

Instructions for Form 9100

Notice of Late Election/Consent to Extend the Time to Assess Tax

General Instructions

Purpose of Form

Form 9100 is used by a taxpayer (or the consolidated group of which the taxpayer is a member) that is filing a late regulatory election pursuant to Rev. Proc. 2018-XX, XX CB XX. Rev. Proc. 2018-XX provides a streamlined method for taxpayers that satisfy the requirements of sections 301.9100-1 and 301.9100-3 of the Procedure and Administration Regulations to obtain an extension of time under section 301.9100-3 to make the late regulatory elections that are specified in section 5 of the revenue procedure. This form must be attached to the taxpayer's original or amended return required to be filed pursuant to section 4 of the revenue procedure and, if separate from the return, also to the election. The form gives notice to the IRS service center(s) that a late election has been made and ensures that the return will be processed. In addition, the form must be used by the taxpayer to consent to extend the period of limitations on assessments under section 6501 of the Internal Revenue Code if required under Rev. Proc. 2018-XX. The form is also used by an affected taxpayer, as defined in Rev. Proc. 2018-XX, to consent to extend the period of limitations on assessments if required under the revenue procedure. A form for each affected taxpayer consenting to extend the period of limitations must be attached to the Form 9100 for the electing taxpayer.

Specific Instructions

Line 2

An "IC-DISC" means an interest charge domestic international sales corporation, which is a DISC as defined in section 992 that is subject to the interest charge provisions of section 995(f). "Related supplier" is defined in section 1.994-1(a)(3). For purposes of this line, ownership includes both direct and indirect ownership. For this purpose, a trust for the benefit of a family member is considered to be such family member.

Line 3

If the election has no specific effective date, enter the date that is the beginning of the first taxable year to which the election is intended to apply.

Line 7

The electing taxpayer or affected taxpayer enters its name only if it must consent to extend the period of limitations on assessments for one year as required under Rev. Proc. 2018-XX. Entering your name constitutes your signature for consent to establishing an extended period for assessing tax. The expiration of the extended period may be suspended or otherwise affected by the operation of law in the same manner as the original period. For example, if a notice of deficiency in tax covered by this consent is issued, the period for assessing tax will not end prior to the end of the suspension period provided for by section 6503(a), plus any time that remains in the assessment period, as extended, at the time the suspension takes effect. Under no circumstances will this consent reduce the period of time otherwise provided by law for making an assessment. Although you have the right to refuse to extend the period of limitations under the terms and conditions provided in this form, failure to do so will invalidate any request for relief under Rev. Proc. 2018-XX. If the taxpayer or affected taxpayer is someone other than an individual, line 7 is signed by someone who has the authority to act for the taxpayer. In the case of a consolidated group, see section 1.1502-77.

Line 8

Enter the date to which the period of limitations on assessments under section 6501 is extended. The electing taxpayer or affected taxpayer (or the common parent of the consolidated group of which the taxpayer or affected taxpayer is a member) must, if required under section 4 of Rev. Proc. 2018-XX, consent to an extension of the period of limitations pursuant section 6501(c)(4) for a period of at least one (1) year from the date that the time to assess tax would otherwise expire. The taxpayer or affected taxpayer must extend the period of limitations by filing this Form 9100. Leave this line blank if no consent to extend the period of limitations on assessments is required under Rev. Proc. 2018-XX.
