

The public reporting burden of this collection of information is estimated to average 3 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to - CDC/ATSDR Reports Clearance Officer; 1600 Clifton Road NE, MS D-74, Atlanta, Georgia 30333 ATTN: PRA (0920-1050).

Attachment 1: Participant Recruitment Letter

Dear:

The CDC's Division of Violence Prevention (DVP) is adding new applications and continually enhancing its violence prevention resources. DVP is soliciting your input and feedback to learn more about what works well and what does not on the new Dating Matters Toolkit website. This information will help us improve the Toolkit and its implementation guidance.

We would like you to participate in online survey that will last no longer than 60 minutes and can be conducted from the comfort of your own office. Participation is entirely voluntary, and no personally identifiable information will be collected. Banyan Communications is working with DVP to conduct the remote usability testing. Should you agree to take part in this usability testing, you will receive next steps and participation instructions from Liz Ferguson at Banyan Communications (lferguson@banyancom.com).

Your participation would make the new Dating Matters Toolkit better for you and your colleagues. We look forward to your response and potential participation.

Thank you for considering our invitation to participate,

Sarah DeGue, Dating Matters Team Lead