Review and send: Medical Release Form

In order to make a decision about your disability claim, we need to obtain your:

- Medical records
- · Education records
- . Other information related to your ability to perform tasks

We will help get your records if you give us permission. Signing the Medical Release Form (Authorization to Disclose Information to the Social Security Administration) is voluntary, but failing to sign it, or revoking it before we receive necessary information, could prevent an accurate or timely decision on your claim, and could result in denial or loss of benefits.

Read the Medical Release Form and make a selection below.

I voluntarily authorize and request disclosure of all my medical records; also education records and other information related to my ability to perform tasks.

- O I agree to electronically sign the Medical Release Form and submit it with my completed Disability Appeal. My electronic signature is the same as my handwritten signature. (Recommended)
- O I agree to print, sign and mail a paper copy of the Medical Release Form after submitting my completed Disability Appeal. I understand this may delay the processing of my disability claim.

Social Security's definitions of disability

Definition of Disability for Adults

We consider an adult disabled under Social Security rules if:

- . The adult has a physical or mental impairment (or combination of impairments)
  - o That prevents him or her from working, and that
  - o Has lasted or can be expected to last for at least one year or to result in death.

Unlike other programs, Social Security pays only for total disability. No benefits are payable for partial disability or for short-term disability. Social Security program rules assume that working families have access to other resources to provide support during periods of short-term disabilities. These include workers' compensation, insurance, savings, and investments.

The above explanation of disability for adults is written in easy-to-understand language. For more details, read the official definition of disability for adults as written in the Social Security Act.

Definition of Disability for Children Applying for SSI

We consider a child disabled under Social Security rules if:

- The child has a physical or mental impairment (or combination of impairments)
  - o That causes marked and severe functional limitations; and
  - Has lasted, or can be expected to last for at least one year or to result in death.
- . The child is not working at a job that is considered substantial work.

The above explanation of disability for children is written in easy to understand language. For more details, read the official definition of disability for children as written in the Social Security Act.

Disability Appeal

How the disability Appeals Process works

Described below is what happens when you request a review of the determination made on your disability case:

- · You send a signed request for appeal to us.
- We review it to make sure all of the information is complete. We may contact you for missing or unclear information
- We will contact you to complete a disability report and to sign medical release forms if you have not already done so. If you have submitted the report we will review it to make sure all of the information is complete.
- . We will send your case to the office that determines if you are disabled under Social Security law.
- . That office will request any new medical records that you have listed on your medical report.
- . That office will then review all of your medical records—both old and new.
- If you have requested a face-to-face review, that office will make an appointment to meet with you. You will have an opportunity to meet face-to-face with someone from the office that decides your case. If you want this face-to-face meeting, we will make the appointment with you.
- The decision-making office will notify you in writing of their decision on your case.

There are four possible steps in the disability appeals process. They must be completed in the order listed below if you disagree with the determination on your case.

Type of Appeal	Appeal Process
Reconsideration	You should complete a Request for Reconsideration and an Appeal Disability Report. Both forms can be completed on the Internet, and submitted electronically to Social Security, or you can complete paper versions and send them to your local Social Security office. No matter how you complete the forms, Social Security will send your case to the State Disability Determination Services office. Someone there will review your medical records and make a new determination about your disability. It will not be the person whom made the last determination on your case. After reviewing your medical records, they will notify you in writing of their decision.
Hearing	You should complete a Request for Hearing by Administrative Law Judge and an Appeal Disability Report. Both forms can be completed on the Internet, and submitted electronically to Social Security, or you can complete paper versions and send them to your local Social Security office. No matter how you complete the forms, Social Security will send your request to the Office of Disability Adjudication and Review. If you want to meet face-to-face with the judge, an appointment will be made for you. After talking with you and your representative, the judge will notify you in writing of his/her decision on your case.
A!- O:	Volumehould complete a Decision for Deview of Decision/Order of Administrative Law
Appeals Council Review	You should complete a Request for Review of Decision/Order of Administrative Law Judge. You cannot do this on the Internet. Sign and send it to your local Social Security office. They will send your request to the Office of Disability Adjudication and Review. Someone there will review your medical records and notify you in writing of the decision on your case.
District Court Case	You must have an attorney at this level of appeal. He or she must file a case against Social Security in District Court. Your case will be heard by a district court judge who will notify you in writing of the decision on your case.

Social Security's disability programs

When you apply for any of the disability programs explained below, we will collect medical and other information from you to decide if you meet Social Security's definition of disability.

Social Security Benefits

You may qualify for

- Disability benefits if you are a disabled worker and you have worked and earned enough credits to become "insured."
- Survivor benefits if you are a disabled widow or widower, between 50 and 60 years of age, based on your deceased husband's or wife's work record.
- Child's benefits if you are a disabled child over age 18, and either of your parents is receiving Social Security benefits or is deceased and paid enough into Social Security before his or her death to be "insured."

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) Payments

SSI provides money for such basic needs as food, clothing, and shelter for people who are blind or disabled. To get SSI you must have little or no income or assets.

Medicare

Social Security has a special program for people of all ages who have kidney problems requiring dialysis or a kidney transplant. Medicare coverage is also available to people who have been entitled to Social Security disability benefits for 24 months and to government employees who meet Social Security's definition of disability and are "insured."

Medicaid

Medicaid is a jointly-funded, Federal-State health insurance program for certain low-income and needy people. Eligibility requirements vary for each State. Medicaid is administered by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services under the Department of Health and Human Services

Your right to representation

You can handle your own Social Security appeal with free help from Social Security, or you can choose a lawyer, a friend or someone else to help you. Someone you appoint to help you is called your "representative". You cannot choose someone who has been suspended or disqualified from representing others before the Social Security Administration or who may not, by law, act as a representative. You may contact your local Social Security office for a list of legal referral and service organizations. We will work with your representative, just as we would work with you.

If you want to appoint someone as your representative, you or your representative must first complete SSA-1696 (Appointment of Representative) or send a written statement naming your representative. If your representative is not an attorney, he or she must sign the statement or SSA-1696 or state in writing that he or she accepts the appointment, before you send it to us.

Your representative cannot charge or collect a fee from you without first getting written approval from Social Security. However, your representative may accept money from you in advance as long as it is held in a trust or escrow account.

Both you and your representative are responsible for providing us with accurate information. It is illegal to furnish false information knowingly and willfully. If you do, you may face criminal prosecution.

You can get more information about having a representative by selecting the link Your Right to Representation.

If You Have Questions

Call our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213. If you are deaf or hard of hearing, call our toll-free "TTY" number, 1-800-325-0778. Representatives are available Monday through Friday from 7 AM to 7 PM.

- Have received a "Notice of Disapproved Claim," "Notice of Reconsideration," or a "Notice of Federal Reviewing Official Decision" and have it with you when you begin this report.
- . Have had your claim processed through Social Security"s electronic system.

Because you do not meet all of these requirements, your appeal request and disability report will have to be completed in person or by telephone. To begin that process you should contact Social Security:

To contact Social Security:

- Call our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213. Explain that you are unable to use the online appeal process but do want to appeal the decision made in your case. If you are deaf or hard of hearing, call our toll-free "TTY" number, 1-800-325-0778. A representative is available Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.
- Visit your local Social Security Office and tell the representative that you want to appeal the decision made on your case.

Tips for using this website

Saving and Printing

- Your answers are saved automatically when you select "Next" to move to the next page.
- If you need to complete your appeal later, you can select "Sign Off (finish later)" after you receive your reentry number. When you return, you can continue where you left off.
- Before you submit the report, you will see a summary page. You can print the summary page for your records
- If you want a copy of all of your answers on each page, you will need to print or save each page.

Time Limits

There are time limits for each page. You will receive a warning after 25 minutes. You can extend your time on the page by selecting "OK." After the third warning on a page, you must leave the page or your time will run out, and your work on that page will be lost.

If you have turned JavaScript off in your browser, you will not receive these warnings and, after 30 minutes on a page, your disability report session will end and your work on the last page will be lost. To avoid this, you must go to another page of the disability report within 30 minutes.

Navigation

- . Items marked with an asterisk (*) are required.
- To move forward within the appeal, use the "Next" button at the bottom of the page. Do not use the "Enter" key to move around or to select from the drop down lists.
- To move backward through the appeal, use the "Previous" button at the bottom of the page. Do not use the "Back" button on your browser.
- To leave the report portion of your appeal, use the "Sign Off (finish later)" button at the bottom left of the page. Do not close your browser or use the "X" button to leave your report.
- After you complete a page, some answers are protected and cannot be changed by going back to that page. To make changes to a protected answer, continue moving forward. You will be able to change your answer when you reach a summary page.
- Summary pages have edit buttons for each page you have worked on. Use the edit button to change your answers on that page.

Accessibility

If you are navigating using only the keyboard or using an assistive device and need help, visit our web accessibility policy and help page.

Special instructions for users who are blind

These instructions are for people using screen readers like JAWS version 5.0 or above, Window-Eyes or browser readers like Home Page Reader. Filling out the forms is best accomplished in a Forms or MSAA off mode that allows you to tab to controls and fill in input boxes, radio buttons, check boxes and list boxes. Instructional text usually occurs at the beginning of screens and can be accessed in non-MSAA or virtual cursor mode. Consistent headers have been set up to access questions and examples/instructions more easily. All headers that are at the 3 level will have additional help text. Also, the titles of each page are header level 1, and will have general help information.

Note to users of JAWS versions older than 5.0: If you are using an older version of JAWS, this application will work best if the virtual cursor is turned OFF. Press INS + Z to toggle the Virtual Cursor off

Unless you have turned JavaScript off in your browser, you will receive a warning after 25 minutes and you can extend your time on the page. After the third warning, you must move to another page, or your time will run out and your work on that page will be lost.

Examples of changes to your condition

- Even though they took out the first tumor, now the cancer has spread to new places. Some tumors are inoperable and none of the treatments are working. The pain is worse and it hurts all the time.
- Although my broken bones healed, the bones were not straight and the doctor had to rebreak them and reset them with pins. Even after 3 months I'm still using a wheelchair to get around.
  The pain medication makes me groggy and I fall asleep several times a day.
- I have developed high blood pressure and my diabetes can no longer be controlled easily. I have to monitor my blood at least 3 times a day. I lost 25 pounds in the past two months.
- There were complications during my surgery and I'm not recovering very well. I got an infection and it is not healing. The doctor keeps trying different antibiotics.
- I seem to fall down more often. I have sprained my wrist, hurt my head and have multiple bruises. I have trouble concentrating and have become more and more forgetful. My wife has to remind me about doctors appointments. Sometimes I can't remember how to add or subtract
- The child's asthma and allergies have gotten worse. She coughs all of the time and needs breathing treatments every day. She developed a severe, scaly rash all over her body. Her allergies now include: dogs, cats, pollen, trees, wheat, and nuts.

Disability Appeal

Examples of new physical or mental limitations

- I have trouble concentrating and have become more and more forgetful. My wife has to remind me about doctors appointments. Sometimes I can't remember how to add or subtract.
- My hearing is getting worse. Even with my hearing aid, I can barely understand what people say. I use closed captioning to watch TV and the TTY network for phone calls. I've always worked in jobs that require public contact and I can't do that any more.
- I am depressed and anxious. About 4 days a week I don't get out of bed except to go to the bathroom and get a piece of toast and some water. I don't answer the phone or the door bell when I don't want to get up. I don't want to see people and I don't want them to see me like this.
- Because his cerebral palsy has gotten worse, he now has trouble walking. He uses a wheelchair most of the time. This week he has begun to have difficulty speaking.
- . She can't keep up in class any more.

Disability Appeal

Examples of new conditions

- . I hurt my back and had surgery about 6 months ago. I still have back pain every day. It is a dull ache that I can live with most of the time, but if I am on my feet for over 2 hours the ache gets worse and I have to sit down and rest. If I try to lift anything heavier than a gallon of milk I get sharp stabbing pains in my lower back that shoots into my left leg. When the pain gets that bad it lasts about 2 hours. I need to lie down to get any relief.
- I see a doctor because I'm depressed. I am taking medication and it keeps me from seeing the world as hopeless, but I still have no interest in life anymore. I don't care whether or not I get up in the morning on most days. Unless I have to go to the doctor's office I don't see much reason to get up. I don't sleep well and I have no appetite. I have to be reminded to bathe and comb

Medical test descriptions

Speech/Language Test

This can be any of a series of tests in which a specialist evaluates a person's speech and language.

Hearing Test

This is a test in which a specialist plays tones of varying frequencies through earphones worn by the person; the person's responses help the specialist identify any hearing loss.

Vision Test

This is an eye test that may require reading letters from a chart. It may also require reading letters through adjustable lenses, or it may check side vision with dots of light.

IQ Test

This is a test that measures intellectual functioning. The test is made up of a series of short tasks that require either a written or spoken response. The tasks are designed to measure a person's ability to understand information and solve problems.

EKG (Heart Test)

In this test the patient sits, stands or lies down while wires are placed on the skin. A machine attached to the other ends of the wires prints out wavy lines on a chart that shows the electrical activity of the heart.

Treadmill (Exercise Test)

This is a heart test while the patient exercises. There are different kinds of exercise methods but the most common is the treadmill test in which the patient has an EKG recorded as he or she walks on a treadmill.

Cardiac Catheterization

This is a test of the blood circulation in the heart. In this test the doctor passes a thin wire into the heart through an artery (usually through the groin area). With this test a doctor can see pictures of the inside of the heart.

Biopsy

This is a test in which the doctor removes tissue from a part of the body to see if disease is present.

EEG (Brain Wave Test)

This test involves placing wires on the scalp. These wires lead to a machine that measures and records brain wave activity. This test can detect seizure activity and other problems in the brain.

HIV Test

This is a blood test that detects the presence of the Human Immunodeficiency Virus.

Blood Test (Not HIV)

Blood Test (Not HIV)

In this test a technician draws blood, which is tested in a laboratory for abnormalities.

Breathing Test

In this test the patient exhales as hard and as long as possible into a machine that measures the breathing capacity of the lungs.

X-Ray

This is a test in which a large machine takes pictures of parts of the body with x-rays.

MRI / CT Scan

These testing methods are like x-rays but use different methods in making images of the parts of the body. Both methods show soft tissue far better than x-ray. A CT scan is also called a CAT scan.

Examples of ability to care for personal needs

- I can no longer get in and out of the bathtub because of the pain in my back. I must take a shower.
- . My fingers are too stiff to button my shirt.
- I'm too depressed to leave the house. My family does my shopping for me.
- . My child is home-schooled now because the asthma has gotten worse.

How to complete the medical release form

- Read the entire form, front and back. The information on the back explains more about how the form will be used and explains the possible consequences of not signing the form. Additional instructions are also on the form. If you have any questions, please contact us.
- Be sure the name of the person whose records must be disclosed (the claimant or beneficiary) is written in the upper right corner of the form, with his or her own Social Security Number.
- Do not fill in the large empty box in the middle of the form; SSA will use this space to help the source identify the information we need.
- Do not put a check in the empty block under "PURPOSE" unless SSA specifically asks you to do so.
- 5. INDIVIDUAL SIGN Sign each form in this block.
  - o An adult should sign his or her own form.
  - o An individual can sign with an "X" if necessary.
  - If an individual has been declared legally incompetent, his or her legal guardian or legally recognized representative should sign the form.
  - If the individual whose information is going to be disclosed is not the one signing the form, be sure to check the box to the right that shows that person's authority to sign (parent, guardian, etc.) and then give proof of that legal relationship to SSA.
- If the subject of the disclosure is age 12 or older but is still considered to be a minor under State law, he or she should sign the form and the parent, guardian or other legally recognized representative should sign in the "Parent/guardian sign" area to the right.
- 7. ALWAYS enter the DATE the form is signed.
- 8. Enter the address and daytime phone number of the individual signing the form.
- WITNESS SIGN The signature of the individual signing the forms must be witnessed by at least one other individual. Many sources will not honor our request unless it is witnessed.
  - The witness can be any competent adult (spouse, social worker, Social Security employee, etc.).
  - The witness should sign and provide his or her address information in case the source wants to confirm the signature.
  - A second witness is usually required only if the subject of the disclosure signs with an "X".

We will use the information you provide to continue processing your claim.

Providing this information is voluntary. However, failing to provide us with all or part of the requested information may prevent us from making an accurate and timely decision on your

We rarely use the information you supply for any purpose other than for determining problems in Social Security programs. However, we may use it for the administration and integrity of Social Security programs. We may also disclose information to another person or to another agency in accordance with approved routine uses, which include, but are not limited to the following:

- To enable a third party or an agency to assist Social Security in establishing rights to Medicare benefits and/or coverage;
- 2. To comply with Federal laws requiring the release of information from Social Security records (e.g., to the Government Accountability Office and the Department of Veterans Affairs):
- 3. To make determinations for eligibility in similar health and income maintenance programs at the Federal, State, and local level; and
- 4. To facilitate statistical research, audit, or investigate activities necessary to assure the integrity of Social Security programs (e.g., to the U.S. Census Bureau and to private entities under contract with us).

We may also use the information you provide in computer matching programs. Matching programs compare our records with records kept by other Federal, State, or local government agencies. Information from these matching programs can be used to establish or verify a person's eligibility for Federally-funded or administered benefit programs and for repayment of payments or delinquent debts under these programs.

A complete list of routine uses for this information is available in System of Records Notices 60-0089, Claims Folder System and 60-0050, Completed Determination-Continuing Disability Determinations. These notices, additional information regarding this form, and information regarding our programs and systems, are available on-line at www.socialsecurity.gov or any local Social Security office.
