SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

This document contains amendments to 26 CFR parts 1, 25, 26, 53, 55, 156, 157, and 301 under section 6081 of the Internal Revenue Code (Code). On November 8, 2005, a temporary regulation (T.D. 9229, 2005-2 C.B. 1051) relating to the simplification of procedures for obtaining automatic extensions of time to file certain returns was published in the Federal Register (70 FR 67356). A notice of proposed rulemaking (REG-144898-04, 2005-2 C.B. 1062) cross-referencing the temporary regulations was published in the Federal Register for the same day (70 FR 67397). No public hearing was requested or held. Written or electronic comments responding to the notice of proposed rulemaking were received. After consideration of all the comments, the proposed regulations are adopted as revised by this Treasury decision containing both final and temporary regulations. The revisions are discussed in this preamble. A notice of proposed rulemaking (REG-115457-08) cross-referencing the temporary regulations appears in this issue of the Bulletin.

Summary of Comments and Explanation of Revisions

These final and temporary regulations simplify the extension process by allowing certain taxpayers to file a single request for an automatic extension of time to file certain returns. Because the extension is automatic, these taxpayers do not need to sign the extension request or provide an explanation of the reasons for requesting an extension. Simplifying, consolidating, and standardizing extension forms will reduce taxpayer burden. This simplification will also lower processing costs and facilitate increased efficiency for the IRS.

Individual Income Taxpayers

The proposed regulations provided an automatic six-month extension to taxpayers who must file an individual income tax return if they submit a timely, completed application for extension on Form 4868 “Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.” This new procedure, adopted in the final regulations, replaces the process where an individual could obtain an initial automatic four-month extension by filing Form 4868 and apply for an additional two-month discretionary extension by filing Form 2688, “Application for Additional Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.” In connection with the new procedure, the IRS eliminated Form 2688.

One commentator noted that individuals who are abroad may qualify for an extension beyond six months and previously applied for this extension using Form 2688. The commentator suggests that the elimination of this form places an added administrative burden on these individual taxpayers who are abroad. The commentator notes that without Form 2688, the alternative for requesting an additional extension beyond six months is to write a letter in accordance with Treas. Reg. §1.6081-1(b). Thus, the commentator requests that Form 2688 be retained for use by taxpayers who are abroad and require more than a six-month extension of time to file.

The primary goal for these regulatory revisions is to reduce taxpayer burden by simplifying the extension process through the elimination of unnecessary forms and required information. The elimination of Form 2688 is among those measures aimed at streamlining the extension process. Although previously used by some taxpayers who are abroad to apply for an additional extension beyond six months, the Treasury Department and the IRS have determined that retention of this form for such a limited purpose and small class of taxpayers would not be efficient. The Treasury Department and the IRS have also determined that due to the discretionary nature of any additional extension for taxpayers who are abroad, requiring a letter explaining the need for the extension is the most appropriate procedure. There is no additional administrative burden from this decision as in both situations the taxpayer must file a document containing substantially the same information and the IRS must process it. Thus, the comment is not adopted and the final regulations eliminate all references to the obsolete Form 2688.

Individual taxpayers who are abroad seeking guidance on applying for an additional extension of time to file beyond six months should refer to IRS Publication 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad, or the IRS Internet site at <http://www.irs.gov/formspubs/article/0,,id=154856,00.html>.

Corporate Income Taxpayers

The proposed regulations did not change the rules regarding filing extensions for corporations but merely changed the appearance and title of Form 7004, now titled “Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File Certain Business Income Tax, Information, and Other Returns.”

While not specifically addressed by the proposed regulations, one comment was received regarding extensions for affiliated groups of corporations filing a consolidated return. The commentator suggests that the requirement under §1.6081-3(a)(4) to include a statement listing the name and address of each member of the affiliated group if the affiliated group will file a consolidated return is inconsistent with §1.1502-75(a). Section 1.1502-75(a) allows a group which did not file a consolidated return for the immediately preceding taxable year to file a consolidated return, provided that each member of the group that is eligible to do so files a Form 1122, “Authorization and Consent of Subsidiary Corporation To Be Included in a Consolidated Income Tax Return,” not later than the last day prescribed by law (including extensions of time) for the filing of the common parent’s return. The commentator contends that §1.6081-3 suggests that in order to have a valid extension all members of the affiliated group must be listed with the extension request even though the affiliated group may not have decided at the time the extension is filed if a consolidated return will be elected. Although, §1.6081-3 requires a listing of subsidiaries with the extension request, the commentator suggests that, because §1.1502-75(a) does not require the members of an affiliated group to elect to file a consolidated return until the common parent’s extended due date, the failure to include the name and address of a member of the affiliated group that will be filed as part of the consolidated return should not invalidate a request for an automatic extension of time to file.

The IRS and Treasury Department find no inconsistency between these regulations. If, at the time the extension request is due, the affiliated entities have not decided whether to file a consolidated return, the various affiliated entities must either file separate returns or individually request an extension of time to file. The failure to do either will result in a late return. Additionally, by including a list of affiliated members with the extension request, each member is deemed to be applying for an extension of time to file. In the event that a subsidiary does not file as part of a consolidated return, that entity will have a valid extension to file its own return. Therefore, the final regulations retain the requirement to list the name and address of each member of the affiliated group with the extension request. To address the commentator’s concern, the final regulations explicitly state that the attached list will grant an extension for each member’s separate return in the event that the member does not file as part of the consolidated group.

Partnership, Trust, and Estate Taxpayers

The proposed regulations provided for an automatic six-month extension of time to file returns for certain entities not taxed at the entity level (pass-through entities). Recognizing the potential that some taxpayers may not receive timely information returns from pass-through entities (for example, Schedule K-1s from partnerships) needed to complete their own income tax returns, the proposed regulations specifically requested comments on whether a shorter extension of time to file for pass-through entities might reduce overall taxpayer burden. Several comments addressing this issue were received. Four commentators suggested that the filing date for pass-through entities should be moved back to March 15th instead of April 15th. This would allow these entities to receive six-month extensions of time to file (until September 15th) but still allow individual taxpayers with ownership interests in the pass-through entities to receive information needed to file a timely and complete income tax return by the October 15th extended due date. The filing dates for these pass-through entity returns are governed by statute. See for example, sections 6012(a), and 6072. Accordingly, without legislative action, the Treasury Department and the IRS are unable to change the filing due dates for these pass-through entities.

The remaining comments on this topic suggested that an extension period for pass-through entities of five months or less would benefit individual taxpayers with ownership interests in pass-through entities in preparation of their own individual income tax returns. Three commentators suggested that the proposed regulations would actually increase taxpayer burden by making it easier for pass-through entities to delay the filing of their returns. Two commentators also pointed out that the five-month extension period would not alleviate the burden on corporate taxpayers with ownership interests in pass-through entities. These commentators expressed a concern that even a five-month extension period for pass-through entities would, in most cases, simply align the extended due date for pass-through entities with the extended due date for corporate returns, resulting in the same delay of information to corporate owners of pass-through entities. This delay, the commentators contend, would greatly increase the need for filing amended returns. These commentators suggested shortening the automatic extension for pass-through entities to a period of less than five months, which would ultimately reduce burden on both taxpayers and the IRS.

In response to these comments, the Treasury Department and IRS have adopted temporary regulations which will provide for a five-month automatic extension period with no additional extension for certain pass-through entities. These entities are partnerships filing Form 1065, “U.S. Return of Partnership Income,” or Form 8804, “Annual Return for Partnership Withholding Tax (Section 1446),” and estates and trusts filing Form 1041, “U.S. Income Tax Return for Estates and Trusts.” While some commentators suggested adopting an extension period shorter than five months, the Treasury Department and the IRS believe a five-month automatic extension period for certain partnerships, trusts, and estates, strikes a reasonable balance and reduces the overall burden on taxpayers. The Treasury Department and IRS believe the five-month extension period allows pass-through entities, including complex and tiered entities, an adequate time for preparation of the required pass-through return and also ensures the timely and accurate dissemination of information to a large number of taxpayers who require that information for completion of their own income tax returns. It is recognized that some corporations with ownership interests in pass-through entities may continue to experience delayed receipt of information needed to complete their own corporate returns and some pass-through entities may find it difficult to complete their returns. Thus the Treasury Department and the IRS request comments on whether the five-month automatic extension of time to file for these pass-through entities increases or reduces overall taxpayer burden. Please follow the instructions in the “Comments and Public Hearing” section in the notice of proposed rulemaking accompanying these temporary regulations in this issue of the Bulletin.

Transitional Rule For Pass-Through Entities

The temporary regulations allowing certain pass-through entities to obtain an automatic five-month extension apply to applications by these entities for an automatic extension of time to file certain returns due on or after January 1, 2009. These entities will be allowed to obtain an automatic six-month extension of time to file the applicable returns, which are required to be filed before January 1, 2009.

Special Analyses

It has been determined that this Treasury decision is not a significant regulatory action as defined in Executive Order 12866. Therefore, a regulatory assessment is not required. It also has been determined that section 553(b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. chapter 5) does not apply to these regulations. Although these final regulations reference forms that are approved under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. chapter 35), the regulations themselves do not impose a collection of information on small entities. Therefore the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. chapter 6) does not apply. For the applicability of the Regulatory Flexibility Act to the temporary regulations, refer to the Special Analyses section of the preamble to the cross-reference notice of proposed rulemaking published in this issue of the Bulletin. Pursuant to section 7805(f) of the Internal Revenue Code, the notice of proposed rulemaking preceding these regulations was submitted to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration for comment on its impact on small businesses. Pursuant to the same provision, the temporary regulations contained in this Treasury Decision will be submitted for comment on their impact on small businesses.

Par. 3. Section 1.6081-1 is amended by revising paragraph (b) and adding paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§1.6081-1 Extension of time for filing returns.

* * * * *

(b) Application for extension of time—(1) In general. Under other sections in this chapter, certain taxpayers may request an automatic extension of time to file certain returns. Except in undue hardship cases, no extension of time to file a return will be allowed under this section until an automatic extension of time to file the return has been allowed under the applicable section. No extension of time to file a return will be granted under this section for a period of time greater than that provided for by automatic extension. A taxpayer desiring an extension of the time for filing a return, statement, or other document shall submit an application for extension on or before the due date of such return, statement, or other document. If a form exists for the application for an extension, the taxpayer should use the form; however, taxpayers may apply for an extension in a letter that includes the information required by this paragraph. Except as provided in §301.6091-1(b) of this chapter (relating to hand-carried documents), the taxpayer should make the application for extension to the Internal Revenue Service office where such return, statement, or other document is required to be filed. Except for requests for automatic extensions of time to file certain returns provided for elsewhere in this chapter, the application must be in writing, signed by the taxpayer or his duly authorized agent, and must clearly set forth—

(i) The particular tax return, information return, statement, or other document, including the taxable year or period thereof, for which the taxpayer requests an extension; and

(ii) An explanation of the reasons for requesting the extension to aid the internal revenue officer in determining whether to grant the request.

(2) Taxpayer unable to sign. In any case in which a taxpayer is unable, by reason of illness, absence, or other good cause, to sign a request for an extension, any person standing in close personal or business relationship to the taxpayer may sign the request on his behalf, and shall be considered as a duly authorized agent for this purpose, provided the request sets forth the reasons for a signature other than the taxpayer's and the relationship existing between the taxpayer and the signer.

(c) Effective/applicability dates. This section applies to requests for extension of time filed after July 1, 2008.

Par. 4. Section 1.6081-2T is revised to read as follows:

§1.6081-2T Automatic extension of time to file certain returns filed by partnerships (temporary).

(a) In general. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, a partnership required to file Form 1065, "U.S. Return of Partnership Income," or Form 8804, "Annual Return for Partnership Withholding Tax (Section 1446)," for any taxable year will be allowed an automatic 5-month extension of time to file the return after the date prescribed for filing the return if the partnership files an application under this section in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. No additional extension will be allowed pursuant to §1.6081-1(b) beyond the automatic 5-month extension provided by this section. In the case of a partnership described in §1.6081-5(a)(1), the automatic extension of time to file allowed under this section runs concurrently with an extension of time to file granted pursuant to §1.6081-5.

(2) An electing large partnership (ELP) required to file Form 1065-B, "U.S. Return of Income for Electing Large Partnerships," for any taxable year will be allowed an automatic 6-month extension of time to file the return after the date prescribed for filing the return if the partnership files an application under this section in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Requirements. To satisfy this paragraph (b), the partnership must—

(1) Submit a complete application on Form 7004, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File Certain Business Income Tax, Information, and Other Returns," or in any other manner prescribed by the Commissioner;

(2) File the application on or before the later of—

(i) The date prescribed for filing the return of the partnership; or

(ii) The expiration of any extension of time to file granted under §1.6081-5(a); and

(3) File the application with the Internal Revenue Service office designated in the application's instructions.

(c) Payment of section 7519 amount. An automatic extension of time for filing a partnership return of income granted under paragraph (a) of this section does not extend the time for payment of any amount due under section 7519, relating to required payments for entities electing not to have a required taxable year.

(d) Section 444 election. An automatic extension of time for filing a partnership return of income will run concurrently with any extension of time for filing a return allowed because of section 444, relating to the election of a taxable year other than a required taxable year.

(e) Effect of extension on partner. An automatic extension of time for filing a partnership return of income under this section does not extend the time for filing a partner's income tax return or the time for the payment of any tax due on a partner's income tax return.

(f) Termination of automatic extension. The Commissioner may terminate an au-automatic extension at any time by mailing to the partnership a notice of termination at least 10 days prior to the termination date designated in such notice. The Commissioner must mail the notice of termination to the address shown on the Form 7004 or to the partnership's last known address. For further guidance regarding the definition of last known address, see §301.6212-2 of this chapter.

(g) Penalties. See section 6698 for failure to file a partnership return.

(h) Special rule for applications for extensions of time to file returns due on or after July 1, 2008 and before January 1, 2009. A partnership required to file Form 1065, "U.S. Return of Partnership Income," or Form 8804, "Annual Return for Partnership Withholding Tax (Section 1446)," on or after July 1, 2008 and before January 1, 2009, will be allowed an automatic 6-month extension of time to file the return after the date prescribed for filing the return if the partnership files an application under this section in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(i) Effective/applicability dates. This section applies to applications for an automatic extension of time to file the partnership returns listed in paragraph (a) of this section filed on or after July 1, 2008.

(j) Expiration date. The applicability of this section expires on or before June 30, 2011.

Par. 5. Section 1.6081-3 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1) and (4) and (e) to read as follows:

§1.6081-3 Automatic extension of time for filing corporation income tax returns.

(a) * * *

(1) An application must be submitted on Form 7004, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File Certain Business Income Tax, Information, and Other Returns," or in any other manner prescribed by the Commissioner.

* * * * *

(4) The application must include a statement listing the name and address of each member of the affiliated group if the affiliated group will file a consolidated return. Upon the timely filing of Form 7004, the 6-month extension of time to file shall be considered as granted to the affiliated group for the filing of its consolidated re-

(2) File the application on or before the later of—

(3) File the application with the Internal Revenue Service office designated in the application's instructions; and

(4) Show the full amount properly estimated as tax for the taxable year.

(c) No extension of time for the payment of tax. An automatic extension of time for filing a return granted under paragraph (a) of this section will not extend the time for payment of any tax due on such return.

(d) Termination of automatic extension. The Commissioner may terminate an automatic extension at any time by mailing to the individual a notice of termination at least 10 days prior to the termination date designated in such notice. The Commis-

(e) Penalties. See section 6651 for failure to file an individual income tax return or failure to pay the amount shown as tax on the return. In particular, see §301.6651-1(c)(3) of this chapter (relating to a presumption of reasonable cause in certain circumstances involving an automatic extension of time for filing an individual income tax return).
