Consent1

This research is a joint venture between the US Census Bureau and the University of Virginia. Please read this consent agreement carefully before you decide to participate in the study.

Informed Consent Agreement

Purpose of the research study: In this study, we will gain an understanding of what persuasion mechanisms, privacy policies and cybersecurity assurances can mitigate the perceptions of risk in participation in the 2020 US Census online.

What you will do in the study: You will now be given a definition of a type of persuasion and then asked if particular messages fit with this definition. You will also be asked if the message persuades you to participate in the 2020 US Census. There are six persuasion types in total and between three and seven messages for each type of persuasion, for a total of 30 messages to rate altogether.

Time required: The study will require about 15 minutes of your time to complete the survey.

Risks: There is very limited risk involved with this survey.

Benefits: There are no direct benefits to you for participating in this research study. The study may help us understand how to motivate more US citizens to participate in the US Census. This may have some cost savings for the US Federal Government.

Confidentiality: The information that you give in the study will be handled confidentially. The information collected in the survey will be assigned a code number. The list connecting your name to this code will be kept in an encrypted file. When the study is completed and the data have been analyzed, this list will be destroyed. Your name will not be used in any report. Only the Primary Investigator will have access to the encrypted file.

Voluntary participation: Your participation in the study is completely voluntary.

Right to withdraw from the study: You have the right to withdraw from the study at any time without penalty.

How to withdraw from the study: If you want to withdraw from the study, you can stop the survey at any time. There is no penalty for withdrawing.

Payment: You will receive no payment for participating in the study from the University of Virginia.

Q66

Instructions:

As part of the upcoming 2020 Census, we are conducting a survey to understand US citizens' views of the "save the date" letter that is sent out to millions of Americans.

You will now be shown an example of this "save the date" letter and asked some questions about the letter and your views on privacy. You will not receive the follow-up Census questionnaire that is mentioned in the letter.
