

Electronic Reporting Instructions

Updated • 2014

INTRODUCTION:

The California Olive Committee's electronic reporting system was developed to provide the industry with electronic data, increase efficiencies, limit subjectivity and provide value to growers. The system is web based and completely login secure.

Inspecting COC-3 Certificates

- » To inspect COC-3 certificates, start by clicking "COC-3"
- » When this screen appears (see fig. 3a), specify your search criteria by selecting your Crop Year
- » All available certificates are under the "Ready for Inspection" dropdown menu. Use the dropdown menu to select the top certificate

The screenshot shows a navigation bar with three buttons: "COC-3", "In Progress", and "Logout". Below this is a form titled "COC-3" with two dropdown menus: "Crop Year:" set to "2014-15" and "Ready for Inspection:" set to "Select".

Annotations with arrows point to the "COC-3" button, the "Crop Year:" dropdown, and the "Ready for Inspection:" dropdown.

fig. 3a

- » Once you have selected the certificate, scroll down to inspect the certificate (see fig. 4a)

The screenshot shows a detailed "OFFICIAL INSPECTION CERTIFICATE" form. It includes fields for "GRAPE BY:", "SAMPLE:", "SUB:", "LOT:", "CODE:", and "OLIVE GRADE WEIGHTS:". Below these is a large table with columns for "DATE", "O.C. LA", "%", "COUNT", and "POUNDS". The table contains rows for various inspection criteria such as "ALUMINUM", "BROMINE", "COPPER", "IRON", "LEAD", "MANGANESE", "MERCURY", "NICKEL", "SILICA", "SODIUM", "ZINC", "Cadmium", "Cobalt", "Chromium", "Copper", "Lead", "Manganese", "Mercury", "Nickel", "Silver", "Vanadium", "Zinc", "Cadmium", "Cobalt", "Chromium", "Copper", "Lead", "Manganese", "Mercury", "Nickel", "Silver", "Vanadium", "Zinc".

Annotations with arrows point to the "Criteria to inspect" section (the table) and the "Notes" section at the bottom.

fig. 4a

» To approve or reject an inspection, click "Submit" (see fig. 5a)

Note: If you choose to "Reject" you must add notes in the note section as to why before clicking "Submit"

fig. 5a

Click "Submit" to open the pop-up window

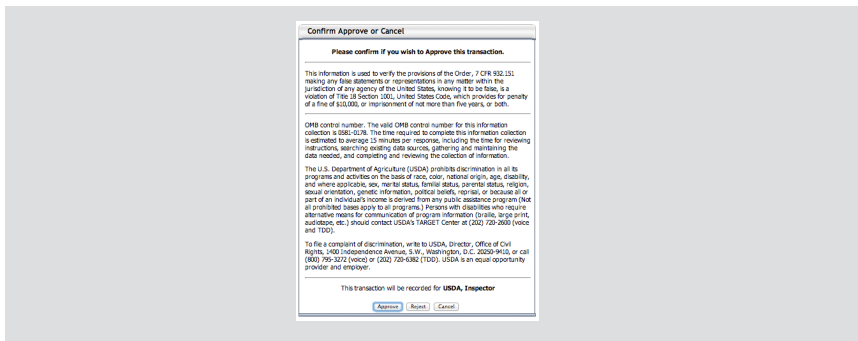

fig. 6a

» Once you click "Submit" a pop-up window will open (see fig. 6a) which will give you the option to "Approve" "Reject" or "Cancel" (see fig. 7a)

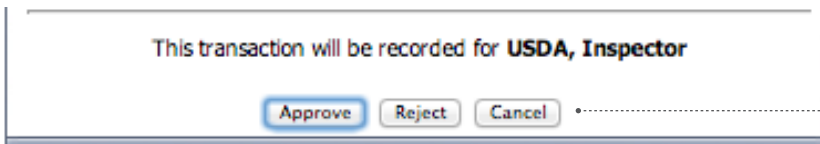

fig. 7a

Click "Cancel" to go back to the COC-3 certificate

» If approved, click on "Approved" and move on to the next certificate to be approved

Viewing COC-3 Certificates In Progress

- » To view COC-3 certificates that you have processed or that are coming your way, start by clicking "In Progress"
- » When this screen appears (see fig. 8a), you will be able to view the certificate status in the far-right column

FYI

What is the purpose of the "In Progress" page?

This page was created for you to see the COC-3 certificates that are coming your way to ensure that certificates get processed within 24 hours.

Click "In Progress" to search for certificates in progress

View/Download Certificate Data

- » To view and/or download existing certificate data, click "View Inspector"
- » When this screen appears (see fig. 3b), specify your search criteria by selecting your Crop Year and Receiving Station. The date range filter is optional to help narrow down your search results by the date the certificate was created

Note: If you choose to not enter a date range, the system will display all certificates that are within the selected Crop Year

- » Once you have specified your search criteria, click "Display"

FYI

What is the purpose of the "Inspector View" page?

This page was created for you to view and/or download the COC-3 certificates that have been processed for your records.

The screenshot shows the 'COC3 - Inspector View' form. At the top, there are navigation buttons: 'View Inspector', 'In Progress', and 'Logout'. Below this, the form has several input fields: 'Crop Year' (a dropdown menu set to '2014-15'), 'Receiving Station' (a dropdown menu set to 'Select'), and 'Certificate Date' (with 'From' and 'To' date pickers). At the bottom of the form are three buttons: 'Display', 'View in PDF', and 'Export To Excel'. Callout arrows point from the text on the right to these specific elements: 'View Inspector', 'Crop Year', 'Receiving Station', 'Certificate Date' fields, and the 'Display' button.

fig. 3b

- » Once you click "Display" the system will populate a list of certificates that meet your specified search criteria (see fig. 4b)

» To view an individual certificate in a PDF document, click the PDF icon that is to the left of the certificate you wish to see

Note: You are able to save PDFs to your computer if you wish, but please know that all of your data will be saved in the system and is retrievable at any time

» To view all the certificates in an Excel form click "Export to Excel". Once you click "Export to Excel" your computer will download an Excel document that includes the certificates. Once you open the Excel document, you can save the data to your computer by going to the "File" tab and clicking "Save As" where you can then choose what to name it and where to save it on your computer.

Note: Your computer must have the Excel software to utilize this feature.

Pop-Ups

Are you trying to open a PDF but it's not showing up?

Your internet browser might have the security settings to block pop-ups. To display the PDFs, make sure to allow pop-ups for www.caloliveinspection.org.
