Thank you for taking the time to complete this information collection. The Urban Institute, a nonprofit, nonpartisan research organization, is under contract with the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), Chief Evaluation Office (CEO) to conduct an analysis of new performance measures being used to assess the effectiveness of services to employers in the public workforce system. We are seeking the perspectives of employers to better understand how they use the public workforce system and how they think “effective services to employers” should be measured. The information collection form also asks for some characteristics of your firm so that we can better understand the answers you provide. For example, we want to understand if experiences and perspectives are more similar when firms are of similar size, in particular industries, or in specific parts of the country.

Privacy Statement Your answers will inform recommendations to DOL on the services the public workforce system provides to employers and how to measure their effectiveness. The Urban Institute treats the information you provide as private. All reporting based on the information collection will discuss findings at an aggregate level, and responses will not be identified by company or person. DOL will not have access to your individual responses. Also, please note that your participation in this information collection is voluntary; although we hope you will complete all of the questions, you may discontinue taking it at any time. If you have any questions, please email EmployerServicesProject@urban.org or call our help line at (202) 261-XXXX. Please provide your feedback by XXXX.
