM participants. no complaints.
