FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION APPLICATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 19 OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE ACT

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice: The FDIC may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB number. Section 19 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. § 1829) requires the FDIC's written consent prior to any participation in the affairs of an insured depository institution by a person who has been convicted of crimes involving dishonesty or breach of trust. An insured depository institution that desires to obtain the FDIC's consent must submit an application to the FDIC on form FDIC 6710/07. The estimated burden for this collection of information is 16 hours per response. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to the Paperwork Reduction Officer, Legal Division, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20429

FDIC GUIDELINES AND POLICIES WITH RESPECT TO SECTION 19 (12 U.S.C. §1829)

On December 2, 1998, the FDIC issued Financial Institutions Letter (FIL) 125-98 which announced that the FDIC Board of Directors had approved a statement of policy (SOP) regarding applications filed pursuant to Section 19 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. §1829). The SOP was effective December 1, 1998. In 2011, the SOP was clarified, and FIL 57-2011 was distributed to explain the clarifications. The SOP can be found at <http://www.fdic.gov/regulations/laws/rules/5000-1300.html#fdic5000applicationsus>.

As amended by the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989, the Comprehensive Thrift and Bank Fraud Prosecution and Taxpayer Recovery Act of 1990, and the Financial Services Relief Act of 2006, Section 19 prohibits, without the prior written consent of the FDIC, a person convicted of any criminal offense involving dishonesty or breach of trust or money laundering (covered offenses), or who has entered into a pretrial diversion or similar program in connection with a prosecution for such covered offense, from becoming or continuing as an institution-affiliated party, owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, an insured depository institution, or otherwise participating, directly or indirectly, in the conduct of the affairs of an insured depository institution (covered person). In addition, Section 19 forbids an insured depository institution from permitting such a person to engage in any conduct or to continue any relationship prohibited by Section 19.

The FDIC is precluded from granting consent for ten years, beginning on the date the conviction or agreement of the person becomes final, to a person convicted of certain crimes enumerated in Title 18 of the United States Code, absent a motion by the FDIC and approval by the sentencing court.

Whoever knowingly violates the prohibitions of Section 19 shall be fined not more than $1,000,000 for each day such prohibition is violated or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

De Minimis Rule: Automatic Consent

The SOP maintains the FDIC's previous requirement that an application seeking the FDIC's consent must be filed by an insured depository institution, except as noted in the comment below under Written Application for FDIC Consent. However, the SOP provides that consent is automatically granted and application will not be required where the covered offense is considered de minimis because it meets all of the following criteria:

- There is only one conviction or program entry of record for a covered offense; and
- the offense was punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less and/or a fine of $1,000 or less, and the individual did not serve jail time; and
- the conviction or program was entered at least five years before the application; and
- the offense did not involve an insured depository institution or insured credit union. An offense based on the issuing of insufficient fund checks (bad checks) in an aggregate face value of $1,000 or less where no insured depository institution or insured credit union was a payee on any of the checks, will be considered as not involving an insured depository institution or insured credit union.

In addition, the SOP requires that any person who meets these criteria must be covered by a fidelity bond to the same extent as others in similar positions. A person availing themselves of the automatic consent under this provision will disclose the presence of the conviction or program to which they have claimed such consent pursuant to the de minimis criteria to all insured depository institutions in whose affairs such person will participate. If an insured depository institution or person avails themselves of the criteria, documentation should be maintained to support the de minimis nature of the covered crime(s).

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION
APPLICATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 19
OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE ACT

Written Application for FDIC Consent

There are two methods by which a covered person can apply to the FDIC for written permission to become an institution-affiliated party or participate in the affairs of an insured depository institution. The first method involves an insured depository institution filing a Section 19 application on behalf of a prospective director, officer, or employee (Sponsorship). When an insured depository institution will not file a Section 19 application on behalf of a covered person, a second method allows that individual to seek a waiver of the requirement that an insured depository institution file a Section 19 application on their behalf (Individual Waiver)

Sponsorship

When an application is required, forms and instructions should be obtained from, and the application filed with, the appropriate FDIC Regional or Area Office where the sponsoring institution is headquartered (a list of FDIC Offices is included in this application). Only an insured depository institution may file an application on behalf of a covered person, under Section 19, unless the FDIC first grants a waiver for an individual to file a Section 19 application on his/her behalf.

Individual Waivers

Individual Waivers per Section 19 will be considered on a case-by-case basis where substantial good cause exists for granting the waiver. Application for an Individual Waiver must be submitted to the appropriate FDIC Regional Office where the applicant currently resides. Since de minimis offenses may qualify for automatic approval (see de minimis discussion above), the expectation is that Individual Waivers will be granted on an infrequent basis, and only in truly meritorious cases and upon good cause shown. If an individual is seeking a waiver, do not complete Sections A & B of the application. An individual should complete Sections D-F, and in particular the INDIVIDUAL WAIVER STATEMENT, as well as the INDIVIDUAL WAIVER CERTIFICATION.

Application Considerations

I. STANDARDS TO BE APPLIED IN DETERMINING WHETHER AN APPLICATION FOR CONSENT IS REQUIRED UNDER SECTION 19

Section 19 applies to employees of an insured depository institution as well as to any other person who is in a position to influence control over the management or participate in the affairs of an insured depository institution. Please note that in addition to the requirement to file an application with the FDIC, some individuals may also need to comply with any filing requirements established by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, in the case of a bank or savings and loan holding company. Absent the FDIC's written approval, persons covered by Section 19 are precluded from owning or controlling 25 percent or more of an insured depository institution's voting securities, or ten percent or more of the insured depository institution's voting securities if that person is the largest shareholder. The following standards are used in the determination as to whether Section 19 is applicable.

- A. There must be a conviction of record. Arrests, pending cases not brought to trial, acquittals, or any conviction which has been reversed on appeal, or a complete expungement will be excluded from the requirements of Section 19. For an expungement to be considered complete, no one, even by court order or law enforcement, can be permitted access to the record under the state or federal law which was the basis for the expungement. A conviction which is being appealed will require a Section 19 application until or unless otherwise reversed. Note: Participation in a pretrial diversion or similar program in connection with a prosecution for a covered offense is included within the provisions of Section 19 and an application is required even if the charges were dismissed upon completion of the program.

Pretrial Diversion or Similar Program. Program entry, whether formal or informal, is characterized by a suspension or eventual dismissal of charges or criminal prosecution upon agreement by the accused to treatment, rehabilitation, restitution, or other noncriminal or nonpunitive alternatives. Whether a program constitutes a pretrial diversion will be considered by the FDIC on a case-by-case basis. Program entries prior to November 29, 1990, are not covered by section 19.

- B. The conviction or program entry must be for a criminal offense involving dishonesty, breach of trust or money laundering. Misdemeanors as well as felonies are included. "Dishonesty" means directly or indirectly to cheat or defraud; or wrongfully to take property belonging to another in violation of any criminal statute. Dishonesty includes acts involving lack of integrity; lack of probity, or a disposition to distort, cheat, or act deceitfully or fraudulently; and includes crimes which federal, state, or local laws define as dishonest. "Breach of trust" means a wrongful act, use, misappropriation, or omission with respect to any property or fund which has been committed to a person in a fiduciary or official capacity, or the misuse of one's official or fiduciary position to engage in a wrongful act, use, misappropriation, or omission. Whether a crime involves dishonesty or breach of trust will be determined from the statutory elements of the crime itself.

APPLICATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 19

Section 19 applies to drug crimes in which money laundering is an element. Whether a crime involving possession of drugs is covered by Section 19 will be determined by the nature of the crime as defined in the relevant criminal statute. All convictions for offenses concerning the illegal manufacture, sale, and distribution of or trafficking in controlled substances shall require an application.

C. Youthful Offenders

Adjudgement by a court against a person as a "youthful offender" under any youth offender law or adjudgement as a "juvenile delinquent" by a family court or any other court having jurisdiction over minors as defined by state law will not require an application under Section 19. Such adjudications are not considered convictions for criminal offenses.

D. Adults and All Minors Convicted of Crimes

The conviction of any adult or minor by a court of competent jurisdiction for any criminal offense involving dishonesty or breach of trust or money laundering as defined in paragraph B and not excluded under the automatic consent provision of the de minimis criteria will require an application to, and consent by, the FDIC prior to an insured depository institution's employment of such person, or such person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, the insured depository institution, or otherwise participating in the affairs of an insured depository institution.

II. THE CORPORATION'S POLICY WITH RESPECT TO APPLICATION MADE UNDER SECTION 19

A. The essential criteria in assessing an application is whether the person has demonstrated his or her fitness to participate in the conduct of the affairs of an insured depository institution, and whether the affiliation, ownership, control, or participation by the person in the conduct of the affairs of the insured depository institution may constitute a threat to the safety and soundness of the insured depository institution or the interests of its depositors or threaten to impair public confidence in the insured depository institution. In determining the degree of risk, the FDIC will consider:

- (1) The conviction or program entry and the specific nature and circumstances of the covered offense;
- (2) Evidence of rehabilitation including the person's reputation since the conviction or program entry, the person's age at the time of conviction or program entry, and the time which has elapsed since the conviction or program entry;
- (3) The position to be held or the level of participation by the person at an insured institution;
- (4) The amount of influence and control the person will be able to exercise over the management or affairs of an insured institution;
- (5) The ability of management of the insured institution to supervise and control the person's activities;
- (6) The degree of ownership the person will have of the insured institution;
- (7) The applicability of the insured depository institution's fidelity bond coverage to the person;
- (8) The opinion or position of the primary federal and/or state regulator; and
- (9) Any additional factors in the specific case that appears relevant.

B. FDIC policy on Section 19 applications includes consideration of the items listed above. These are the important considerations in determining the risk to the insured depository institution in the employment of the prospective employee.
