

Mobile Messaging Intervention to Present New HIV Prevention Options for Men who have Sex with Men: Randomized Controlled Trial

4a. Participant Screening Form

Public reporting burden of this collection of information is estimated to average 4 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to CDC/ATSDR Reports Clearance Officer; 1600 Clifton Road NE, MS D-74, Atlanta, Georgia 30333; Attn: OMB-PRA (0920-XXXX)

Thank you for your interest in the M<sup>3</sup> mobile messages for men study. [Emory University is/Emory University and the University of Michigan are/Emory University and Public Health Solutions are] conducting this study is to test a smartphone app designed to deliver sexual health message to gay, bisexual and other men who have sex with men. If you are interested and eligible for this study, you will be asked to participate in a series of activities over the course of six months. These activities will include coming to [STUDY SITE FOR CITY], filling out 4 surveys about your sexual behavior, and interacting with a smartphone app. For each survey that you complete, you will receive a token of appreciation of up to $50.

To find out if you are eligible for this study, we need to ask you a few questions. It should not take more than 4 minutes. Some of these questions are personal, including questions about sexual activity and HIV status. Answering these questions is completely voluntary and you can refuse to answer a question or stop at any time. Would you like to continue to see if you are eligible for this study?
