Female young adult talent (Lila) walks on the street. Onscreen text: A LETTER TO MY YOUNGER SELF...	Female VO: Little Lila.
Shot of Lila's handwritten journal: "Dear Little Lila, When she says she don't want you..."	When she says she don't want you, And you're feeling at your lowest, most broken and lost,

A preteen girl who looks like Lila (“Little Lila”) is shown relaxing on a couch in a living room. She rises and walks to the window. Stylized onscreen text matches the VO: “You will find a way.”	You will find a way.

Young adult Lila continues to read from journal.	Safe from the dark places and the troubles that chase you, You will find a way

Lila is shown walking down city street toward camera. She opens a door and walks into the same empty room where we previously saw Little Lila on the couch. Little Lila is walking down the street.	Where you will learn your sexuality is not a curse. Where negative thoughts won’t cloud your mind. Where nothing will hurt your spirit or your body.
Little Lila is walking down the same street toward camera right, and stylized text mirrors the VO: “toxic, you’ll reject.”	Yours to protect, And anything toxic, You will reject.

Including cigarettes that can damage nearly every part of your body.

A pensive Lila is facing the camera. Halfway through this line, focus shifts to Little Lila also facing camera.

Little Lila,
You have found your voice. And you are already on your way

Little Lila mouths the last word of Lila's VO:	Home.

Lila stands and exits frame beneath stylized text "Love, Lila."

A variety of found YouTube footage of LGBT young adults living confidently in their diversity.	We were born... To push limits... To re-set expectations... To be unpredictable.

We live beyond what's expected for us to look like, do, or be.

Portrait shots of young adults ladder up across the screen in a 'rainbow' of vertical color filters.

Each 'stripe' portrait fades away to reveal onscreen text: TENS OF THOUSANDS OF LGBT LIVES ARE CUT SHORT BY TOBACCO, EVERY YEAR.	So when tens of thousands of LGBT lives are cut short by tobacco, every year. We set a NEW standard.
Four talent walk away from camera down an alley, laughing. Perspective films out to show many 'windows' of YouTube videos simultaneously.	Because, nothing about us is predictable. So WHY would we DIE predictably?
