- If your agency would prefer to provide information other than the name and badge number of these officers, please list an alias or other information that you can use to identify these officers in the table below. Please keep a copy of the list linking the alias to the individuals so that you can distribute the SRO-level survey to the sampled officers. We will send out the officer survey materials shortly after the due date of the agency-level survey.

RE: Comments to Bureau of Justice Statistics Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools

Dear Ms. Davis,

Rights4Girls submits this comment in response to the Bureau for Justice Statistics' request for comments (84 Fed. Reg. 5504, dated February 21, 2019) on the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS).

Rights4Girls is a human rights organization working to end gender-based violence in the United States. Based in Washington, D.C., we advocate for the dignity and rights of young women and girls through policy reform and advocacy at the federal, state, and local levels, coalition-building, public awareness campaigns, research, and training and technical assistance. Over the past several years, we have been actively involved in efforts to reform the juvenile justice system and prevent girls impacted by physical and sexual abuse from falling victim to the Abuse to Prison Pipeline.¹ The Abuse to Prison Pipeline refers to the pathways by which girls are pushed into the juvenile justice system after experiencing gendered violence—which accounts for the vast majority of justice-involved girls. Being pushed out of school is one such pathway.

In particular, Black girls are increasingly being referred to the juvenile justice system as a result of school discipline policies that criminalize them for normal adolescent behavior, for expressing themselves,² or for minor misbehaviors that could be addressed within the school system.³ Several studies indicate that Black girls are susceptible to stricter punishments because they are perceived as “less innocent”.⁴ In addition, some girls adopt a more aggressive response to the trauma they have experienced.⁵ Unfortunately, when a girl responds to trauma or violence in such a manner she is more likely to be labeled deviant and face discipline for failing to meet gender expectations.⁶ Girls are often disciplined for dress code or behavior violations that result from implicit and explicit gender bias, including on the part of school resource officers (SROs).⁷ In fact, several reports have found that the presence of SROs in schools causes girls of color to be criminalized and lessens their sense of safety.⁸

Given that SROs interact with vulnerable students and are increasingly relied upon to address student behaviors, it is imperative to determine whether SROs have been trained on trauma, specifically how trauma impacts children’s behaviors and ways to respond to children that are trauma-informed.⁹ Yet, while both the survey for law enforcement agencies (LEA) and the survey for SROs ask whether SROs are trained on specific topics, trauma is not included on the list.

Additionally, the entire purpose of training is that the knowledge and tools learned via the training be put to use. However, neither survey asks information to help gauge whether or not this is actually taking place. It is important that the SLEPS SRO survey include questions that will help ascertain the effectiveness of the trainings SROs receive, including a question asking the frequency with which they apply tools learned from trainings on specific topics, such as trauma. To that end, it is critical that the section of the SLEPS SRO survey regarding SRO activities include questions to determine how often the SRO de-escalates situations as well as how often the SRO identifies responses to situations that are less punitive than arresting a child.

Finally, it is critical that the SLEPS LEA survey require agencies to report the number of officers who had complaints filed against them whether by students, parents or school administrators. Information regarding feedback from the schools they serve is essential to obtaining a more thorough picture needed to gauge the impact SROs have on students and their schools.

Unaddressed trauma and mental health needs contribute to school discipline, school-associated arrests, and justice system involvement. As SROs are a direct link between students and the justice system, it is vital that the surveys be expanded to seek the information described above.

RE: Comments Regarding the Bureau of Justice Statistics information collection concerning the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools, OMB No. 1121-NEW

Dear Ms. Davis:

On behalf of the Campaign for Youth Justice (CFYJ), we submit our suggestions for the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) information collection request concerning the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). CFYJ is a national organization whose mission is to end the practice of prosecuting, sentencing, and incarcerating youth under the age of 18 in the adult criminal justice system. The strategic goals of CFYJ are to reduce the total number of youth prosecuted in the adult criminal justice system and to decrease the harmful impact of trying youth in adult court. We accomplish this through both federal and state-level advocacy by urging lawmakers to pass laws to keep youth out of the adult criminal justice system. We support the collection and use of data in assessing the effectiveness and repercussions of the use of law enforcement in schools and encourage BJS to approach data collection in a way that will best allow school officials, policymakers, and advocates to understand these effects.

Though the presence of law enforcement in schools has been increasing, there is no evidence that their presence makes schools safer. While the duties of school resource officers (SROs) in schools vary, they have increasingly been called upon to respond to school disciplinary incidents, resulting in harsher consequences inflicted upon students for what is often normal childhood behavior.¹ Not only does the presence of law enforcement officials in school funnel students into the juvenile justice system, but it also funnels youth to the adult criminal system. In Missouri, for example, a statute went into effect in January 2017 that charges students who get into fights with felonies.² Students who get into fights in school or on school buses may wind up spending up to four years in prison, paying fines, or be subjected to adult probation.³ Missouri recently raised the age of criminal responsibility from 17 to 18, but until the law is fully implemented, 17-year-olds are still automatically excluded from juvenile court jurisdiction based solely on their age,⁴ meaning the statute increases the chances of youth ending up in the adult criminal justice system. Further, given we know that black youth are “more likely to be transferred to adult facilities for detention,” these types of laws disproportionately impact youth of color.⁵

Collecting and analyzing data related to law enforcement officers in schools is vital to better understanding the harms posed to vulnerable student communities and assessing whether there is a benefit to assigning law enforcement to schools. We offer several suggestions below that would make the survey instrument a more useful and reliable source of information on school policing and its effect on students.

1. Student Arrest and Referral Data Disaggregated by Race, Ethnicity, Gender, Disability Status, and Offense

The agency-level survey should collect data on the number of students arrested by law enforcement officers working in schools. This data should be disaggregated by race, ethnicity, gender, and disability status. This will show whether students of a particular race, gender, or disability status are being arrested at disproportionate rates. The data should also be disaggregated by student offense, including each offense listed in Question 18 of the proposed 2019 SRO survey and the following additional offenses (which should also be added to the list in Question 18 of the SRO survey): truancy, vandalism, alcohol possession, tobacco possession, willful disobedience, and trespassing or loitering. The survey should ask how many of these arrests resulted in a delinquency finding or adult charges and a conviction. Collecting this information is important because students are often arrested and referred for minor incidents.⁶

Additionally, the officer-level survey should ask about the number of students the officer has referred to school administrations for suspension or expulsion in the previous twelve months. This question should be structured similarly to the amended Question 18. Data on the number of non-arrest school discipline incidents in which SROs are involved could help researchers examine the relationship between SRO presence and exclusionary discipline practices. This data could also supplement the Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights data on school discipline, which is not disaggregated by whether or not a school has an assigned SRO.

2. Training on Bias-free Policing and Constitutional Rights

Question 25 of the agency-level survey, which asks about the types of social and behavior training that is offered by the agency to sworn SROs, should include bias-free policing training. The same adjustment should be made to Question 13 of the officer-level survey. Implicit bias is related to, but distinct from, cultural sensitivity and/or cultural competency—one of the training topics listed in Question 25. Because implicit bias contributes to racial disparities in school discipline, it is important for SROs to be trained about bias-free policing and for the SLEPS data collection to gauge what percentage of SROs are receiving training on bias-free policing.⁷ Question 23 of the agency-level survey, which asks what law enforcement training topics are offered by the agency to sworn SROs, should also include training on the civil or constitutional rights of students. The same adjustment should be made to Question 11 of the officer-level survey.

3. Student Interview

The agency-level survey should ask if SROs are allowed to conduct interviews of students outside of the presence of a parent and/or guardian without first obtaining permission from the parent or guardian. This question could be placed after Question 13, which asks whether SROs are required to inform school executive staff after performing specific actions, including questioning students during school hours. The survey should also ask whether officers have conducted interviews of students outside the presence of a parent and/or guardian and, if so, how many such interviews they have conducted in the previous twelve months.

4. Use of Force and Weapons

The survey must collect more data on the use of force and the use of weapons by SROs. Research reveals the alarming number of excessive force complaints against SROs. Civil rights groups have identified the lack of data on police use of force in schools as part of a broader lack of accountability that makes it difficult for students and parents to see SROs who use excessive force held accountable.⁸

⁷ See AJMEL QUERESHI, ET AL., LEGAL DEFENSE FUND, LOCKED OUT OF THE CLASSROOM: HOW IMPLICIT BIAS CONTRIBUTES TO DISPARITIES IN SCHOOL DISCIPLINE (2017), available at https://www.naacpldf.org/files/about-us/Bias_Reportv2017_30_11_FINAL.pdf.

While Question 29 on the agency-level survey asks whether various pieces of equipment (including firearms, batons, conducted energy devices, and pepper spray) are issued by the agency and whether those items are allowed on campus, neither survey asks whether the SROs actually carry these items. The officer-level survey should include a question asking whether the officers carry firearms, batons, conducted energy devices, pepper spray, or other weapons.

Additionally, both surveys should include questions regarding use of force incidents and complaints. The agency-level survey should include a reporting of the number of incidents of force recorded by the agency for the prior twelve months. It should also ask whether and, if so, how many, complaints have been filed regarding use of force by officers who are assigned to schools. The agency-level survey should also ask if the agency has a written policy concerning use of force by SROs. The officer-level survey should include a question asking the SROs whether they have used force while on assignment at a school and provide options for them to specify what type(s) of force they have used. Officers should also report on how many officers are involved in each incidence of force.

The above proposals will ensure that the SLEPS data collection is able to accurately and completely record data that is of critical value to school officials, policymakers, and other stakeholders in protecting the rights and safety of all students.

RE: Comments Regarding the Bureau of Justice Statistics information collection concerning the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools, OMB No. 1121-NEW

Dear Ms. Davis:

The Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) submits these comments in response to the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) information collection request concerning the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). The SPLC is a nonprofit civil rights organization dedicated to fighting hate and bigotry and to seeking justice for the most vulnerable members of society. As part of our Children's Rights practice group, the SPLC is committed to ensuring safe, healthy, and welcoming school environments for all students.

The SPLC believes that data and transparency on school policing programs are critical to determining whether these programs are effective and to measuring whether schools are safe and welcoming for all students. Though the presence of law enforcement in schools has been increasing, there is no evidence that school-based law enforcement makes schools safer. Today, 41% of the nation's public schools report having a School Resource Officer (SRO) on their campuses,¹ and this number is on the rise. While school-based law enforcement duties vary across school districts, the primary responsibility of officers on school campuses is law enforcement.² However, SROs have also been increasingly called upon to respond to school disciplinary incidents, resulting in harsher consequences inflicted upon students for minor

Although the U.S. Department of Education's Civil Rights Data Collection (CRDC) requires some data collection on policing, that collection is inadequate and forces advocates to painstakingly collect that information on their own. See enclosure for information regarding one such effort by our Louisiana Children's Rights team. SLEPS can help alleviate this issue through its aim to "provide key national statistics to fill the knowledge gap surrounding law enforcement in schools,"⁷ and it is the SPLC's hope that the SLEPS will collect and report data that will allow the public to fully assess the impact of school policing programs.

In assessing how the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected on school-based policing can be enhanced, the SPLC proposes the following:

- 1. The SLEPS Law Enforcement Agency (LEA) survey should collect data on the number of students referred to law enforcement; the number of students arrested by law enforcement; the number of students issued citations; and the number of students on whom force is used in schools. This data should further be disaggregated by race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex, and disability status. It should include the number of students arrested, referred, issued citations, or on whom force was administered once in a school year, as well as the number of students arrested, referred, issued citations, or on whom force was administered multiple times in a school year.

The data should also be disaggregated by student infraction, including each infraction⁸ listed in Question 18 of the proposed 2019 SRO survey and the following additional infractions (which should also be added to the list in Question 18 of the School Resource Officer (SRO) survey): truancy, vandalism, alcohol possession, tobacco possession, and trespassing or loitering. Regarding the arrest data, the survey should ask how many of these arrests resulted in a delinquency adjudication or a conviction.

2. The SLEPS LEA survey should collect data on whether Law Enforcement Agencies analyze and review data, disaggregated by race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex, and disability status, on students arrested, issued citations, or upon whom force is used by law enforcement employed by the agency. The SLEPS survey should ask how often this data is analyzed and reviewed.
3. Regarding Question 12 of the SLEPS LEA survey: (b) should specifically ask whether the agreement limits or prohibits SRO arrest power, and (j) should specifically ask whether the agreement between the agency and the school, or internal departmental policy, limits or prevents SRO involvement in school disciplinary matters. Further, a separate category should be added regarding whether the agreement or internal policy includes guidelines or limitations on use of force or weapons by SROs.
4. Regarding Question 18 of the SLEPS LEA survey: the survey should include a category on whether SROs have access to data on students identified as a threat. In addition, the survey should ask whether law enforcement agencies use any integrated databases of student information, and if so, the source(s) of that data.
5. Regarding Question 26 of the SLEPS LEA survey, the survey should include a category on whether law enforcement activity includes participating on threat assessment teams, and a category on whether law enforcement activity includes video surveillance/monitoring.
6. Regarding Question 25 of the SLEPS LEA survey, which asks about the types of social and behavior training that is offered by the agency to sworn SROs, a category should be added for bias-free policing training. The same adjustment should be made to Question 13 of the SRO survey. Implicit bias is related to, but distinct from, cultural sensitivity and/or cultural competency—one of the training topics listed in Question 25.
7. The section on “Training Topics Offered to Sworn SROs” in the SLEPS LEA Survey, each question should ask which topics are required of SROs, as well as how often SROs must be re-trained.

The SPLC offers these proposals to help ensure the SLEPS data collection provides better and more complete information about school policing programs and their impact on students across the country who deserve safe, healthy, and welcoming school environments.

However, even records or information that would otherwise be subject to FERPA protections may be released after the removal of all PII, provided that the educational agency or institution or other party has made a reasonable determination that a student's identity is not personally identifiable, taking into account other reasonably available information. 34 C.F.R. § 99.31(b).

2. All memoranda of agreement or understanding (MOAs or MOUs), contracts, or other legal agreements in effect for the 2017-2018 school year between [REDACTED] and any school or school district regarding the deployment or placement of law enforcement officers to school campuses.

RTI International and its partner, the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF), conducted a pretest of the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). The pretest began with the agency component of the data collection in November 2017 and concluded with the close of the officer-level survey in May 2018. This report describes the process and findings from the pretest administration and recommendations for the main data collection based on the lessons learned.

The pretest and anticipated main data collection include two components. First, sampled law enforcement agencies receive the law enforcement agency survey, which includes questions about the agency, the number and characteristics of the SROs employed by the agency, and the policies that the agency has in place to guide the work of the SROs. Next, law enforcement agencies are asked to complete a roster form that uniquely identifies each full-time sworn SRO that is employed by the agency at the time of the survey response. The SRO roster is then used to select the sample for the SRO survey, which is the second component of the pretest. Sampled SROs receive a questionnaire that asks about their training, policies, and practices related to their work as an SRO.

The pretest was designed to test the survey methodology anticipated for the main data collection and to develop recommendations for updates to the survey instruments themselves and/or our procedures for sampling, contacting respondents, or otherwise collecting the data.

This report describes each component of the pretest, including the sampling approach, method of contacting, and response pattern analyses for the LEA component of the pretest (Section 1) and the SRO component (Section 2). Section 3 summarizes findings from the pretest and recommendations to consider for the main data collection, including updates to the survey instruments, proposed sampling approach, administration of both components, and a timeline for the main data collection.

1. Law Enforcement Agency Survey

1.1 LEA Sampling Approach

For the SLEPS pretest, law enforcement agencies (LEAs) were selected via stratified simple random sample from the Law Enforcement Agency Roster-provided frame. Sampling strata were determined exclusively by agency size category, with the number of school resource officers (SROs) employed by the agency serving as the measure of size. Information on SRO employment came either from the 2014 or 2008 Census of State and Local Law Enforcement Agencies (CSLLEA), with the 2014 figure taking precedence when available. Separate strata were included for agencies with unknown numbers of SROs and for agencies believed to not employ SROs. A single agency—the New York City (NYC) Police Department—was also included in its own self-representing stratum. Design of the LEA sample emphasized qualitative assessment of feasibility rather than achieving power for particular estimates or collection performance metrics. Exhibit 1-1 provides the overall sample size (250 LEAs) and stratum allocations as provided to the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS).

Exhibit 1-1. LEA Strata and Allocation for the 2017–18 Pretest

LEA Sampling Stratum	#LEAs on Frame	#LEAs Sampled for Pretest
1–5 SROs	4,882.0	124
6+ SROs	421.2	75
Cert (New York City)	1.0	1
0 SROs	9,811.0	10
Unk SROs	637.0	40
Total	16,067	250

1.2 LEA Survey Administration

1.2.1 Communication protocols

RTI initiated the LEA survey on November 9, 2017, with a mailing to the 250 sampled LEAs. LEAs were divided into two conditions. Agencies in the first condition received an invitation letter with instructions on how to access the questionnaire via Web. Agencies in the second condition received an invitation letter with instructions on how to access the questionnaire via Web and guidance on how to complete the questionnaire via paper using an enclosed questionnaire, roster form, and business reply envelope. (Results from the experiment are discussed further below as a part of LEA response rate outcomes.) All agencies received a letter of support from PERF. Once data collection began, we monitored a project-specific 1-800 number and e-mail address and responded to any incoming communications.

Two weeks later, on November 27, 2017, we sent a postcard to each agency. The postcard served as a thank you for those agencies that submitted and as a reminder for agencies that had not submitted.

We sent the final mailed reminder to all nonresponding agencies (n = 163) 2 weeks after the postcard, on December 7, 2017. This mailing included four pieces: (1) a letter with instructions on how to complete via Web or paper, (2) the LEA questionnaire, (3) the rostering form, and (4) a business reply envelope.

One month later, on January 8, 2018, we initiated nonresponse telephone contacting with all nonresponding agencies (n = 115). These telephone contacts continued for 3 weeks and ended on January 26, 2018. The LEA survey remained active until February 2, 2018.

1.2.2 LEA response rate/patterns

The LEA survey was conducted on a compressed timeline, with only 2 weeks between each of the mail protocol steps. As for the start of nonresponse telephone contacting, we originally proposed waiting 3 weeks after the final mailing. However, to avoid overlap with end-of-the-year holidays, BJS agreed to delay the nonresponse telephone contacts to commence 4 weeks after the final mailing.

In the 2 weeks after the invitation mailing, we achieved a 17.9% response rate (n = 44).¹ After we sent the reminder postcard, we achieved a 34.6% response rate (n = 85) before the final reminder. The final reminder led to a 52.4% response rate (n = 129) before we started nonresponse contacting. Although the target response rate was 80%, the LEA questionnaire achieved a 77.2% response rate after nonresponse contacting. There were no significant differences in response rates by experimental condition (invitation only vs. invitation and paper questionnaire), however the test was severely underpowered (n = 123 per group).

The response rate steadily progressed throughout LEA data collection, with appreciable increases after each step of the communication protocol (see Exhibit 1-2).

Exhibit 1-2. LEA Response Pattern Over Time

¹ Although 250 LEAs were sampled for the pretest, 4 were deemed ineligible. All response rates are based on a sample size of 246 LEAs.

Exhibits 1-3 and 1-4 show LEA unit response patterns by agency type and size, respectively. Although there is little evidence of variation in response rates by agency type (rates differ at a maximum of less than 6 percentage points, with a high of 81.0% for Sheriff), agency size does appear related to LEA response propensity. In Exhibit 1-3, agencies with SROs (not including NYC) exhibit response rates ranging from a high of 85.4% to a low of 60.0%, and these rates appear to follow a gradient on which the response rate decreases as agency size increases. Agencies with an unknown number of SROs exhibit a low response rate of 51.4%. This was expected given that a relative lack of willingness to participate in data collection likely contributed to these agencies' CSLLEA data sparsity in the first place.

Exhibit 1-3. LEA Response by Agency Type

Exhibit 1-4. LEA Response by Agency Size (CSLLEA SRO Count)

Nonresponse bias can result if the population distribution of one or more survey measures is related to response propensity—if nonresponding agencies are different in a systematic way than those who do respond, survey-based estimates could misrepresent that population. Although the true population parameters corresponding to any given estimate are unknown, we can get a sense of the potential for nonresponse bias by analyzing frame variables that are correlates of both response propensity and survey variable responses. For the SLEPS pretest, the best correlates for this type of analysis are agency size (SRO count) and agency type. From Exhibits 1-3 and 1-4, we can see that agency size is a correlate of response propensity, and that the situation is less clear for agency type.

Looking more closely at agency size and the role it plays in response propensity, we can see that the association indicated by Exhibit 1-4 is reinforced by the estimates of agency size by response group. For nonresponding agencies, the average number of SROs is 24.7, whereas for responding LEAs this number is only 5.2. This dramatic difference is driven in large part by the nonrespondent status of the NYC LEA. Removing NYC from the calculation leads to an average SRO count of 9.2 in the nonrespondent group. These estimates are based on SRO count taken from the frame² only. In Exhibit 1-5 we see that, aside from a couple of cases, the correspondence between the frame SRO count and measured SRO count³ is high, with only two cases diverging strongly. When replacing the SRO count with an updated value where available, we see an even smaller mean SRO count of 4.9 among responding agencies. The difference in SRO count between respondent groups is statistically significant in all cases (with and without NYC and with both the frame-only and updated SRO Exhibits).

Although agency size is a correlate of response propensity, it is not yet clear whether the population distributions of characteristics measured on the LEA survey are also correlated with agency size. To get an idea as to whether this is the case, we can test whether the mean number of SROs differs significantly across response categories of questionnaire variables completed by responding agencies. If agency size is associated with the responses of questionnaire variables, this could indicate the potential for bias given that nonresponding agencies seem to be larger on average. When testing mean SRO values across LEA survey variable response categories, we see a significant association for 13.1% of tested variables. This is well above the 5% figure we would expect to see from random chance alone. Taken along with the fact that the SLEPS pretest sample was not powered to detect slight but potentially meaningful differences in agency size across categories,⁴ this indicates a potential for nonresponse bias resulting from the relative underrepresentation of larger agency respondents. Agency type is significantly associated with a similar number of variables (12.8%)—although, because agency type does not seem as strongly correlated with response propensity, this is a less pronounced indicator of potential bias.

³ Taken as the maximum of LEA survey item Question 19a and the number of SROs rostered for SRO sampling.

Beyond a simple question of whether certain types of agencies respond at all, there is also the question of whether early-responding (the first 25%) and late-responding (the last 25%) agencies differ from one another. If late-responding agencies differ from those that submit data early in the collection cycle, this could be an indication, for example, that the selection of the collection period duration could affect survey estimates. Furthermore, if late-responding agencies are more similar to nonresponding agencies, their data can be used in nonresponse adjustments in the main data collection. Exhibits 1-6 and 1-7 show the distributions of agency size and agency type for early responders and late responders.

Although the effects are not especially strong, we can see from Exhibits 1-6 and 1-7 that Sheriff's departments and school-based agencies are more likely to respond late, as are agencies with an unknown number of SROs. Because agency size and type are associated with LEA survey responses, distributions of those responses could shift significantly throughout the data collection period. In other words, early responses could represent a biased sample of agency respondents overall, and the choice of collection period and late-collection outreach could affect survey variable estimates.

In general, though there is a clear potential for nonresponse bias in LEA survey estimates, there is no indication that this bias could not be well-controlled through careful use of nonresponse bias mitigation techniques both during and after data collection closeout. By providing ample time and outreach for agencies with a relatively high propensity for late response, and by carefully adjusting the base sampling weights of respondent agencies to account for nonresponse while controlling for things like agency type and size, we have every expectation that a final LEA respondent sample can support unbiased estimation for the main SLEPS collection.

⁴ For a generic two-category variable, the SLEPS pretest response set is only large enough to support detection of a +50% difference in mean SRO value at 80% power. Agency size may well be associated with more than 13.1% of variables, though we are unable to detect significant differences across response groups.

Exhibit 1-6. Agency Type Distributions for Early and Late Responders

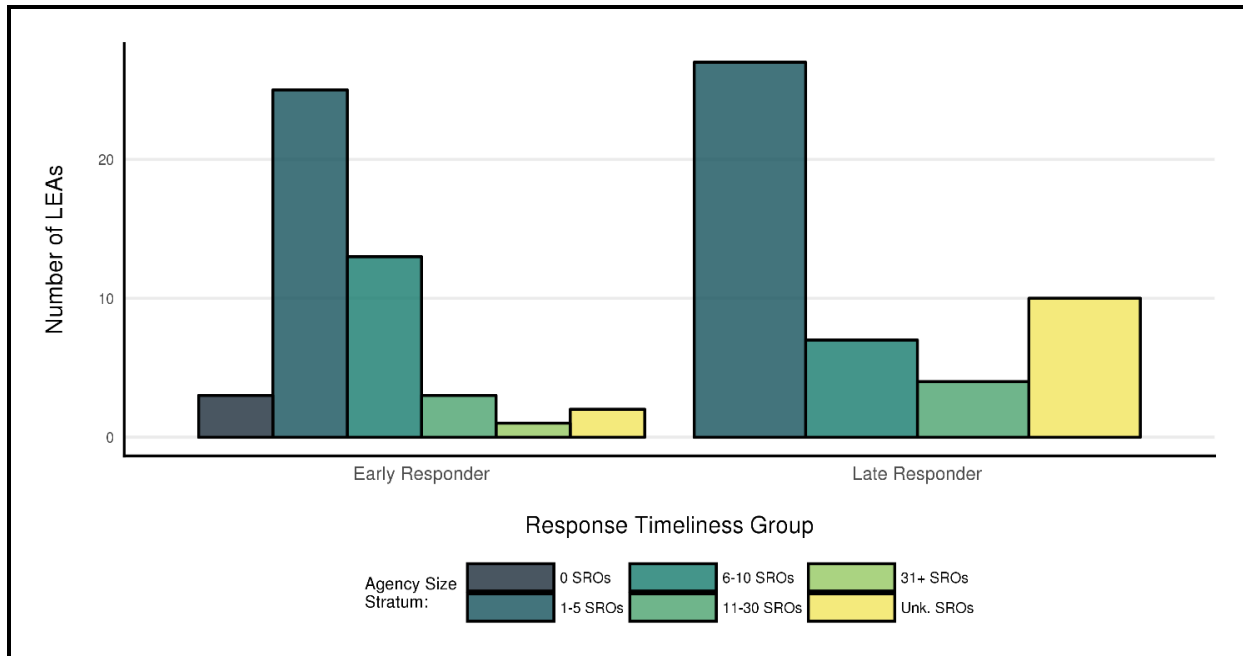

Exhibit 1-7. Agency Size Distributions for Early and Late Responders

1.2.3 Experience with paper and Web-based versions of the questionnaire

As shown in Exhibit 1-8, the majority of LEA questionnaire submissions (69%) were via Web (n = 132). A quarter of LEA questionnaire submissions were via paper (n = 47). A small number of LEAs chose to complete the questionnaire over the phone during nonresponse contacting (6%, n = 11).

The Web-based version of the questionnaire allows for standard data entry from LEAs. The Web-based questionnaire leads the respondent to relevant questions, meaning questions are skipped or shown as appropriate. The paper version of the questionnaire; however, relies on the respondent to decipher the skip patterns and recognize each question requiring a response. Phone submissions saw the same benefits as the Web submissions because staff walked through the questionnaire with the respondent.

Exhibit 1-8. Distribution of LEA Responses by Mode

For the LEA pretest, we saw several errors (see Exhibit 1-9) with the paper submissions (the LEA questionnaire is presented as Appendix A):

Exhibit 1-9. LEA Paper Questionnaire Submission Errors

Question	Error	No. of Respondents
4	Wrote more on this item than the year (e.g., “circa 2000”), so their responses could not be keyed given the validation on the Web (i.e., it only accepts a 4-digit number).	5
	“5 campuses” in sub-item d.	1
6	Respondent appeared to sum all schools in sub-item d. They drew an arrow down all sub-items pointing to the response in sub-item d.	1
8	Respondent selected, “Rotate to other assignments” and wrote in, “Permanent assignment to school during school year. Assigned to patrol during summer.”	1
	Respondents made a mark (i.e., an ‘X’ or a check) in “School districts—Formal agreement in place” instead of writing a number.	2
10	Respondent selected “Independent School District” in Question 1, which meant they should only enter responses in the “Individual schools” line. However, this respondent put an ‘X’ in the “Not applicable” box and left the rest of the item blank.	1
13	Respondent selected both “Yes” and “No” for a single item.	1

Question	Error	No. of Respondents
	Respondent selected “Other (please specify)” and wrote in, “none.”	1
14 and 15	Respondents selected “No” on Question 14 and then selected “By providing feedback on SROs after placement to help determine a ‘good fit’” for Question 15. Respondents should skip Question 15 if their response to Question 14 is “No.”	4
17	Respondent selected “Several times a year” and “Other (please specify)” with text, “Multiple daily contacts via email and phone.”	1
20	Respondent provided only totals in the column and did not provide the breakdown by gender.	1
22	Respondent did not select “Yes” or “No” for sub-item e, but wrote in, “local school districts.”	1
	Respondent selected “Yes” for sub-item c and wrote in, “Michigan State Police – Team Program” as the name of the state organization.	1
26 and 27	Respondent selected “No” for each sub-item in these questions and then noted, “Both 26 and 27 are included in our policy but not in our agreement with the school system.”	1
	Respondent left sub-item f blank and wrote, “unk.”	1
31 and 32	Respondent selected “None” to Question 31 sub-item b and then selected “No” to each sub-item in Question 32. Respondents should skip Question 32 if their response to Question 31 sub-item b is “No.”	1
40 and 41	Respondent selected “Yes” and did not include the rostering form.	1
	Respondent selected “No” to Question 40 and did not provide a rostering form but completed Question 41.	1
	Respondents selected both response options in Question 41.	2
	Respondents did not select a response to Question 40 or Question 41 but provided a complete rostering form.	2

1.3 Rostering from LEA Survey Respondents

1.3.1 Consistency in items that measure the number of SROs

There are three items on the LEA questionnaire that should match related to the number of sworn officers primarily assigned to any public K-12 schools—Question 19, Question 20, and the rostering form. Question 19a asks for the total number of sworn officers that are primarily assigned to any public K-12 schools as of September 30, 2017. Question 20 asks for a breakdown of sworn SROs by race/Hispanic origin and sex. The rostering form asks for the list the sworn officers who are primarily assigned to work in K-12 public schools, including the officer’s initials or other identifying information, race/Hispanic origin, sex, and e-mail address.

The number entered in Question 19a should equal the total in Question 20 and the total number of SROs on the rostering form. The breakdown provided in Question 20 should match the characteristics provided on the rostering form. For the pretest, we reviewed submissions to confirm Question 19a equaled the number of SROs on the rostering form. For cases where these did not match, we followed up with the LEA point of contact (POC) to clarify the inconsistent information.

There were 21 cases that required this follow-up. We initiated follow-up with an e-mail outlining the issue. Eleven of the 21 cases were resolved upon that initial contact. For those that were not resolved, we attempted contact via phone and continued contacting via phone and e-mail until resolution. Six additional cases were resolved; however, four cases were not resolved through contact with the agency. Resolutions for the 17 cases are as follows:

Resolution	No. of POCs
POCs forgot to include themselves on the rostering form.	4
These POCs also had three SRO vacancies, so the numbers did not match across the questions.	1
The rostering form was incorrect and one of the listed officers was removed.	1
The rostering form was correct, and we updated Question 19a and Question 20	1
Forgot to include both SRO departments (i.e., SRO and Neighborhood SRO) on the rostering form; we updated the rostering form.	1
LEA POC was confused about the definition of a “sworn officer.” They have two retired police officers that are SROs that are called SLEO IIs. The POC confirmed that these officers have full arrest powers. We updated Question 19a.	1
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ LEA POCs were confused about the timing indicated in the questions. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – LEA POC counted two SROs because they had two over the course of the year; however, on September 30, 2017, they only had one. We corrected Question 20 and the rostering form. – LEA POC realized that we were asking about September 30, 2017, in all questions (even though it is stated explicitly only in Question 19a) and said that we should update Questions 19a and 20 to match the rostering form. 	2
▪ Entered the wrong number in Question 19a (no details given) and we updated that to match Question 20 and the rostering form.	3
▪ LEA POC confirmed the numbers provided in Questions 19a and 20 and we updated the rostering form (no explanation given).	1
▪ LEA POC included a DARE officer that fills in part-time as an SRO on the rostering form but did not include them in Questions 19a and 20. We updated Questions 19a and 20.	1
▪ LEA POC included SROs assigned to schools on the rostering form. For Questions 19a and 20, the POC included those SROs as well as their supervisors. We did not include the supervisors on the questionnaire and removed them from Question 19a and 20.	1
▪ Provided updated numbers for all three items—Questions 19a and 20 and the rostering form (no details given).	1

1.3.2 Preference for single POC or direct-to-officer survey distribution

We received 190 submissions for the LEA questionnaire. We received 124 responses to Question 41 (For purposes of administrating the officer survey, would your agency prefer to have a single point of contact to distribute the officer survey or have our team directly contact the officers?). Most agencies selected “Single point of contact” (70%, n = 87).

1.4 LEA Item-Level Measurements and Quality

1.4.1 Item response patterns

We examined several indicators for measurement error: item missingness across the questionnaire and, specifically for grid questions, straight-lining⁵ and errors of commission.⁶

We focused on variables that yielded more than 5% item nonresponse, as in such cases, the missingness is likely systematic rather than random and can potentially induce bias in the estimates. Not surprisingly, write-in response options, such as “Other (please specify)” had the highest missing rate—for example, Question 22e had 23% missingness (where respondents were expected to mark “No” if no other entities were relevant). Response options b (school districts) and d (national organizations) were also left blank by 8% and 6% of the respondents, respectively.

During the field test it became clear that questions in the non-sworn SROs section did not apply to most LEAs (about 10% of respondents left this question blank, whereas 96% of those who responded to Question 19B reported zero non-sworn employees).

Finally, the last question of the LEA questionnaire (Question 40) had about 6% item missingness, which is not surprising given that Questions 30–39 did not apply to majority of our respondents, and about 10% of them chose not to complete the roster.

One of the disadvantages for using grid questions is the potential for item missingness and straight-lining associated with them).⁷ To address these concerns, we examined the average amount of item missingness for questions with five or more subparts presented in a grid format, as well as the average standard deviation across respondents. Exhibit 1-10 presents the results of those analyses. Most of the grid questions had less than 2% item missingness (suggesting it is likely missing at random). Not surprisingly, Question 29 had the highest percent missingness: 1 of 20 respondents were likely confused how to select a response option when they were nested within not necessarily mutually exclusive categories. Question 13 did not have much variability in responses, suggesting that some of its subparts were highly correlated and potentially can be collapsed.

⁵ Straight-lining refers to a respondent’s tendency to select the same response within a grid.

⁶ Errors of commission are when respondents ignore the skip logic when completing a paper form.

⁷ Toepoel, V., M. Das and A. v. Soest (2005). Design of Web Questionnaires: A Test for Number of Items Per Screen, Tilburg University. 2006.

Exhibit 1-10. Average Percent Item Missingness and Average Standard Deviation by Grid Question in the LEA Questionnaire

Grid Question Number	Average Percent Missing, %	Average Standard Deviation Across Respondents
12	1.5	0.28
13	0.9	0.17
18	0.6	0.30
23	0.4	0.26
24	0.2	0.31
25	0.0	0.36
26	0.7	0.26
27	0.6	0.36
28	0.4	0.24
29	5.0	0.87

We also examined errors of commission, where respondents ignored the skip logic if they chose to complete the paper form. There were no violations of skip patterns for the sworn SROs questions (Questions 3, 9, 14).

1.4.2 Inconsistencies across items

Finally, we examined items that measured the same concept in the LEA questionnaire. Specifically, we calculated the match rate between the number reported in the gate question collecting information on the number of sworn and non-sworn officers (Question 19) and the information provided in the roster. There was a 98% match between the total numbers of sworn SROs provided in each item (after following up with POCs as described above).

2. SRO Survey

2.1 SRO Sampling Approach

The SLEPS SRO pretest was designed to assess the feasibility of administering a survey directly to officers. Before the pretest, it was not known how well an officer-based survey would perform, including the ability to collect officer rosters and to achieve adequate final SRO response rates. For agencies that provided a roster of SROs, the following SRO sampling rules were employed:

- LEAs with 1–5 SROs: sample all SROs
- LEAs with 6–10 SROs: sample 5 or 75% of SROs, whichever is greater
- LEAs with 11–30 SROs: sample 8 or 50% of SROs, whichever is greater

- LEAs with 31+ SROs: sample 16 SROs⁸

2.2 SRO Survey Administration

2.2.1 Communication protocols

We initiated the SRO survey on March 1, 2018, with a mailing to the 475 sampled SROs.⁹ SROs were contacted either directly (n = 121) or through a single POC with the agency (n = 354). All SROs received a sealed envelope containing (1) an invitation letter with instructions on how to access the questionnaire via Web and (2) a letter of support from PERF. The invitation letter noted that the LEA supported the data collection and provided the contact information for the LEA POC should the SRO have questions. We continued to monitor the 1-800 number and e-mail address throughout the SRO survey to assist SROs.

Two weeks later, on March 15, 2018, we sent a postcard to each SRO. The postcard served as a thank you for those SROs that submitted and as a reminder for SROs that had not submitted. Again, these postcards were sent either directly (n = 121) or through a single POC with the agency (n = 350).¹⁰

We sent the final reminder to all nonresponding SROs 2 weeks after the postcard, on March 29, 2018. Each SRO received a sealed envelope containing (1) a letter with instructions on how to complete via Web or paper, (2) the SRO questionnaire, and (3) a business reply envelope. As with the previous mailings, SROs received this packet either directly (n = 74) or through a single POC with the agency (n = 89).

The SRO survey remained active until May 4, 2018.

2.2.2 SRO response rate/patterns

The SRO survey was conducted on a compressed timeline. There were 2 weeks between each of the mail protocol steps.

In the 2 weeks after the invitation mailing, we achieved a 39.3% response rate (n = 185).¹¹ After we sent the reminder postcard, we achieved a 65.4% response rate (n = 308) before the final reminder. After the final reminder, the SRO survey achieved a 78.1% response rate (n = 368), surpassing the target 74% response rate.

The response rate steadily progressed throughout SRO data collection, with moderate increases after each step of the communication protocol (see Exhibit 2-1). Exhibits 2-2 through 2-6 show various SRO response comparisons.

⁹ We had one late-responding LEA that was on a slightly different SRO mailing schedule.

¹⁰ The number of SROs contacted through a single POC decreased by four because of ineligible SROs.

¹¹ Although 475 SROs were sampled for the pretest, 4 were deemed ineligible. All response rates are based on a sample size of 471 LEAs.

Exhibit 2-2. SRO Response by Agency Type

Exhibit 2-3. SRO Response by Agency Size

Exhibit 2-4. SRO Response by SRO Gender

Exhibit 2-5. SRO Response by SRO Race

Exhibit 2-6. SRO Response by SRO Survey Type of Contact

As in the case of LEA response, we do see some variation in the apparent response propensity of SROs. SROs from school-based agencies or medium-sized agencies (6–10 SROs) appear relatively less likely to respond, as do female and Hispanic SROs. SROs contacted directly, rather than through a central agency POC also respond at lower rates. Notably, however, these marginal rates of response could in some cases be measuring common, underlying characteristics. Exhibit 2-7 shows the p-values derived from tests of association between the characteristics presented above. A full half of the relationships are significant. Especially notable is the significant associations between agency size and agency type, SRO race, and POC type for SRO data collection.

Exhibit 2-7. P-Values from Chi-Square Tests of Association Between LEA and SRO Characteristics

	Agency Size	Agency Type	SRO Gender	SRO Race	POC
Agency Size	N/A	<0.0001	0.9765	<0.0001	0.0080
Agency Type		N/A	0.5934	0.0010	0.0287
SRO Gender			N/A	0.1987	0.4066
SRO Race				N/A	0.7647
POC					N/A

To get a sense of whether differential response patterns among SROs might indicate a potential for nonresponse bias, associations between LEA and SRO characteristics were measured for respondents across SRO questionnaire variables. We found that 15.9% of variables were significantly associated with agency size, whereas 20.4% were significantly associated with agency type. SRO race was significantly associated with 23.9% of SRO questionnaire variables. SRO gender and POC type exhibited the fewest significant associations, each with 8.0%.

As noted earlier for LEAs, binary response status does not paint the full picture. To fully address the potential for nonresponse bias, we also must consider whether the profile of SRO respondents changes throughout the collection period. Although SRO race and gender and agency type distributions did not differ meaningfully between early and late SRO respondents, there does seem to be some association between agency size and contact type and promptness of SRO questionnaire response. Exhibits 2-8 and 2-9 show that SROs contacted directly and those from medium-sized agencies are overrepresented in the late responder groups. SROs from these agencies could be more sensitive to the duration of the SRO survey response collection period and to late-collection outreach measures.

Exhibit 2-8. POC Type Distributions for Early and Late Response Groups

Exhibit 2-9. Agency Size Distributions for Early and Late Response Groups

Although there is potential for nonresponse bias in SRO survey variables, there is no indication that this bias could not be mitigated through post-collection weighting. Agency size and type and especially SRO race are associated with questionnaire responses and may also be related to response propensity. Thankfully, these measures are available either from the LEA frame or SRO rosters and can be included in weight-calibration models used to adjust survey weights for unit nonresponse.

2.2.3 Findings from the single POC time tracking study

For 19 of the single POCs, we included a request to track the time they spent facilitating the SRO survey in the initial mailing. We included six agencies in each of three strata (1–5 SROs, 6–10 SROs, 11–30 SROs) and one agency in the larger stratum (31+ SROs). After the completion of the SRO pretest, we contacted these POCs via phone to learn about the time they spent and how they distributed the mailings. We completed interviews with 16 of the 19 POCs. Exhibit 2-10 presents the main findings from the POC time tracking study.

 - 10 minutes (via meeting)
- Recommendations for improvement
 - Get the e-mail for the SRO to go directly to the SRO
 - Speed up the delivery process by going paperless and sending information to e-mail accounts
 - Liked having one POC to distribute the questionnaires
 - It would be easier if it was done electronically so POC could just send an e-mail. POC delivered them in person because, as the supervisor, POC was only pulling one person (them) away from their position. POC did not have to pull SROs from their assignment. If POC had it electronically, POC could stay in position, too.

31+ SROs (1 completed interview)

- Time to distribute the initial SRO invitation letter
 - 4 hours (distributed via e-mail and one-on-one meetings)
- There were two people on medical leave, one of whom ended up completing it upon return. The other individual did not complete it. All other selected SROs filled out the questionnaire, but no one took the place of the missing SRO.
- Time to distribute reminder postcard
 - 1 hour (distributed through Sergeants and follow-up e-mail)
- Time to distribute final reminder
 - 1 hour
- POC did not engage in additional follow-up.
- Recommendations for improvement
 - Provide the POC with more information—who is BJS? What is the objective of the survey?

2.2.4 Experience with paper and Web-based versions of the questionnaire

As seen in Exhibit 2-11, the majority of SRO questionnaire submissions (95%) were via Web (n = 350). The remaining SRO questionnaires were submitted via paper (5%, n = 18).

The Web-based version of the questionnaire allows for standard data entry from SROs. The Web-based questionnaire leads the respondent to relevant questions, meaning questions are skipped or shown as appropriate. The paper version of the questionnaire, however, relies on the respondent to decipher the skip patterns and recognize each question requiring a response.

For the SRO pretest, we saw several errors (see Exhibit 2-12) with the paper submissions (the SRO questionnaire is presented as Appendix B):

Exhibit 2-11. Distribution of SRO Responses by Mode

Exhibit 2-12. SRO Paper Questionnaire Submission Errors

Question	Error	No. of Respondents
10	Selected "No" for sub-item f and wrote in, "My school staff has."	1
11	Selected "None of the above" and wrote, "On light duty presently."	1
12	Marked three of the sub-items and "None of the above."	1
	"Not sure changes everyday."	1
14	Wrote "100%" for sub-item a, "70%" for sub-item b, "50%" for sub-item c, "50%" for sub-item d, and "0" for e.	1
	Wrote "0" in each sub-item and, "I've been injured for the past 30 days."	1
15	"FL 790.164" for "Other (please specify)" without selecting "Yes" or "No."	1
17 and 18	"No" to Question 17 and responded "Yes" to Question 18. Respondents should skip Question 18 if their response to Question 17 is "No."	2
19	Both "Middle school" and "High school."	1
20	More on this item than 40 hours (e.g., "40+"), so their responses could not be keyed given the validation on the Web (i.e., it only accepts a 2-digit number).	3
22	"24" which was considered out of range by the Web-version.	1

2.3 SRO Item-Level Measurements and Quality

2.3.1 Item response patterns

Similar to our analyses of measurement issues in the LEA questionnaire, we examined item nonresponse in the SRO questionnaire, specifically focusing on grid questions, straight-lining in grid questions, and errors of commission.

Question 14 was the only question that yielded relatively high percent missingness across its subparts (B = 9%, C = 15%, and D = 7%). Not surprisingly, subpart e (“Other, please specify”) was left blank by 74% of respondents. The item nonresponse rate for the rest of the questions was 2% or less, suggesting nonsystematic missingness.

We also examined the average amount of item missingness for grid questions with five or more subparts and the average standard deviation across respondents. Exhibit 2-13 shows that none of the grid questions were left blank. Question 8 had the lowest variability across responses among all respondents, suggesting that response options were highly correlated; thus, certain subparts could be collapsed.

Exhibit 2-13. Average Percent Item Missingness and Average Standard Deviation by Grid Question in the SRO Survey

8	0.0	0.20
9	0.0	0.33
10	0.0	0.34
15	0.0	0.39

Finally, we examined error of commission for the only question where skip logic was present (Question 17) and found no evidence of respondents ignoring the skip instructions.

2.3.2 Inconsistencies across items

There were no items in the SRO questionnaire that measured the same concept; however, we examined the extent to which respondents accurately filled out Question 14, where responses had to sum up to 100%. For complete Web submissions, 98% of the responses summed up to 100%; in contrast, for mail questionnaires, the rate was only 72%.

3. Recommendations for Main Data Collection

3.1 LEA Questionnaire Instrument

3.1.1 Drop questions about non-sworn officers

The section on non-sworn officers was irrelevant for majority of our respondents—86% of those who responded to Question 19b entered “0” non-sworn employees. Among all who responded to Question 19, 10% left it blank, presumably as it did not apply to them. Dropping the non-sworn section completely, or significantly reducing the number of questions, will help minimize the perceived burden when paper questionnaires are mailed to the agencies.

3.1.2 Collect rank on rostering form

As suggested in the cognitive interviews that informed the pretest version of the questionnaire, the roster asked respondents to provide a linkable identifier (e.g., initials, badge number, name) for each SRO, along with the SRO’s race, gender, and e-mail address. During the pretest, we used the linkable identifier to address each mailing. For direct contact, we addressed the mailings to “SRO <<Identifier>>.” All SROs in the direct contact group had to have, at a minimum, first initial and last name. We contacted three of the LEA POCs to clarify SRO names before sending these mailings. In full, these mailings were addressed as:

- SRO <<Identifier>>
- Agency Name
- Agency Address

For SROs that received their mailings through a single contact, we addressed their envelopes (which did not need to be USPS-ready, as they were sent within a larger mailer to the POC) using the linkable identifier. This identifier could be a full name, initials, badge number, or any combination thereof. In full, these envelopes were addressed as:

- <<Identifier>>
- C/O LEA POC
- Agency Name

We recommend adding rank for sampled SROs, especially if we were to mail directly to them, so that mailings can be more appropriately addressed.

3.1.3 Respond to new state-level legislation to require a SRO in every school (e.g., Florida, Maryland)

Given recent school shootings and states moving toward legislation that would require the presence of SROs in every school, we recommend adding a few questions to get insight into whether such mandates exist in the LEA's state, whether the agency is prepared to respond to it, and what types of resources will be required to do so.

3.1.4 Reduce the number of response options for Question 13

Our analyses of measurement issues revealed low variability in responses to the subparts of Question 13. This suggests that some of the subparts may be collapsed—for example, A, B and C; G and H.

3.2 SRO Questionnaire Instrument

3.2.1 Add a screening question to ensure the sampled SRO is still serving in an SRO capacity

Given the time lag between receiving the completed roster and drawing the sample, we need to make sure that the selected SRO still serves in such a capacity. During the field test, we discovered that some SROs had either left the LEA or transferred out of the role of SRO. Alternatively, we could add a response option to Question 3.

3.2.2 Consider adding demographic questions (e.g., race and gender)

The current SRO questionnaire does not collect any demographic information on respondents. We believe it will be useful to be able to match back to the roster demographic data provided by the LEA as an additional verification that we have the correct respondent completing the questionnaire.

3.2.3 Reduce the number of response options to Question 8

Our analyses showed low variability in responses to the subparts of Question 8, suggesting high correlation among them. We recommend collapsing some of the question subparts—for example, B and C; D and E.

3.2.4 Consider removing Question 25

All but one respondent provided their primary school name. We believe the possibility of linking school data from other surveys to the data provided in the SRO questionnaire offers a unique opportunity for further research. The concern that SROs may not stay assigned to the same school long might be alleviated by adding a question in the Primary Assigned School section asking how long they have been working in that school. This would serve as a proxy measure for certainty when we link to supplemental data.

3.3 System Recommendations

3.3.1 Continuation of the pretest systems and programming environments

After the successful SLEPS pretest data collection of both LEA and SRO surveys, we propose to apply the same systems and design principles for the main study, supplementing improvements to system configuration. This will enhance existing efficiencies and improve systems integration throughout the study.

For the main study data collection, and as was done for the pretest, RTI developers will program Web instrumentation using Voxco Online, our preferred commercial off-the-shelf survey software. The LEA and SRO questionnaires are self-administered via Web and will be accessible through the existing Law Enforcement Core Statistics (LECS) portal. The Voxco survey system offers a very practical user interface for respondents, plus gives project managers quick access and insight into questionnaire data. Daily data exports of both LEA and SRO questionnaires be available to the analysis team for reporting and analytics. To enhance the nonresponse follow-up activities, updates to the Web site will be made to improve the collection of contact information from questionnaire respondents before launching the questionnaire. This will help improve response rates for breakoffs and respondents unable to complete their questionnaires in the allotted time.

We will continue to use the Nirvana Case Management System, which uses a standardized common database to allow for management of case flow and real-time reporting of case disposition. Nirvana implements various standardized processes to track each case status in all modes of data collection, such as Web and Paper. Enhancements to Nirvana will be made to more tightly integrate questionnaire data coming from Voxco with the other modes of data collection, such as TeleForm, to refine reporting capabilities and improve nonresponse follow-up procedures. In addition, the SLEPS case management system will include functionality to allow more dynamic management of nonresponse cases and any data obtained as a result of those calls.

3.3.2 Development of a distinct data entry platform for main study questionnaire entry

For the SLEPS main study data collection, we propose TeleForm, an optical character recognition (OCR) data collection suite. OCR is the electronic conversion of scanned images of handwritten, typewritten, or printed text into machine-encoded text. RTI programmers will use TeleForm Form designer to program the questionnaires, creating scannable forms to be converted into digital data.

This OCR approach increases cost-effectiveness and improves data quality by allowing for data capture through optical scanning, reducing errors associated with manual data entry processes.

As an additional quality assurance measure, all text and constrained print fields will be double-keyed by operators. Any blank choice fields will be checked in case the respondent did not fill in the bubble adequately and TeleForm did not “see” the mark. These steps ensure the best quality data from the scanned forms.

The optical scanning process will also index and archive the scanned instrument images and made available for retrieval by project staff for data quality follow-up, if needed.

All personnel involved in scanning are trained and then observed across the first few forms entered to ensure that the prescribed procedures are followed. Operators will be monitored, with quality being checked daily as forms are scanned. As forms are completed, those flagged with an issue during scanning are resolved and once the scanning and verification processes are complete, final datasets are created and imported into the project's data files.

3.4 Sampling Approach

3.4.1 LEA

SLEPS presents an interesting sampling challenge in that estimates from both the first-stage (LEAs) and second-stage (SROs) of the sample design are of more or less equal importance. This means that the most common sampling approach for two-stage establishment surveys—probability proportional to size sampling—will not work well for SLEPS. This is because the variability of the sampling weights in such a design is considered only overall (the products of first- and second-stage weights are monitored and controlled, whereas marginal weights can vary significantly).

For SLEPS a careful design process that monitors and controls marginal weighting effects for LEAs along with two-stage weight products for SROs will be essential. Given BJS estimation priorities of producing national estimates by agency size, several stratification and sample allocation options should be considered. Variation in sampling strata will be driven by the number of strata as well as the SRO counts used as cut-points delineating strata. Allocation of agencies to strata will be driven by budgetary constraints while balancing the analytic power at the individual stratum and overall national level.

3.4.2 SRO

Although the SLEPS pretest showed that SRO race and gender can be collected on SRO rosters with very low rates of missingness (4.1% and 2.4%, respectively), BJS analytic priorities do not require oversampling for any particular group. The choice of SRO design will likely have a straight-forward focus on overall yield and control of unequal weighting effects for national estimation. That said, having SRO characteristics on collected rosters will allow for robust post-collection nonresponse adjustments for the mitigation of potential nonresponse bias. In the main study sample design analysis, various overall SRO sample sizes and allocations will be analyzed with an eye to their impact on analytic power and project budget.

3.5 Timeline/Communication

Based upon the pretest experience, there are 3 primary recommendations concerning the SLEPS main study timeline and data collection.

- As is often the case for pretests, the SLEPS LEA and SRO pretest survey time periods were compressed relative to what may be standard data collection periods of this nature. As has previously been discussed with BJS, we recommend expanding the LEA survey data collection period to at least 3 months and the SRO survey data collection period to at least 4 months.
- An additional modification to consider is minimizing the time period between roster creation and submission and the ensuing SRO sample selection. Doing so may be accomplished by reducing the time between the LEA and SRO surveys. One anticipated benefit to this approach is minimizing the amount of SRO job transitions (e.g., relocation, change of primary assignment) that are observed upon launching the SRO survey.
- As for the timing of the main study data collection, we recommend aligning the launch of the main data collection with the start of the traditional school calendar (i.e., late August or early September). Doing so will help ensure a more accurate representation of the count of SROs among sampled LEAs.

3.6 Questionnaire Administration

3.6.1 Web-based or paper forms

Because a quarter of LEA questionnaires were submitted via paper, we should keep the paper forms reminder mailing in the protocol for the LEA questionnaire. Even though only 5% of the SRO questionnaires were returned via paper, the SRO reminder mailing that included the paper form increased the overall response rate by 12.7% as respondents were able to see the types of questions asked and estimate burden associated with the questionnaire request. Thus, cost-savings from not including the paper form in that mailing are likely to be surpassed by costs related to nonresponse follow-up.

3.6.2 Single POC for SRO survey distribution instructions

During the pretest, 83.4% of SROs that were mailed through a single POC completed the SRO questionnaire, whereas only 62.8% of direct-mail SROs completed the questionnaire. For the main study, we could remove the option for direct mail and distribute all SRO materials through a single POC.¹²

¹² This decision should consider the benefits and detriments of each approach. If, for example, the LEA would choose direct contact if given the choice, does that perhaps mean that SRO nonresponse might be more likely for that agency if the choice is not given? That is, by indicating a preference for direct contact, is the LEA POC telegraphing a lack of willingness to assist with the SRO distribution and

3.6.3 One-page FAQ sheet about the SRO survey for the POCs

We should consider preparing the POCs for administering the SRO survey. A one-page FAQ sheet detailing information about the study (e.g., Who is BJS? Who is RTI? What is SLEPS?) would help POCs respond to any questions the SROs may bring to them. We should also make the SLEPS hotline and e-mail address more obvious on SRO and POC communications so that SROs can direct questions directly to the project team instead of burdening the POC.

3.6.4 Expectations for burden and distribution method

The burden placed on the POC depends on the number of SROs that are sampled from their LEA. Some POCs reported driving to each school to distribute the materials; others placed all materials in mailboxes. The POC letter said, "Please distribute these envelopes as soon as possible." We could provide additional details about how the POC can distribute (e.g., through mailbox, scheduled meetings).

During the time tracking interviews, many POCs pointed to digital distribution. We should consider changing one of our protocol steps to e-mail contact in place of mailed contact; however, we should still incorporate mailings.

3.6.5 Procedures if a sampled officer is no longer with the agency

Additional modifications to the POC letter should include details on how to handle mailings for SROs that are no longer with the agency, no longer serving as an SRO, or out on leave.

- If an SRO is no longer with the agency, the POC should notify the project team and not distribute the mailing. This SRO will be treated as ineligible.
- If an SRO is still with the agency, but no longer serving as an SRO, the POC should notify the project team and not distribute the mailing. This SRO will be treated as ineligible.
- If an SRO is out on leave, the POC should distribute the mailing as soon as the SRO returns. This SRO will be treated as a nonresponder if they do not return during the SRO survey period.

3.7 Recommended Timeline for Full Data Collection

Based on the pretest experience, the above timeline recommendations, and consultation with BJS, we recommend the following timeline for implementing the full data collection.

response process? A second consideration is that nonresponse could increase at the SRO level when/if an LEA's POC later forsakes distributing questionnaires or reminding SROs. Finally, even though the SRO response may increase among centralized POCs, the response could become concentrated among fewer agencies, thus increasing the chance of bias.

Dear «CONTACT_TITLE» «CONTACT_NAME»,

I am pleased to announce that the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) has begun preparations for the 2019 Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). SLEPS is a new data collection effort regarding the role and presence of law enforcement officers in schools. While many law enforcement personnel across the nation work closely with schools to ensure that each is a safe place for learning, and free from threats of crime and violence, little is known about the scope and duties of the law enforcement personnel who actually work in the schools.

In the next few weeks, BJS will invite <<AGENCY_NAME>> to participate in the 2019 SLEPS; specifically, your agency will be asked to complete an online survey focusing on the policies, responsibilities, recruitment, and training as they pertain to your officers working in K-12 public schools. Your agency will also be asked to provide a roster of your officers working in schools, which will then be used to select officers to receive an invitation to complete an officer-level questionnaire. Officers will be asked about their length of law enforcement experience, training, and activities conducted while working in schools.

I appreciate that you receive a number of data requests throughout the year and I thank you for your support for SLEPS. If you have questions about SLEPS, please contact Dustin Williams at RTI by phone at (866) 309-4564 or e-mail at sleps@rti.org. If you have any general comments about this data collection, please contact the Bureau of Justice Statistics Program Manager Elizabeth Davis at (202) 305-2667 or Elizabeth.Davis@usdoj.gov.

Dear «CONTACT_TITLE» «CONTACT_NAME»,

The U.S. Department of Justice's Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) is working with RTI International (RTI), a not-for-profit research organization, on an effort regarding the role and presence of law enforcement officers in schools. While many law enforcement personnel across the nation work closely with schools to ensure that each is a safe place for learning, and free from threats of crime and violence, little is known about the scope and duties of the law enforcement personnel who actually work in the schools.

Your law enforcement agency has been selected to participate in the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). Ultimately, the results of SLEPS will generate current statistics about the characteristics, policies, and responsibilities of law enforcement programs in schools. There are two phases to the SLEPS. The first phase is an agency-level questionnaire, which we are contacting you about now, and includes a request for you to provide a roster of your officers working in schools. The roster will be used to select officers for the second phase, which is an officer-level questionnaire.

This effort has also garnered the support of the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF; see letter of support). You may participate in the first phase of the data collection in one of two ways:

1. Complete the questionnaire online at <https://bjslecs.org/sleps2019> using the following credentials:
 USERNAME: «Username» PASSWORD: «Password»
2. Complete a paper version of the questionnaire, which can be requested using the RTI contact information below.

Please complete this questionnaire by Month XX, 20XX.

Your participation in both phases is critical to SLEPS and will represent many other agencies like yours. Once we complete the first phase, we will contact you regarding the second phase. You may preview the officer level questionnaire used in the second phase here: <https://bjslecs.org/sleps2019/SRO-Preview.pdf>. If you have questions about SLEPS, please contact Dustin Williams at RTI by phone at (866) 309-4564 or e-mail at sleps@rti.org. If you have any general comments about this data collection, please contact me at (202) 305-2667 or Elizabeth.Davis@usdoj.gov.

BJIS is authorized to conduct this data collection under 34 U.S.C § 10132. BJIS and its data collection agents will only use the information you provide for statistical or research purposes pursuant to 34 U.S.C. § 10134, and will not disclose your information in identifiable form to anyone outside of the BJIS project team without your consent. All personally identifiable information (PII) collected under BJIS's authority is protected under the confidentiality provisions of 34 U.S.C. § 10231. Any person who violates these provisions may be punished by a fine of up to $10,000 in addition to any other penalties imposed by law. Further, per the Cybersecurity Enhancement Act of 2015 (6 U.S.C. § 151), federal information systems are protected from malicious activities through cybersecurity screening of transmitted data. For more information on how BJIS and its data collection agents will use and protect your information, go to https://www.bjis.gov/content/pub/pdf/BJIS_Data_Protection_Guidelines.pdf.

POLICE EXECUTIVE
RESEARCH FORUM

Dear «CONTACT_TITLE» «CONTACT_NAME»,

I am writing in support of the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS), funded by the U.S. Department of Justice's Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS). The Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) is excited to work with BJS and RTI International (RTI) in this important effort to develop national estimates regarding school safety programs and the activities of school-based officers.

The SLEPS effort your agency was invited to participate in is important in generating nationally-representative statistics related to law enforcement personnel in schools. PERF fully supports BJS and RTI's work in this area, because this type of national data collection has not been conducted for almost a decade.

After results from SLEPS are analyzed, findings can be used to develop federal funding strategies and other strategies to ensure that officers in schools are deployed and serve in a manner that promotes school safety, prevents violence and other problem behaviors, supports healthy behaviors among students, and ensures effective response when violence occurs.

Our team thanks you in advance for participation in SLEPS. If you have any questions about this project, please feel free to contact Dr. Sean Goodison at PERF (sgoodison@policeforum.org) or Dr. Duren Banks at RTI (durenbanks@rti.org).

Sincerely,

Chuck Wexler

Dear «POC_TITLE» «POC_LN»,

Thank you for your participation in the first phase of the Bureau of Justice Statistics' (BJS) Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). Using the roster you provided with the Law Enforcement Agency (LEA) Survey, we selected «SRO_SS» School Resource Officers (SROs) from your agency to participate in the second phase of SLEPS, the SRO Survey.

Included in this mailing are envelopes for each selected SRO, labeled with the information you provided on the LEA Survey. Each SRO will receive (1) a letter inviting the SRO to participate in the survey and (2) the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) letter of support.

Please distribute these envelopes as soon as possible. Each letter includes a person-specific password to complete the SRO survey so it is important to distribute these envelopes based on the information you provided on the LEA Survey. Each letter contains your contact information should the SRO have questions about their authority to participate in the survey; they are instructed to contact Dustin Williams at RTI International should they have any questions about the survey.

The participation of the SROs from your agency is critical to SLEPS and will represent many other SROs like them. We look forward to receiving their responses by Month XX, 20XX. If you have questions about SLEPS, please contact Dustin Williams at RTI by phone at (866) 309-4564 or e-mail at sleps@rti.org. If you have any general comments about this data collection, please contact me at (202) 305-2667 or Elizabeth.Davis@usdoj.gov.

Thank you in advance for coordinating the participation of your agency's SROs.

Sincerely,

Dear «AGENCY_NAME» SRO,

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) is working with RTI International (RTI), a not-for-profit research organization, on an effort regarding the role and presence of law enforcement officers in schools. While many law enforcement personnel across the nation work closely with schools to ensure that each is a safe place for learning and free from threats of crime and violence, little is known about the scope and duties of the law enforcement personnel who actually work in the schools.

This effort is the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). Ultimately, the results of the national data collection will generate current statistics about school resource officers, including their training, experience, and activities.

This request has been approved by «AGENCY_NAME»; this survey is also supported by the National Association of School Resource Officers (NASRO; see attached letter of support).

You have been selected to participate in SLEPS. Please use the following information to log onto the SLEPS website (<https://bjslecs.org/sleps2019>) to complete the questionnaire.

USERNAME: «SRO_UserName» PASSWORD: «SRO_Password»

Please complete this questionnaire by Month XX, 20XX.

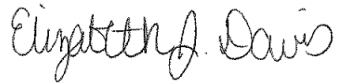

Your participation is critical to SLEPS and will represent many other School Resource Officers like you. If you have questions, please contact Dustin Williams at RTI by phone at (866) 309-4564 or email at sleps@rti.org. If you have any general comments about this data collection, please contact me at (202) 305-2667 or Elizabeth.Davis@usdoj.gov.

BJS is authorized to conduct this data collection under 34 U.S.C § 10132. BJS and its data collection agents will only use the information you provide for statistical or research purposes pursuant to 34 U.S.C. § 10134, and will not disclose your information in identifiable form to anyone outside of the BJS project team without your consent. All personally identifiable information (PII) collected under BJS's authority is protected under the confidentiality provisions of 34 U.S.C. § 10231. Any person who violates these provisions may be punished by a fine of up to $10,000 in addition to any other penalties imposed by law. Further, per the Cybersecurity Enhancement Act of 2015 (6 U.S.C. § 151), federal information systems are protected from malicious activities through cybersecurity screening of transmitted data. Dear [SRO],

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), working with RTI International (RTI), is fielding the 2019 Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS) and you have been selected to participate. The National Association of School Resource Officers (NASRO) is hoping that you will participate in this important project.

The information that will be produced by this survey will be very valuable to law enforcement agencies such as yours and school safety overall. From the survey results, you will be able to learn about characteristics and activities of other school resource officers (SROs) nationwide. For instance, you will learn about training, regular activities performed in schools, career experience, and school assignment characteristics. You will be able to assess your own duties and experience in relation to the national picture.

I write to strongly encourage you to complete the survey. BJS is committed to protecting the privacy of the information you provide. By law, BJS can only use your responses to produce statistics. No information about you or your agency will be identified from these statistics. The receipt of information from all selected SROs will greatly enhance the data produced by this project. We know that you have many responsibilities and limited time, but we hope that you will provide the requested information and contribute to this effort. Your participation will help ensure that the 2019 SLEPS is a success and that the results can be used with confidence.

Thank you in advance for your participation in this important endeavor.

Sincerely,

Dear «TITLE» «NAME»:

Thank you for your participation in the first phase of the U.S. Department of Justice's Bureau of Justice Statistics' Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). Two weeks ago, we mailed a packet of surveys to be completed by individual officers from your agency who work in schools because your agency was selected to participate in a study about the role of law enforcement personnel in schools.

As of <<email date>>, our records show that not all of the surveys have been submitted. The survey takes approximately 30 minutes to complete and is important because your agency's officers represents others like them nationwide. We ask that you reach out to the officers listed below to remind them to submit this survey by <<due date>>. We thank you and these officers for their assistance.

[List nonresponding officers]

Please note that these officers can also submit the survey online by visiting <https://bjslecs.org/sleps2019> and using the login information provided in the letter we previously sent. If an officer needs their login information, please advise them to contact RTI (contact information below) and reference the name, badge, number, or other identifier that was provided on the officer roster form when your agency responded to the SLEPS survey.

Thank you for your help with this important research. If you have any questions, please contact Dustin Williams at RTI by phone at (866) 309-4564, or e-mail at sleps@rti.org. If you have any general comments about this data collection, please contact me at (202) 305-2667 or Elizabeth.Davis@usdoj.gov.

Dear «POC_TITLE» «POC_LN»,

In the past month, you distributed survey invitations and survey reminders to the selected SROs for the second phase of the Bureau of Justice Statistics' (BJS) Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS). We are following up once again to encourage your participation. Included in this mailing are letters for each selected SRO who has not yet completed their SRO survey, labeled with the information you provided on the LEA Survey. Each of these SROs will receive a packet with (1) a letter reminding them to complete the SRO survey, (2) a paper version of the SRO survey, and (3) a business reply envelope to return their completed survey.

Please distribute these envelopes as soon as possible. Each letter includes a person-specific password to complete the SRO survey so it is important to distribute these envelopes based on the information you provided on the LEA Survey. Each letter contains your contact information should the SRO have questions about their authority to participate in the survey; they are instructed to contact Dustin Williams at RTI International should they have any questions about the survey. You may have already contacted RTI or BJS if some of the sampled SROs are out on leave. Please distribute the enclosed materials if and when those officers return from leave. If the officers will not return from leave before the survey closes, please let us know and you may discard the materials for those officers.

The participation of the SROs from your agency is critical to SLEPS and will represent many other SROs like them. If you have questions, please contact Dustin Williams at RTI by phone at (866) 309-4564 or email at sleps@rti.org. Hello. My name is [First name Last name] and I am calling on behalf of the Bureau of Justice Statistics regarding the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools. May I speak to [LEA POC]?

About a month and a half ago, we sent you a mailing introducing the second phase of the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools and survey packets for selected SROs.

Potential script depending on situation

The surveys for the second phase are due on [date] and we haven't received the questionnaire for [insert SRO names] yet. I'm calling to see if you will be able to follow up with these officers and encourage them to complete their questionnaire(s) and if there is anything I can do to assist you in encouraging their participation.

Outcomes of phone call

Depending on the Agency Head's response, you may do one of the following:

- Address concerns
- Answer questions
- Employ refusal conversion. Since we are contacting nonresponders, some agencies will decline to follow up with nonresponding officer. We want to convert refusals and convince POCs to encourage officer participation in some manner, even if they cannot or will not complete the full questionnaire. Here are some talking points to convert telephone refusals; text should be modified to fit the situation.
 - We can collect the information via phone or send a form via mail, e-mail or fax.
 - Offer to send the study information again
 - Ask how they would prefer to receive the information (e-mail, mail fax)
 - Confirm contact information
 - Offer your direct call-back number should they have further questions

1. INTRODUCTION

Through its National Crime Victimization Survey and the School Crime Supplement, the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) provides statistics on crime incidents occurring at schools. However, there is currently no national-level data on the number, roles and functions of police officers assigned to schools. The Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS) will fill this gap by identifying a national roster of active law enforcement agencies operating in K-12 public schools, and generating detailed and accurate statistics on the scope, size, characteristics and functions of law enforcement personnel in schools.

The SLEPS data collection will include two surveys, one conducted with law enforcement agencies that employ one or more full-time, sworn officers who are assigned primarily to work in schools (school resource officers). The LEA survey will estimate the number of officers assigned to work in schools, policies for officer assignments and expectations for their work in schools, and practices to supervise school resource officers. The LEA survey will also request a roster of school resource officers to support sampling for the officer-level survey. A second survey, conducted with school resource officers, will measure officer characteristics, training, and practices performed as part of their assignments in schools.

RTI and its partner the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF), conducted a literature review and expert panel meeting in 2014 to develop initial drafts of the LEA- and SRO-level questionnaires. Those questionnaires were then refined in collaboration with BJS, the National Institute of Justice, and other project stakeholders. The draft questionnaires were then subject to cognitive interviews with a sample of LEA and SRO respondents.

This report details the qualitative research conducted by RTI International to investigate how to best ask questions related to Law Enforcement Agencies' (LEA) characteristics, School Resource Officer (SRO) programs, program-related policies, SRO recruitment and training, SRO characteristics and activities. We describe the details of conducting cognitive interviews with SROs and LEAs, providing the background, methodology, findings and recommendations.

2. METHODOLOGY

The goal of the two rounds of cognitive testing (one with LEAs, and one with SROs) was to evaluate the draft questionnaires and test if the questions function as intended. To maximize the spread of agency characteristics, LEAs were identified based on several criteria. The initial list consisted of agencies PERF identified as leaders in SRO programs based on participation in previous research. Once these agencies were identified, additional LEAs were randomly selected to provide equal representation across four strata (agency size, agency type, recency of SRO program prior, and urbanicity of jurisdiction served). A total of 97 agencies were contacted and 22 agreed to participate, resulting in 20 LEA interviews. Similarly, a total of 81 SROs were contacted and 25 agreed to participate, resulting in 18 SRO interviews. Table 1 presents a summary of LEA and SRO cognitive interview participants' characteristics.

Table 1. Type of Cognitive Interviews by Recruitment Stratification

Stratification Variables		Cognitive interview type
		LEA	SRO
	Total	20	18

2.1 Overview

Cognitive interviewing for the LEA and SRO instruments took place in parallel in the month of November and the first week of December, 2016. The interviews took about 60 minutes apiece and were conducted over the phone. Respondents were sent the questionnaires in advance of the interview via e-mail. The actual interview was preceded by an informed consent procedure.

Respondents in the cognitive interviews were asked to complete the respective questionnaire during the call and think aloud in order to demonstrate how they understood a specific question, or how they came up with a particular response.

During this process, interviewers guided the discussion to gain deeper understanding of the thought process and potential problems with the questions.

Cognitive interview protocol guides were used for each type of interview. The guides, which were approved by BJS, were developed with the goal of assessing respondents' understanding of the LEA and SRO questions, gauging respondent perceptions on sensitivity of any questions, willingness to respond, and overall burden involved in answering questions. Upon completion of the questionnaires, respondents were also debriefed to gather their perceptions on the overall experience, their understanding of the purpose of the questions, the likelihood of participation in the eventual SLEPS main study, and final comments. Interviewers used scripted probes, but were given the flexibility to probe spontaneously when needed to assess understanding and perception of the questions, as well as anything that seemed unclear, unusual, or generally worth expanding on. The scripted probes included comprehension and recall probes, while spontaneous probes were used based on respondents' answers. The cognitive interview protocol guides can be viewed in Appendices A and B.

2.2 Interview Procedures

Sampled agencies were contacted via e-mail (usually sent to the Chief of Police), or telephone (if an e-mail was not available). Two days later, a reminder e-mail was sent, followed by another e-mail a week later. Once respondents were successfully recruited for the most convenient date and time, recruiters sent out messages to designated interviewers. Respondents were told that the interview would take an hour on average and be conducted over the phone. A day before the interview, the assigned interviewer contacted the recruited respondent via e-mail to remind him/her of the upcoming interview, confirm the telephone number, and send the respective questionnaire and informed consent.

Once an interview was completed, a summary of the findings for each question was entered into an Excel file for each interview type. These files did not contain any personally identifiable information (PII).

2.3 Cognitive Interview Findings and Recommendations

2.3.1 LEA Questionnaire

The LEA questionnaire was completed by 20 respondents – 11 came from local police departments, 8 were from Sheriff's offices, and 1 was from a school-based LEA. In 13 of those agencies the SRO program was established prior to 2008. Seventeen agencies were considered to have jurisdiction in an urban area and 16 agencies employed more than 100 officers. This section outlines each question of the LEA questionnaire, followed by findings and recommended changes. Overall, complex tables included in the questionnaire were not utilized as intended. Furthermore, respondents were confused how to answer questions containing the phrase “according to agency policies or agreements with schools” as most of the activities of interest were not explicitly covered in policies and agreements. We also found that question-specific instructions tended to be overlooked as they merged with the question text, often leading to multiple responses when only one was required.

Instructions and Burden Statement

Overall, respondents did not have any issues with the instructions and burden statement. One respondent noted that some school districts have their worn officers, who are not affiliated with an LEA and may be governed by the state. Such officers would be out of scope for this study.

Law Enforcement Agency Characteristics

1. Which best describes your agency? Please mark all that apply.

- Police department, municipal
- Police department, county
- State/highway department
- Sheriff’s Office
- Tribal
- Independent School District
- Other (please specify): _____

Findings: The response categories seem mutually exclusive, with the exception of Sheriff’s Office and Police department. All but one respondent selected only one category. The participant who selected more than one category said they were a Sheriff’s office contracted by a school (selected “Other” in addition to Sheriff’s office).

Recommendations: Remove instructions. Situations as described above would fall under “Other”.

2. As of August 31, 2016, how many sworn full-time officers with general arrest powers does your agency employ? _____

Findings: More than half of the respondents noted they would need to contact Human Resources or Headquarters to get the exact number. Most were able to provide a ballpark figure and noted that it was a moving number. Several respondents commented on the term “general arrest powers”, suggesting that “general” was not necessary.

Recommendations: Reword question to read: As of August 31, 2016, what is the number of sworn full-time officers with general arrest powers employed by your agency?

3. As of August 31, 2016, how many of the following full-time and/or part-time officers are primarily assigned to any public K-12 schools?	Number of full-time officers	Number of part-time officers
a. Sworn officers with general arrest powers	_____	_____
b. Sworn officers with limited arrest powers.....	_____	_____
c. Nonsworn officers.....	_____	_____
d. Total	_____	_____

IF 0 FULL-TIME OFFICERS—GO TO END OF SURVEY

Findings: Similarly to the previous question, at least two respondents commented that the phrase “limited arrest powers” was unclear. The same respondents made a similar comment on “nonsworn officers”. None of the 20 respondents marked anything under response options b) or c). One respondent mentioned that they had social workers and program managers and was unclear where to place them. The reference period was considered arbitrary by some respondents.

Recommendations: Consider replacing “nonsworn officers” with “nonsworn personnel” to accommodate civilian personnel, such as social workers and program managers, if the goal of the question is to get the number of agency employees.

Reword response categories to read: Number of full-time officers/personnel and Number of part-time officers/personnel.

Remove option d) as it increases respondent burden and can be derived after data collection.

If a paper version of the survey is considered, make the instructions what to do if there are no full-time officers more prominent and how to return the survey.

4. Do any of these sworn officers with general arrest powers (number reported in item 3a) who are primarily assigned to public K-12 schools...	Yes	No	None employed
a. carry a firearm while working in schools?.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. wear a uniform while working in schools?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Several respondents missed “any” in the question and were unclear how to answer, saying that some (e.g., supervisors) may carry a firearm, but other may not.

Recommendations: Capitalize “any” to make it more prominent in the question. If a paper version is considered, add skip instruction to administer this question only to those who report officers with general arrest powers. If left as is, the question assumes that there are sworn officers with general arrest powers and the response option “None employed” is misleading - if selected, it will be unclear whether there are no officers with general arrest powers employed, or none of them carry firearms/wear uniforms. This option becomes unnecessary once the appropriate skip instructions are added after question 3a.

5. Do any of these sworn officers with limited arrest powers (number reported in item 3b) who are primarily assigned to public K-12 schools...	Yes	No	None employed
a. carry a firearm while working in schools?.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. wear a uniform while working in schools?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: This question was irrelevant for all respondents.

Recommendations: Similarly to question 4), capitalize “any” to make it more prominent in the question. If a paper version is considered, add skip instruction to administer this question only to those who report officers with limited arrest powers. If left as is, the question assumes that there are sworn officers with limited arrest powers and the response option “None employed” is misleading - if selected, it will be unclear whether there are no officers with limited arrest powers employed, or none of them carry firearms/wear uniforms. This option becomes unnecessary once the appropriate skip instructions are added after question 3a.

6. Do any of these nonsworn officers (number reported in item 3c) who are primarily assigned to public K-12 schools...

	Yes	No	None employed
a. wear a uniform while working in schools?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: This question was irrelevant for all respondents. One suggested adding instructions to only consider officers under the LEA’s direct supervision (rather than district officers).

Recommendations: Similarly to question 4), capitalize “any” to make it more prominent in the question. If a paper version is considered, add skip instruction to question 3a to administer this question only to those who report nonsworn officers. If left as is, the question assumes that there are nonsworn officers and the response option “None employed” is misleading - if selected, it will be unclear whether there are no nonsworn officers employed, or none of them carry firearms/wear uniforms. This option becomes unnecessary once the appropriate skip instructions are added after question 3a. Replace “officers” with “personnel” for consistency (if recommended change to question 3a is accepted).

7. Do any of the following officers receive specialized School Resource Officer (SRO) training?

	Yes	No	None employed
a. Sworn officers with general arrest powers.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Sworn officers with limited arrest powers	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Nonsworn officers.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: None of the respondents had any problems with this question.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

SRO Program Characteristics

8. Enter the number of SROs in your agency by race/Hispanic origin and sex, regardless of sworn status, arrest powers, and employment status:	Male	Female
a. White, not of Hispanic origin	_____	_____
b. Black or African American, not of Hispanic origin	_____	_____
c. Hispanic or Latino	_____	_____
d. American Indian or Alaska Native, not of Hispanic origin	_____	_____
e. Asian, not of Hispanic origin	_____	_____
f. Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander, not of Hispanic origin	_____	_____
g. Two or more races	_____	_____
h. Race/Hispanic origin not known	_____	_____
TOTAL SROs (SUM OF A–H)	_____	_____

Findings: This question was very challenging for respondents – several mentioned that the categories do not match the type of information collected (often limited to White vs. Non-white, or White, Black, and Other). In order to get details to match to the response categories, some respondents noted that they would have to go through County Records; others mentioned that it would be impossible to populate such a table, as employees were given the option to check “prefer not to say”. Several respondents commented on the burden related to completing this table for a large group of SROs.

Recommendations: Consider removing this question, given the same information is collected in the roster. Given the pushback from respondents, we expect this question to be skipped by the majority, potentially introducing item missingness to subsequent questions. If removing the question is not an acceptable option, consider placing it at the very end of the survey (if respondents refuse to provide roster information). Consider the following changes:

For each race/ethnicity category below, please enter the number of male and female SROs in your agency. Please do NOT consider sworn status, arrest powers, or employment status (full or part-time).

Cluster response options into two main categories and add subcategories for those, who would be able to populate them:

- a. White
- b. Non-white
 - i. Black or African American
 - ii. American Indian or Alaska Native
 - iii. Asian
 - iv. Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander
- c. More than one race

Ask Hispanicity in a preceding question, as recommended by the U.S. Census Bureau.

Remove "Total SROs (Sum of A-H)" as it increases respondent burden and can be derived post data collection.

9. In what year did your agency's SRO program start? _____

Findings: Most respondents did not have this information available, but knew how to get it. Only two mentioned that it would require some research, including calling the school district. Some respondents were unclear whether the predecessors of the formal SRO programs should be considered when answering this question.

Recommendations: Reword question to read: In what year did your agency's formal SRO program start?

10. What is the funding source for your SRO program? Please mark all that apply

- Federal grant
- State/Local grant
- Law enforcement agency
- School district
- Other—please specify: _____

Findings: Several respondents commented that it was hard to answer without a time frame, as funding varied over time.

Recommendations: Reword question to read: What is the current funding source for your SRO program?

Italicize instructions to separate them from the question stem.

Change the last response option to "Other (please specify)" for consistency with previous questions.

11. How many of the following types of schools are served by your SRO program? If none, please enter '0'

	Number
a. Elementary schools	_____
b. Middle/Junior high schools.....	_____
c. High schools	_____

Findings: Several respondents noted that they served K-8, or K-12 schools and we might need additional categories for such schools. Several respondents asked if this question referred to full time officers only. When probed how confident they were in their response, respondents from large LEAs reported they were not confident.

Recommendations: Include instructions for respondents who are in K-8, or K-12 schools to consider the highest grade their school offers when selecting a category. Italicize all instructions.

11a. Are any of the schools served by your SRO program...

	Yes	No	Don't know
a. Charter schools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Alternative schools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: There was a confusion what was meant by "alternative schools". Interpretations varies from school for gifted children, to schools for disruptive students. At least two respondents did not consider charter and private schools when responding to the previous question.

Recommendations: Restructure questions 11-12 to ask about number of private vs. public schools that SRO program serves, followed by a division across grade levels:

How many of the following types of schools are served by your SRO program (either full, or part time)? If none, please enter '0'. If schools do not fall immediately into the categories below, please consider the highest grade offered.

Number

a. Public schools

- Elementary schools
- Middle/Junior high schools
- High schools

b. Private schools

- Elementary schools
- Middle/Junior high schools
- High schools

12. Does your SRO program serve private schools?

- Yes
- No

Findings: Respondents did not consider private schools when responding to question 11.

Recommendations: See recommended restructuring under question 11a.

13. In general, do officers in your agency perform SRO functions as a continuous assignment or do they rotate to other assignments at times?

- Continuous —————> assignments GO TO QUESTION 14
- Rotate to other assignments at times

Findings: Respondents were not unified in their interpretation of “continuous” and “rotate”. Some interpreted continuous to mean “during the school year”, while others interpreted it to mean “full-time”. Similarly, some respondents questioned whether rotation referred to a grant cycle. Several respondents raised the issue that they would not know how to answer this question if both rotation and continuous assignments were practices at their agencies.

Recommendations: Reword the question to read: Overall, do majority of your officers perform SRO functions as a permanent assignment, or do they rotate to other assignments?

- 13a. [IF QUESTION 13 RESPONSE IS ROTATE] How often do these rotations occur?
Please mark only one

- Only during summer when school is not in session.
- Every year
- Every few years
- Rotations occur on an individual basis with each SRO
- Other—please specify: _____

Findings: At least two respondents noted that they could not check only one response option. Some respondents mentioned alternative response options such as grant cycles, semesters, and quarters.

Recommendations: Reconsider the analytic goal of the question. Reword question to read: What is the most common rotation cycle related to SRO assignments in your agency?

Remove instructions in parenthesis and use arrows to visually direct respondents to this question if a paper version of the questionnaire is considered.

SRO Policies and Responsibilities

14. What form of agreement is in place between your agency's SRO program and the school(s)/school districts? Please mark all that apply.

- Memorandum of understanding (MOU)
- Contractual agreement, such as through a grant or other basis
- Legislation
- Verbal agreement
- Other—please specify: _____
- There is no formal agreement

Findings: There were no problems with this question. One respondent suggested adding "School board policy rules and procedures" to the response options.

Recommendations: Move the last response option (There is no formal agreement) to the top of the list (as the question assumes there are agreements in place and respondents need to be given the option to easily opt out).

Italicize instructions.

Reformat "Other- please specify)" to match previous questions.

15. Please consider the policies guiding your SRO program when completing the following questions. Select the most appropriate category below, when answering questions about your program’s characteristics.

Please mark only one for each row. If there is an MOU in place between your agency and the school district, please provide a copy.

SRO program characteristic	Addressed within a formal contract or MOU between your agency and the school district	No formal contract but decided with input from the school district	Addressed solely through internal law enforcement agency policy with no input from the school district
a. The number of officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. The schedule (e.g., before the school day begins, the full school day, etc.) that officers in your SRO program will spend at school	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. The role of officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. The expectations regarding citations and referrals by officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. The primary areas of focus (e.g., education, mentoring, gangs, drugs, etc.) by officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Expectations regarding collaboration with school administration and teachers by officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Expectations for working with students and parents by officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Procedures for resolving disagreements between school administrators and officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: This question was particularly burdensome in terms of recall. Most respondents were able to provide responses, but noted they were estimating and would need to read over the specific MOUs to make sure they answered correctly. The request to provide copies of the MOUs met mixed reactions – for states where MOUs were public record, such a request would not present a problem; however, respondents from states where MOUs were not public records noted that they would need to contact city attorneys, or their legal departments, and this effort would be extremely burdensome when different MOUs were signed with different schools/school districts. Several respondent noted that 15g was asking two questions in one – expectations for working with students might be covered by an MOU, but not for working with parents. When probed whether there were missing categories, respondents noted that “federal grant” was a missing response option.

Recommendations: The question is missing an actual question. Consider rewording:

For each of the following SRO program characteristics, please select whether it is guided through a formal contract or MOU with the school district, input from the school district without a formal contract, internal policy, or mandated by a government agency. Please select only one response for each SRO program characteristic.

SRO program characteristic	Formal contract or MOU with the school district	Input from the school district without formal contract	LEA’s internal policy without input from the school district	Government agency mandate
a.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Remove request to provide MOUs copies from the instructions – this can be extremely burdensome when the agency serves more than one school districts.

Remove “parents” from 15g (and add as a separate option if of analytic interest).

16. Indicate whether each law enforcement activity is performed by any of your agency’s SROs, as defined by agency policies or agreements with their assigned schools/school districts.

Please mark all that apply.

Law enforcement activity	Type of SRO Performing Each Activity
	Sworn officers with general arrest powers	Sworn officers with limited arrest powers	Nonsworn officers
a. Patrolling school facilities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Issuing citations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Responding to calls for service on the school campus	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Emergency management/crisis preparedness planning	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Security audits/assessments of school campuses	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Making arrests	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Responding to incidents in the classroom	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: All respondents used only the first response option (sworn officers with general arrest powers) when responding to this question. Several noted that 16g was vague and needed to be clarified whether it referred to a disciplinary or law enforcement action. Several respondents commented that they needed a “not applicable” option, suggesting that it was not evident how to fill out the table.

Recommendations: Consider simplifying the question to ask about types of activities performed by SROs, regardless of sworn status. Consider combining questions 16, 17 and 18 into a large table with three main headings (law enforcement activities, mentoring activities, and teaching activities). Depending on the analytic goal of the question, consider removing “as defined by agency policies or agreements” as this expression was confusing for respondents across the three questions (16-18) and majority stated that their SROs performed most of the listed activities, but they were not necessarily defined by policies or agreements. Consider the following restructure:

Which of the following activities are performed by any of your agency’s SROs while on duty?

Law enforcement activities

- a. Patrolling school facilities
- b.

Mentoring activities

- h. Truancy intervention
- i.

Teaching activities

- m. Teaching students about drugs, legal issues...
- n.

17. Indicate whether each mentoring activity is performed by any of your agency’s SROs, as defined by agency policies or agreements with their assigned schools/school districts. Please mark all that apply.

Mentoring activity	Type of SRO Performing Each Activity
	Sworn officers with general arrest powers	Sworn officers with limited arrest powers	Nonsworn officers
a. Truancy intervention	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Supervising/coordinating non-athletic extra-curricular activities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Field trip chaperone	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Coaching athletic programs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Advising school staff, students, or families (one-on-one, in a group, etc.)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Similarly to question 16, all respondents used only the first response option (sworn officers with general arrest powers) when responding to this question. Several commented that they needed a “not applicable” option, suggesting that it was not evident how to fill out the table. Many respondents repeated “as defined by agency policies or agreements with their assigned schools” and wondered how to respond if the activities were preformed, but not addressed in a policy. Several respondents noted that 17a was handled by the school districts and occasionally SROs might accompany truancy officers. Respondents felt that 17b was unclear and suggested including examples. At least three respondents commented that 17d may happen in SRO’s free time, pointing out the need to specify whether we were interested in “on duty” activities only. Several respondents noted that 17e was handled by the school district PD and felt that most of the activities listed in this question did not pertain to SROs.

Recommendations: Consider simplifying the question combining questions 16, 17 and 18 (see suggested wording under the recommendations for question 16).

Consider removing 17a, c, and e as they were identified as activities not performed by SROs.

18. Indicate whether each teaching activity is performed by any of your agency’s SROs, as defined by agency policies or agreements with their assigned schools/school districts. Please mark all that apply.

Teaching activity	Type of SRO Performing Each Activity
	Sworn officers with general arrest powers	Sworn officers with limited arrest powers	Nonsworn officers
a. Teaching students about drugs, legal issues, safety, crime awareness, or conflict resolution	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Special safety programs / presentations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Faculty / staff in-service presentations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Parent organization presentations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Similarly to previous questions, all respondents utilized only the first column of the table (sworn officers with general arrest powers). Many respondents commented again on “as defined by agency policies or agreements with their assigned schools” and one said that this “may scare people away”. Several respondents noted that 18d did not apply to SROs as this activity had been taken over by the school district PD, and at least one respondent pointed that 17b was asking two questions in one.

Recommendations: Consider simplifying the question combining questions 16, 17 and 18, and removing 17d. Separate “special safety programs” and “presentations” from 18b. See suggested wording under recommendations for question 16.

19. Please indicate whether the following items are worn or carried by any of your agency’s SROs while on the school campus.
Please mark all that apply.

Item	Type of SRO Wearing or Carrying the Item
	Sworn officers with general arrest powers	Sworn officers with limited arrest powers	Nonsworn officers	N/A; Officers do not wear or carry this item
a. A regulation uniform identical or highly consistent with your agency’s standard uniform	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Baton/nightstick	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. OC Spray/foam	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Conducted energy device (e.g. Taser)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Body-worn camera	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Firearm	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Other—please specify: _____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Several respondents commented on the fact that there was a difference between “issues/equipped with” and “carry or wear”. They elaborated that officers were issued the equipment, but for items that were not required (e.g., 19b and 19c), it was their personal decision whether to carry or not. As with the previous questions, only the first column of the table was used, but some respondents commented that the N/A option was not visible because of the additional text associated with it. One respondent recommended adding Asp to 19b, while another noted that certain states did not allow body-worn cameras (19e). Flashlights, radio, cell phone, handcuffs/hobble restrains, tourniquets and metal detectors were among the items respondents felt were missing from the list.

Recommendations: Consider simplifying the question similarly to question 16 – remove the columns distinguishing between arrest powers and sworn status. If the goal of the question is to list every possible piece of equipment SROs have, consider adding the suggested items. Reword the question to read:

Which of the following items are issued to your agency’s SROs to wear while on the school campus? Please mark all that apply.

Change 19b to read: Asp/baton

20. Do agency policies or agreements with schools require SROs to have regular meetings with school executive staff, such as the principal, while on assignment?

Yes

No

Findings: Almost all respondents commented that such meetings were not per policies or agreements.

Recommendations: If the goal of the question is to assess whether SROs have regular meetings with school staff, consider removing “agency policies or agreements with school require” from the question stem. However, if the goal of the question is to capture if such meetings are mandated by agency policies or agreements with schools, leave question as is.

21. According to agency policies or agreements with schools, when must an SRO inform school executive staff of the following? Please mark all that apply

Action	Prior to action	Immediately following action	Following Action whenever practical	Not required to inform executive staff	No policy regarding communication of action
a. Stop, question, and interview of student/staff	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Conduct investigation	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Question students during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Question school employees during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Arrest of student during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Arrest of school employee during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Search premises	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Search student	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
i. Use of force on student that does not result in arrest	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Almost all respondents commented that there were no formal policies or agreements for most of the listed actions. One respondent noted that the response category “prior to action” may be interpreted as asking for permission. The distinction between “immediately following action” and “following action whenever practical” was not clear to respondents. The instructions to mark all that apply were overlooked. Several edits were suggested – adding “in official capacity as law enforcement” to 21a; adding “criminal” to 21b, and replacing “force” with “restrain” in 21i. Respondents felt that options 21g and 21h would apply only if there was a criminal act in progress; otherwise searches were conducted by school administrators.

Recommendations: Simplify the question to include four response options: prior to action, during, following action, and not required. If the goal of the question is to assess whether such actions are governed by agency policies or agreements with schools, leave question stem as is. However, if the goal of the question is to capture when SROs inform school staff regardless of policies and procedures, remove “according to agency policies or agreements with schools”. Reword the question to read:

For each of the following actions, please indicate when SROs must inform school executive staff. Please mark all that apply.

Action	Prior to action	During action	Following Action	Not required to inform executive staff
a. Stop, question, and interview	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Reword option 21a to read: Stop, question, and interview of student/staff in an official law enforcement capacity.

Reword option 21b to read: Conduct criminal investigation.

Reword option 21i to read: Use of restrain on student that does not result in arrest.

SRO Recruitment, Training, and Supervision

22. Do schools participate in the selection process when your agency recruits and hires SROs?

Yes

No GO TO QUESTION 23

Findings: No issues. Only one respondent commented that he could answer for specific schools, but not sure if one response could apply agency-wide.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

22a. [IF QUESTION 22 RESPONSE IS YES] How does the school participate? Please mark all that apply.

Through active recruitment of officers

Through participation in requirements/selection criteria

By reviewing SRO candidates prior to selection

By providing feedback on SROs after placement to help determine a “good fit”

Other—please specify: _____

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave question stem as is. For paper versions of the questionnaire, remove parenthesized instructions and use arrows to help respondents navigate to the correct question.

Italicize “Please mark all that apply.”

Change the last response option to read “Other (please specify)” for consistency with previous questions.

23. How does your agency select officers for the SRO program? Please mark all that apply.

- Through an application process from within the department
- Through an application process external to the department (i.e. officers are hired specifically to be SROs)
- By nomination of officers from within the department
- Through assignment as part of regular duty schedule
- As a result of input and/or recommendations by school(s)/school district
- Other—please specify: _____

Findings: There were no comprehension issues with this question; however, some respondents commented that this question should be asked of the school districts. A suggested addition to the response options was “recruit SROs from other agencies.”

Recommendations: Leave question stem as is. Italicize “Please mark all that apply.”

Change the last response option to read “Other (please specify)” for consistency with previous questions.

24. Which entities provide training to officers in your LEA’s SRO program? Please mark all that apply.

- Our agency itself
- NASRO and/or other national officer organizations’
- An office or department within our state
- Other—please specify: _____

Findings: Some respondents were unclear whether this question referred to SRO-specific training. Several recommended spelling out LEA, as “LEA’s SRO” looked strange in the question stem. When probed what was missing from the response options, cognitive interview participants mentioned state SRO organizations, community college courses, school districts, and through criminal justice statutes.

Recommendations: Reword question to read: Which entities provide SRO-specific training to officers in your agency?

Italicize “Please mark all that apply.”

Change the second response option to read: NASRO and/or other national or state organizations.

Add “School Districts” as a response option.

Change the last response option to read “Other (please specify)” for consistency with previous questions.

25. Does your agency provide training to its SROs on the following law enforcement activities/topics?

Please note that the ‘Any’ category refers to general training on the topic, including initial training such as that received during academy training. SRO-specific training refers to training provided only to SROs as part of the SRO program and not required of other assignments.

Law enforcement activity/topic	Sworn Officers with General Arrest Powers			Sworn Officers with Limited Arrest Powers			Nonsworn Officers
	Any	SRO-specific	Not provide	Any	SRO-specific	Not provide	Any	SRO-specific	Not provide
a. Conducting law enforcement activities in schools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Responding to calls for service on the school campus	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Responding to incidents in the classroom	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Juvenile gangs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Social media monitoring/technology-related investigations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Use of deadly force	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Use of less lethal force	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. De-escalation strategies and techniques	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Overall, respondents found the structure of the table very confusing and the separation among categories by sworn status and arrest powers was not obvious. Most respondents were unclear whether they could select more than one category for each activity/topic. Majority of respondents chose “any”, utilizing only the first column of the table (Sworn Officers with General Arrest Powers). Some commented that 25a and 25b overlap. One respondent suggested adding "student behavioral problems" as a sub-category, or at least provide as an example under 25h.

Recommendations: Provide a brief introduction before questions 25-27, so they do not seem repetitive to respondents. As recommended for previous questions, simplify the table to be a checklist of activities regardless of arrest powers or sworn status. Reword the question to read:

The next set of questions is about training on law enforcement, prevention and planning, and social and behavioral topics offered to SROs by your agency.

Which of the following law enforcement training topics are offered to SROs by your agency? Please indicate whether the topic is part of SRO-specific training, general training, or both.

Law Enforcement Topic	SRO-specific Training	General Training
a. Conducting law enforcement activities.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Remove 25b due to overlap with 25a.

26. Does your agency provide training to its SROs on the following prevention and planning activities?

Please note that the ‘Any’ category refers to general training on the topic, including initial training such as that received during academy training. SRO-specific training refers to training provided only to SROs as part of the SRO program and not required of other assignments.

f. Teaching students about drugs, legal issues, safety, crime awareness, or conflict resolution	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Special safety programs/presentations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: This question had similar problems to the ones discussed for question 26. As noted before, “truancy intervention” was considered strictly a school district activity. One respondent felt that 26f should be split into subcategories.

Recommendations: As recommended for question 26, simplify the table to be a checklist of activities regardless of arrest powers or sworn status. Reword the question to read:

Which of the following prevention and planning training topics are offered to SROs by your agency? Please indicate whether the topic is part of SRO-specific training, general training, or both.

Prevention and Planning Topic	SRO-specific Training	General Training
a. Crisis preparedness.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

27. Does your agency provide training to its SROs on the following social and behavioral topics?

Please note that the ‘Any’ category refers to general training on the topic, including initial training such as that received during academy training. SRO-specific training refers to training provided only to SROs as part of the SRO program and not required of other assignments.

Social and behavioral topic	Sworn Officers with General Arrest Powers			Sworn Officers with Limited Arrest Powers			Nonsworn Officers
	Any	SRO-specific	Not provided	Any	SRO-specific	Not provided	Any	SRO-specific	Not provided
a. Conducting mentoring activities, including advising staff, students, and/or families	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Positive school discipline	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Student mental health	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Cultural sensitivity and/or cultural competency	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Child/adolescent psychology/development	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Students with disabilities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Restorative justice (emphasis on school community, conflict resolution by repairing harm)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: This question had similar problems to the ones discussed for questions 25 and 26. Several respondents noted that school districts would handle most of the school and student-specific topics on the list, particularly 27b (at least five respondents commented that it was unclear to them what it meant); several respondents mentioned that for 27e and 27f specially trained deputies would be called in when needed. At least two respondents were not familiar with the term “restorative justice” and suggested using “conflict resolution” if that was what it meant.

Recommendations: As recommended for questions 25 and 26, simplify the table to be a checklist of activities regardless of arrest powers or sworn status. Reword the question to read:

Which of the following social and behavioral training topics are offered to SROs by your agency? Please indicate whether the topic is part of SRO-specific training, general training, or both.

Social and Behavioral Topic	SRO-specific Training	General Training
a. Conducting mentoring activities.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Remove 27b.

Reword 27c to read: Mental health.

Consider removing 27e and 27f, given respondents’ comments.

28. Do agency policies require supervisors to visit schools for the purpose of observing SROs on a periodic basis?

Yes

No → GO TO QUESTION 29

Findings: Most respondents noted that they did not have a formal policy and checked “No”, despite the fact that they engaged in the behavior of interest.

Recommendations: Reconsider the goal of the question and if appropriate, remove “policies” from the question. Consider: Does your agency require supervisors to visit schools periodically in order to observe SROs?

28a. [IF QUESTION 28 RESPONSE IS YES] How often? Please mark only one

- Once a month
- At least twice a year
- Once a year
- Other—please specify: _____

Findings: Most respondents skipped this question, but commented that the frequency scale was on the high end and needed to be adjusted to weekly, or twice a month.

Recommendations: Revise response scale to read:

- At least once a week
- Several times a month
- Once a month
- Several times a year
- Once a year
- Other (please specify) _____

29. Does your agency collect data on any of the following measures related to the activities of SROs and the schools they serve?

	Yes	No
a. Number and/or type of suspensions recorded at school	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Number and/or type of property crimes reported at school.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Number and/or type of substance violations recorded at school (e.g. possession, use, buying/selling).....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Number and/or type of reports of violence at school.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Number and/or type of arrests made by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Number and/or type of citations issued by SRO.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Number and/or type of classes/programs taught by SRO.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Number and/or type of mentoring activities performed by SRO.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
i. Outreach to faculty/staff performed by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
j. Outreach to parents/community performed by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
k. Number and/or type of use of force incidents.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Several respondents commented that most of the listed items were not collected by their agencies, but the agencies had access to them. Some mentioned that such data were provided in reports and it would be extremely burdensome to quantify the information from these reports if they were asked to do so. Some respondents commented that 29a and 29d were not tracked, unless there was a criminal issue. One respondent mentioned that “outreach” in 29g and 29h implied that SROs were helping, rather than teaching. Another respondent noted that SROs kept records of arrests, but not on the specific use of force (29k). When probed what was missing from the list, respondents mentioned diversion programs and restorative justice.

Recommendations: Reword question to read: Does your agency have access to data on any of the following measures related to SRO activities in the schools they serve?

Replace “outreach” in 29i and 29j with “mentoring”.

30. In addition to this survey, we provided you with a form to list all of the sworn officers with general arrest powers from your jurisdiction who are primarily assigned to work in K-12 public schools. We will use this list to randomly select some of these individual officers to receive a survey about activities they perform. Included on the form is guidance for anonymizing the list of officers should you prefer not to provide direct identification of the officers.

Are you willing to provide this information?

- Yes—please complete the Officer Roster Form
- No—please indicate why you are not willing to provide this information:

Findings: Majority of respondents were willing to provide this information, but said they would need to first look at the survey. It was clear that most did not understand the purpose of the roster, as they suggested they would send out the survey to SROs. Several respondents noted that they would need to get approvals from their Chief or the agency legal department. Some mentioned that they would rather provide names than badge numbers; other mentioned that they no longer had badge numbers, but employee IDs and radio IDs. As in question 8, many respondents mentioned that they do would not have the race/ethnicity details outlined in the roster. For respondents with more than 5 SROs, it was unclear what to do when they ran out of space.

Recommendations: Streamline roster instructions to read:

Please use the table below to list all of the sworn officers from your jurisdiction who are primarily assigned to work in K-12 public schools. We will use this list to randomly select SROs to participate in a survey about activities performed by sworn law enforcement officers assigned to schools. We will provide you with survey packets to distribute to the randomly selected officers approximately 3 weeks after you return this form.

Please provide any type of identifying information that will help YOU identify the officers once they have been randomly selected.

SRO Roster
Officers Initials OR other identifying information that you can link directly to each SRO	Record the race/Hispanic origin of each SRO using the letter corresponding to the correct category below: A. White, non-Hispanic B. Black or African American, non-Hispanic C. Hispanic or Latino D. American Indian or Alaska Native, non-Hispanic E. Asian, non-Hispanic F. Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander, non-Hispanic G. Two or more races H. Unknown	SRO's Gender
1.		Male <input type="checkbox"/> Female <input type="checkbox"/>
2.		Male <input type="checkbox"/> Female <input type="checkbox"/>
3.		Male <input type="checkbox"/> Female <input type="checkbox"/>
4.		Male <input type="checkbox"/> Female <input type="checkbox"/>
5.		Male <input type="checkbox"/> Female <input type="checkbox"/>

Overall, respondents had no concerns related to the questionnaire content. Some reiterated, that they would want to see the SRO questionnaire before asking employees to complete it. Respondents felt the effort required to complete the survey was minimal and most estimated that it would take around 30 min to complete. When asked specifically whether gathering information from different sources would be challenging, most respondents felt that they already had all the information needed to complete the survey, but several mentioned that they would need to contact other sources to complete the roster (especially the race/ethnicity section). When probed whether they would be willing to participate in the eventual SLEPS main study, all respondents said they would, stressing the importance of collecting such data, being proud of their SRO program, and being interested in the results.

2.3.2 SRO Questionnaire

The SRO questionnaire was completed by 18 respondents – 13 were from local police departments, 3 were from Sheriff’s offices, and 2 came from a school-based LEAs. In 13 of those agencies the SRO program was established prior to 2008. We interviewed 3 female and 15 male respondents. Overall, the questionnaire did not have many problems. Respondents were confused how to answer the series of questions on annual training and found the question about time distribution challenging. This section outlines each question, followed by findings and recommended changes.

SRO Characteristics

1. Approximately how many years have you served as a sworn law enforcement officer?
Please mark only one

- Less than 1 year
- 1–2 years
- 3–5 years
- 6–10 years
- More than 10 years

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

2. Approximately how many years have you worked as an SRO in your career? Please count the total number of years you’ve worked as an SRO even if you held other positions at times. Please mark only one

- Less than 1 year
- 1–2 years
- 3–5 years
- 6–10 years
- More than 10 years

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

3. Approximately how many years have you worked as an SRO at your current assignment? Please mark only one

- Less than 1 year
 1–2 years
 3–5 years
 6–10 years
 More than 10 years

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

4. Do you currently hold a National SRO Practitioner Certificate from the National Association of School Resource Officers (NASRO)?

- Yes
 No

Findings: Not all respondents were familiar with NASRO and respondents who had gone through SRO training were not sure whether their certificate was NASRO or not. Most respondents mentioned their state associations and certifications; some noted that there was no need for a NASRO certificate once you had a state certificate. One respondent commented that “practitioner” implied that he would be a NASRO instructor, but no one else misinterpreted this question.

Recommendations: Leave as is. Depending on the analytic goal of the question, consider adding “or your state association.”

5. Are you currently assigned as an SRO? Please mark only one

- During part of the school year
 During the full traditional school year
 Year-round

Findings: One respondent answered the question without considering the response options, pointing to a mismatch between the question stem (requiring a Yes/No response format) and the response categories.

Recommendations: Revise the question to read: For what part of the year are you currently assigned as an SRO?

6. How many schools are you currently assigned to as an SRO? Please mark only one

- One
- Two
- Three
- Four
- Five or more

Findings: At least three respondents noted that SROs who help out at schools other than their assigned ones, or are “rovers” (going where needed) would have difficulty answering this question.

Recommendations: Revise the question and instructions to read: To how many schools are you currently assigned as an SRO? Please do not include schools where you might be called in to help, but are not part of your official assignment.

7. What type of school are you currently assigned to?

If you are assigned to more than one school, please answer based on the school you work in most of the time. If your time is split evenly between 2 or more schools, please answer based on the school you worked in most recently.

- Elementary school
- Middle/junior high school
- High school
- Other. Please specify: _____
- Don't know

Findings: Several respondents did not read the instructions and selected more than one response option. Some respondents mentioned that in rural areas elementary through high school would be in the same building.

Recommendations: Revise the question to reflect proper grammatical structure; revise and italicize instructions:

To what type of school are you currently assigned as an SRO? If your assigned school does not fall immediately into one of the categories below, please consider the highest grade offered. If you are assigned to more than one school, please answer for the school where you spend most of your time or where you worked most recently.

Revise “other” to read: Other (please specify)_____

Remove “Don’t” know from the response options.

7a. Is this school a...	Yes	No	Don't know
a. Charter schools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Alternative schools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: The definition of “alternative school” varied across respondents – several thought alternative schools were schools for children with special needs where they could get a job training; others considered it to be a secondary school for students with learning disabilities, that follows a different education program; yet others thought it was a school for students with behavioral problems who might be expelled from other schools.

Recommendations: Provide a definition of “alternative school” consistent with the analytic goal of the question.

Consider removing “Don’t” know from the response options as it provides an easy way out for respondents.

7b. On average, how many hours per week do you work at this school? _____

Findings: Some respondents provided ranges. Several respondents commented that depending on the time of the year (when SROs might have many extra-curricular activities), this question might be hard to answer.

Recommendations: Leave as is as the question is asking about an average estimate.

SRO Training

8. Please indicate if you have received any training on the following law enforcement activities/topics, and if so, if you receive training on an annual basis.

Law Enforcement Activity	Have you received any training on this topic?	Do you receive training on this topic annually?
a. Conducting law enforcement activities in schools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Responding to calls for service on the school campus	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Responding to incidents in the classroom	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Juvenile gangs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Social media/technology-related investigations.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Use of deadly force.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Use of less lethal force	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. De-escalation strategies and techniques	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Most respondents had a hard time with “training on an annual basis”. They noted that they have annual department mandated courses and some topics were discussed, but there were no specific trainings on them per se. Some respondents considered 8a too broad, while 8c was found to be too specific (especially in the context of training). Some suggested changing 8g to “gang training”, as “juvenile gang training” was too specific. At least one respondent noted that 8f and 8g were covered in the same training. When probed if something was missing from the list, respondents mentioned: Crisis Intervention Training (including mental health issues), drug recognition signs, ALICE (Alert, Lockdown, Inform, Counter, and Evacuate), bullying intervention, relationship building, multicultural training, restorative judgement, interviewing and interrogating (including interviewing of victims of a physical or sexual assault).

Recommendations: Include a lead-in to questions 8-10, so they do not seem repetitive to respondents. Revise question to ask about most recent and general training. (If the goal of the question is to distinguish between SRO-specific and general training, indicate “SRO-specific training” in the question stem.) Revise to read:

The next set of questions is about your recent and general training on law enforcement, prevention and planning, and social and behavioral topics.

8a. Please indicate whether each of the following law enforcement topics were covered in your most recent training, your general training, or both:

Law Enforcement Topic	Recent Training	General Training
a. Conducting law enforcement activities in schools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Reword 8d to read: Gangs

Depending on the analytic goals, consider merging 8f and 8g into one category "Use of force."

Add "Crisis Intervention."

Consider adding an "Other (please specify)" response category.

9. Please indicate if you have received any training on the following prevention and planning activities, and if so, if you receive training on an annual basis.

Topic	Have you received any training on this topic?	Do you receive training on this topic annually?
a. Crisis preparedness planning	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Security audits/assessments of school campuses.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Truancy intervention and dropout prevention	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Bullying deterrence	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Substance abuse recognition	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Teaching students about drugs, legal issues, safety, crime awareness, or conflict resolution	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Special safety programs/ presentations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Similarly to question 8, respondents had a hard time with "training on an annual basis". One respondent commented that 9a was ambiguous and suggested "critical incidents" instead. Several respondents mentioned that SROs performed safety checks rather than audits (8b). Similarly to the LEA interviews, respondents commented that truancy intervention was something conducted by the schools. One respondent felt that 9f would be a better fit for question 8 and could be broken into its subparts. Some respondents found 9g ambiguous and questioned whether crisis preparedness and ALICE would fall under that topic. "Suicide prevention" was one of the suggested topics to be added to the list.

Recommendations: Revise question to ask about most recent and general training (see recommendation for question 8). (If the goal of the question is to distinguish between SRO-specific and general training, indicate “SRO-specific training” in the question stem.) Revise to read:

Please indicate whether each of the following prevention and planning topics were covered in your most recent training, your general training, or both:

Prevention and Planning Topic	Recent Training	General Training
a. Crisis Preparedness Planning	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Revise 9b to read: Security checks/assessment of school campuses

Consider removing 9c.

Consider rewording 9g to include “for students and teachers”.

Consider adding “Suicide prevention”

Consider adding an “Other (please specify)” response category.

10. Please indicate if you have received any training on the following social and behavioral topics, and if so, if you receive training on an annual basis.

Topic	Have you received any training on this topic?	Do you receive training on this topic annually?
a. Conducting mentoring activities, including advising staff, students, and/or families	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Positive school discipline	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Student mental health	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Cultural sensitivity and/or cultural competency	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Child/adolescent psychology/development	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Students with disabilities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Restorative justice (emphasis on school community, conflict resolution by repairing harm).....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Similarly to questions 8 and 9, respondents had a hard time with “training on an annual basis”. Several respondents commented that 10b was something schools rather than SROs dealt with and at least four respondents questioned the term “restorative justice”. When probed what was missing from the list, some suggested LGBT issues and race issues.

Recommendations: Revise question to ask about most recent and general training (see recommendation for questions 8 and 9):

Please indicate whether each of the following social and behavioral topics were covered in your most recent training, your general training, or both:

Social and Behavioral Topic	Recent Training	General Training
a. Conducting mentoring activities.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Consider removing 10b.

SRO Activities

11. Which of the following law enforcement activities did you perform on or around school grounds in the past month? Please mark all that apply

- Patrolled school facilities
- Issued citations
- Responded to calls for service at the school
- Responded to incidents in the classroom
- Emergency management/Crisis preparedness planning
- Security audits/ assessments of school campuses
- Confiscated weapons
- Confiscated drugs
- Conducted searches
- Made arrests
- None

Findings: The reference period for this question (past month) was largely ignored and most responses were for the past year, likely influenced by the preceding questions. Some respondents found citations to be ambiguous and questioned whether we were interested in criminal, or traffic citations. Most respondents noted that SROs did not conduct searches, but could be present when searches were performed. One respondent commented that security audits/assessment of school campuses had to be separate categories. When probed what was missing from the response options, participants mentioned drug paraphernalia, K-9, traffic control and direction, welfare checks, review of court paperwork, review of restraining orders, counseling kids (central intake), and restorative practice.

Recommendations: Introduce the reference period in the beginning of this section, along with the three topic areas that will be discussed: The next set of questions is about activities you performed in the past month. We are interested in law enforcement, mentoring, and teaching activities.

Add "crime" to "issued citations."

Consider removing "conducted searches"

Replace the last category ("None") with "Other (please specify)".

12. Which of the following mentoring activities did you perform on or around school grounds in the past month?

Please mark all that apply

- Truancy intervention
- Supervised/ coordinated non-athletic extracurricular activities
- Field trip chaperone
- Coached athletic programs
- Advised school staff, students, or families (one-on-one, in a group, etc.)
- None

Findings: The reference period for this question was considered too short by some – respondents recommended using the past 3 months, or the school year. Several respondents considered supervising a game to fall under "coached athletic programs." A suggested category to be added was "Reserve Officer Training Corps."

Recommendations: Depending on the analytic goal of the question, keep the reference period consistent with other questions.

Add a category for "Supervised/coordinated athletic activities."

Replace "None" with "Other (please specify)".

13. Which of the following teaching activities did you perform on or around school grounds in the past month?

Please mark all that apply

- Taught students about drugs, legal issues, safety, crime awareness, or conflict resolution in a classroom setting
- Special school-wide safety programs/presentations
- Faculty/staff in-service presentations
- Parent organization presentations
- None

Findings: The time reference period for this question was considered too short. One respondent suggested removing "classroom setting" from the first response option, as he did teach students, but not strictly in a classroom setting. Another respondent commented that “faculty/staff in-service presentations” was unclear.

Recommendations: Depending on the analytic goal of the question, keep the reference period consistent with other questions.

Replace “None” with “Other (please specify)”.

14. Approximately what percentage of your duty time was spent on the following in-school activities over the past month?

If you do not perform an activity, enter “0”. The total of all activities should be 100%.

Activity	Percentage (out of 100)
a. Conducting law enforcement activities	_____
b. Conducting mentoring activities with students/staff/families	_____
c. Conducting teaching activities	_____
d. Administrative functions/paperwork related to the above activities	_____
e. Other. Please specify: _____	_____
Total	100%

Findings: This was not an easy task for respondents, but in general, they were encouraged by “approximately what”, suggesting that an estimate rather than exact number was needed. Some respondents were unclear how to count downtime, as their mere presence in the building could be counted as “law enforcement.” One respondent was not sure where to count “developing relationships with the kids” (e.g., playing football during recess) and considered it under 14b. Those who used the “Other- please specify” category included “supervision” and “security (conducting reviews and advising schools).”

Recommendations: Leave question stem and categories as is. Italicize instructions.

15. Please check the appropriate boxes to indicate whether you have arrested any student(s) for the following offenses in the last 12 months.

Offense	Performed an arrest in the last 12 months?
	Yes	No
a. Drug possession	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Drug distribution.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Weapon possession	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Weapon use.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Theft.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Threats against students	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Threats against faculty	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Threats against school facility	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
i. Fighting with students.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
j. Assault on school staff/faculty/security/SROs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
k. Disorderly conduct.....	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
l. Failure to obey a police officer	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
m. Other. Please specify: _____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: One respondent noted that the question should be asking about an arrest or citation; another suggested to replace “arrest” with “diversion.” Some respondents mentioned that 15k may not apply everywhere due to state laws (e.g., CA and TX). One participant suggested removing “with students” from 15i. When probed what was missing from the list, respondents added arrest for pulling fire arms, cyber/social media crimes, Internet solicitation/sexting/child pornography, and trespassing.

Recommendations: An actual question is missing – revise to read: During the past 12 months, have you arrested any student(s) for the following offences:

	Yes	No
a. Drug possession	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Change 15i to read “Fighting.”

Change 15m to read “Other (please specify)_____” for consistency with other questions.

16. In situations where you arrest a student, what role does the school administration play in your arrest decisions? Please mark only one

- No impact, as arrest determination made solely by myself or other sworn personnel
- Memorandum of understanding or other agreement specifies situations where the school can have influence over my arrest decisions
- School administration reviews all arrest-eligible incidents and can provide input regarding my arrest decision
- SROs do not have arrest powers in my assigned school
- Other. Please specify: _____

Findings: At least two respondents noted clear boundaries between school and police issues and found this question irrelevant.

Recommendations: Depending on the analytic goal of this question, leave as is.

17. Do you speak another language, aside from English?

- Yes—Please specify: _____
- No

17a. [IF QUESTION 17 = YES] Is this other language useful when interacting with students in the school you are assigned?

- Yes
- No

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave question 17 as is. Remove parenthesized instructions from 17a and use arrows to navigate respondents to the next question if a paper version is offered.

Primarily Assigned School Characteristics

If you are an SRO assigned to more than one school, please answer the following questions based on the school where you spend the majority of your time during your typical shift.

If your time is split evenly between 2 or more schools, please answer based on the school you worked in most recently.

Findings: Many respondents did not read the instructions and those who did and were assigned to one school were not clear where to go next and incorrectly skipped question 18.

Recommendations: Streamline instructions and add after question 18, so they are not overlooked.

18. A gang is an ongoing loosely organized association of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, that has a common name, signs, symbols, or colors, whose members engage, either individually or collectively, in violent or other forms of illegal behavior.

Are there known gangs at your primarily assigned school?

- Yes
 No
 Don't know

Findings: Majority of respondents found the definition of a gang unnecessary, noting that all officers would know what was a gang. Even though respondents shared the same definition, some commented that it should be looser for schools and "illegal or violent behaviors" should be removed. One respondent (who was confused by the introductory instructions and incorrectly skipped the question) suggested that the question should ask about the school district, rather than a particular school.

Recommendations: Consider removing the definition of a gang and moving a streamlined version of the introductory instructions after the question:

Are there known gangs in your primarily assigned school? If you are assigned to more than one school, please answer for the school where you spend most of your time or where you worked most recently.

19. Excluding yourself, how many SROs share your shift at your primarily assigned school?

Findings: Several respondents misread “excluding” as “including” and reported inaccurately. One respondent was unclear whether to count “police in schools” officers (non-certified school officers). “Share your shift” was interpreted as “are assigned” to the same school, rather than during the same shift.

Recommendations: Reword the question to read: Not counting yourself, how many SROs share your shift at your primarily assigned school?

If how many SROs share a shift is not of analytical importance, but rather how many SROs are assigned to a school, reword the question to read: Not counting yourself, how many SROs are assigned to your primary school?

20. Other than SROs, what security measures are in place at your primarily assigned school?

Please mark all that apply

- Student dress code/uniform
- Closed campus (students not allowed leave during school hours without permission)
- Controlled access to school grounds (e.g. locked or monitored gates)
- Controlled access to school buildings during school hours (e.g. locked or monitored doors)
- Random sweeps for contraband (e.g. drugs, weapons), including dog sniffs
- School-issued student IDs
- Metal detectors
- Security camera(s) to monitor school buildings and/or grounds
- Structured anonymous threat reporting system (e.g. online submission, text messaging, telephone hotline)
- School security guards, nonsworn
- Other means of restricting access—Please specify: _____
- Other measures not listed—Please specify: _____

Findings: There were no issues with this question. One respondent was concerned about revealing too much information about security measures and said he would provide responses only if the request was coming from BJS. Respondents who utilized the “Other (please specify)” category mentioned visitor passes and paper incident forms (in addition to online submissions already listed in the response options).

Recommendations: Leave as is.

21. Restorative practices build a sense of school community and resolve conflict by repairing harm and restoring positive relationships. Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) is a school-wide intervention that teaches school staff to recognize, monitor, and reward appropriate student behaviors and to provide consistent sanctions for rule violations.

Are you involved in the process of engaging students in restorative practices and/or PBIS at your primarily assigned school?

- Yes
 No
 Don't know/not familiar with these practices

Findings: Not everyone was familiar with PBIS. One respondent was unclear how to answer if this was done to a degree – he suggested including a “somewhat” option.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

22. We would like to obtain information about the school you primarily work in by linking to data that has been collected about that school in other surveys. In order to access information about the school we will need to know the name of the school. We will only use the name of the school to access information collected from other surveys about the characteristics of that particular school (i.e. the size and composition of the student population) and will not release your data to any agency or individual who is not directly involved with our research. The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) will use this information for research purposes only.

School Name _____

City _____ State _____

Findings: Overall, respondents did not have concerns providing the school name, but at least two participants said that they would need to get the school's approval, while others mentioned permission from supervisor.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

Overall, respondents had no concerns related to the questionnaire content. Respondents felt the effort required to complete the survey was minimal and several estimated that it would take no more than 30 min to complete. When asked specifically whether gathering information from different sources would be challenging, most respondents felt that they did not need to do that as they had all the information needed to complete the survey. When probed whether they would be willing to participate in the eventual SLEPS main study, only one respondent said he would not, providing length as the main reason. Most respondents noted that they would need supervisor permission to complete the survey, but said they saw value in the results.

INTRODUCTION

READ THE INTRODUCTION:

Thank you for agreeing to participate in this interview and fill out the survey form. The survey is designed to collect information on a wide range of topics related to School Resource Officer programs. The purpose of our interview today is to evaluate our survey questions pertaining to the characteristics of your law enforcement agency and its school resource officer program. The study is sponsored by the Bureau of Justice Statistics. Today, we are hoping to get your feedback and opinions on these questions, as well as your thoughts on whether you were able to answer them.

This is how it will work. I would like you to read the questions out loud and tell me your response. If you find anything confusing or if the question is challenging to answer, please let me know. As you complete the questionnaire, I may ask you some follow-up questions. Please feel free to tell me anything that comes to mind or ask me anything you are unclear about. We are very interested in finding out which questions needed a lot of effort to answer, which ones confused you, and which ones you were not able to answer at all. Your participation in this interview is very important because it will help us improve the questionnaire. Before we begin, please take a moment to read the consent form that I emailed you.

Do you have any questions? Do I have your consent to continue with the interview?

1. Yes
2. No – END INTERVIEW

OK let's begin.

2016 Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS)
School Resource Officer (SRO) Survey

Instructions

- This survey should be completed by the selected sworn law enforcement officer with general arrest powers who is primarily assigned to any public K-12 schools. For the purposes of this survey, we will refer to the officer as an SRO.
- The Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, as amended (42 USC 3732), authorizes this information collection. Although this survey is voluntary, we need your participation to make the results comprehensive, accurate, and timely. We greatly appreciate your assistance.

Burden Statement

Federal agencies may not conduct or sponsor an information collection, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information, unless it displays a current valid OMB Control Number. Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 30 minutes per response, including time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate, or any other aspects of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to the Director, Bureau of Justice Statistics, 810 Seventh Street NW, Washington, DC 20531.

If you are an SRO assigned to more than one school, please answer the following questions based on the school where you spend the majority of your time during your typical shift.

If your time is split evenly between 2 or more schools, please answer based on the school you worked in most recently.

18. A gang is an ongoing loosely organized association of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, that has a common name, signs, symbols, or colors, whose members engage, either individually or collectively, in violent or other forms of illegal behavior.

Are there known gangs at your primarily assigned school?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know

19. Excluding yourself, how many SROs share your shift at your primarily assigned school?

20. Other than SROs, what security measures are in place at your primarily assigned school?

Please mark all that apply

- Student dress code/uniform
- Closed campus (students not allowed leave during school hours without permission)
- Controlled access to school grounds (e.g. locked or monitored gates)
- Controlled access to school buildings during school hours (e.g. locked or monitored doors)
- Random sweeps for contraband (e.g. drugs, weapons), including dog sniffs
- School-issued student IDs

- Structured anonymous threat reporting system (e.g. online submission, text messaging, telephone hotline)
- School security guards, nonsworn
- Other means of restricting access—Please specify: _____
- Other measures not listed—Please specify: _____

21. Restorative practices build a sense of school community and resolve conflict by repairing harm and restoring positive relationships. Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) is a school-wide intervention that teaches school staff to recognize, monitor, and reward appropriate student behaviors and to provide consistent sanctions for rule violations.

Are you involved in the process of engaging students in restorative practices and/or PBIS at your primarily assigned school?

- Yes
- No
- Don't know/not familiar with these practices

22. We would like to obtain information about the school you primarily work in by linking to data that has been collected about that school in other surveys. In order to access information about the school we will need to know the name of the school. We will only use the name of the school to access information collected from other surveys about the characteristics of that particular school (i.e. the size and composition of the student population) and will not release your data to any agency or individual who is not directly involved with our research. The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) will use this information for research purposes only.

1. INTRODUCTION

The second round of cognitive interviews for the Survey of Law Enforcement Personnel in Schools (SLEPS) aimed to test the restructured LEA survey and participants' willingness to fill out the roster form.

RTI and its partner the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) delivered a detailed report in December 2016 that summarized findings from the first round of cognitive interviews. The first round of interviews tested initial drafts of the LEA- and SRO-level questionnaires. Based on the recommendations, the questionnaires were refined in collaboration with BJS. Given the major changes and restructure of the LEA questionnaire, a second round of cognitive interviews was conducted with LEA respondents only.

2. METHODOLOGY

The goal of the second round of cognitive testing was to evaluate the revised and reorganized LEA questionnaire and to test whether the revised questions functioned as intended. As in round 1, in order to ensure as much diversity in agency characteristics as possible, LEAs were identified based on several criteria. Given the burden imposed on participants that previously participated in cognitive interviews, we excluded any agencies that were previously contacted for the first round of cognitive interviewing (N = 163). We followed a similar stratification approach to identify LEAs that were diverse in terms of agency size, recency of SRO program, agency type, and whether the agency had both sworn and nonsworn staff in schools.¹ The sampling focused on obtaining representation within each cell (i.e. strata characteristic), regardless of other agency characteristics, in contrast to past recruiting approaches that purposively sampled based on combinations of strata characteristics in addition to the strata themselves.

A total of 102 agencies were contacted. Twenty-four agencies agreed to participate, but due to scheduling obstacles with and/or subsequent non-response from some of these agencies, 17 LEA interviews were completed. Table 1 presents a summary of

LEA cognitive interview participants' characteristics and whether they completed the cognitive interview and returned the roster.

2.1 Overview

Cognitive interviewing for the second round of testing the LEA instruments began in late May 2017 and was conducted through the beginning of August 2017. The interviews took about 60 minutes to complete and were conducted over the phone. Respondents were sent the questionnaire and roster a week in advance of the interview via e-mail. The actual interview was preceded by an informed consent procedure.

Respondents were asked to complete the questionnaire and roster and return via fax or password-protected zip file before the call. Out of the 17 responding agencies, 4 failed to provide a roster, despite weekly e-mail reminders after the interview.

As in round 1, a cognitive interview protocol guide was used to assess respondents' understanding of the updated and restructured LEA questions, gauging respondent perceptions on sensitivity of any questions, willingness to respond, and overall burden involved in filling out the questionnaire and roster. At the end of the interview, respondents were debriefed to gather their perceptions on the overall experience, and particularly the experience and estimated burden of filling out the roster. As before, interviewers used scripted probes, but were given the flexibility to probe spontaneously when needed to assess understanding and perception of the questions, as well as anything that seemed unclear, unusual, or generally worth expanding on. The cognitive interview protocol guide can be found in Appendix A.

2.2 Interview Procedures

Sampled agencies were contacted via e-mail (usually sent to the Chief of Police), or telephone (if an e-mail was not available). Reminder e-mails were sent on a rolling basis and often focused on under-represented strata. Once respondents were successfully recruited for the most convenient date and time, recruiters sent out messages to designated interviewers.

Respondents were told that the interview would take an hour on average and would be conducted over the phone. Respondents were sent the LEA questionnaire, roster, sample SRO survey (for reference purposes only), and informed consent a week before the interview, and asked to complete the LEA questionnaire and roster and return in advance of the interview.

Once an interview was completed, a summary of the findings for each question was entered into an Excel file. These files did not contain any personally identifiable information (PII).

2.3 Cognitive Interview Findings and Recommendations

2.3.1 LEA Questionnaire

The LEA questionnaire was completed by 17 respondents – 10 came from local police departments, 6 were from Sheriff's offices, and 1 was from a school-based LEA. In 1 of those agencies the SRO program was established prior to 2008; twelve agencies employed more than 100 officers. This section outlines each question of the LEA questionnaire, followed by findings and recommended changes.

Overall, respondents did not find significant problems with the questions and the instrument was interpreted as intended by the majority. We found variation in the interpretation of "primary" (as in assignment, or school district), as well as "required". The concept of rotation of SROs to other jobs was also misinterpreted by some to mean rotation across schools. As in round 1, many respondents noted that the training topics we asked about were not stand-alone topics, not only offered to SROs. Below we present a question by question summary and recommended changes, where needed.

Instructions and Burden Statement

Overall, respondents did not have any issues with the instructions and burden statement.

Law Enforcement Agency Characteristics

1. Which best describes your agency? Mark only one.

- Police department, municipal
- Police department, county
- State/highway department
- Sheriff's Office
- Tribal
- Independent School District
- Other (please specify): _____

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Keep as is.

2. As of [DATE], how many sworn full-time officers with general arrest powers were employed by your agency? _____

Findings: Most respondents had no difficulties reporting an exact number. Recall strategies included calling the hiring and recruiting Sergeant or Human Resources to obtain the number; knowing it off hand; knowing it as the department was getting ready to fill up vacancies, and reporting the allotted by the agency number. Several respondents noted that there was an "authorized strength" number (the number the agency can employ) and a "current strength" number. Most respondents reported the current count, but at least two reported the authorized number.

Recommendations: Leave as is, as inserting a reference period in the question (in place of "DATE") will help respondents understand that we are asking about the number of employed officers as of particular date rather than authorized strength.

3. Does your agency employ any officers that are primarily assigned to work in any public K-12 school?

Yes

No ➡ GO TO END OF SURVEY

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

SCHOOL RESOURCE OFFICER Program Characteristics

4. In what year did your agency start assigning officers to public schools? _____

Findings: Respondents did not have problems providing a year. Recall strategies included checking records; knowing when the first SROs were hired; being part of the program from its beginning, or calling someone. Only 5 respondents could not provide an exact year, but two of them were able to estimate.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

5. As of [DATE], what is the funding source for your SRO program? Mark all that apply.

State/Local grant

Law enforcement agency

Other (Please specify): _____

Findings: One respondent commented that the distinction between federal and state/local grants will be difficult as sometimes federal dollars are allocated through state grants. One respondent interpreted school district to fall under "state/local" contract.

At least two respondents mentioned checking this information in MOUs.

Several respondents selected the write in response option ("other, please specify") – responses included City of X Department of Education and village government. One participant selected "other" and wrote in "½ city budget, ½ school district".

At least two respondents noted differences in funding mechanisms for elementary vs. middle vs. high schools.

Recommendations: Modify the question to read “As of [DATE], what is the main funding source for your SRO program?”

6. How many of the following public schools are served by your SRO program?	Number
a. Elementary schools (lowest grade is not higher than grade 3 and the highest grade is not higher than grade 8).....	_____
b. Middle schools (lowest grade is not lower than grade 4 and the highest grade is not higher than grade 9).....	_____
c. High schools (lowest grade is not lower than grade 9 and the highest grade is not higher than grade 12).....	_____
d. Combined schools (e.g., K-8, K-12).....	_____

Findings: Overall, respondents found the question easy to answer. The division and description across types of schools were found clear and all inclusive.

One respondent commented on nuances such as not having SROs assigned to elementary schools, but some SROs would serve elementary schools when needed. The question was hard to answer for another respondent where Neighborhood SROs (NSROs), funded by the COPS grant, are assigned to areas rather than specific schools (including private schools), and were not required to be on campus. One participant had both an “academy” and a “learning center” that did not fit into any of the categories, so they put those under “d. Combined schools”. Two participants mentioned disciplinary schools/alternative schools. One participant left the question blank due to the word “served” as they only had a few SROs who went to all schools.

Recommendations: Leave as is as academy and learning centers that offer secondary education are not of interest and alternative schools should fall under one of the listed categories that can be defined by the age of the students.

7. Does your SRO program also serve private schools?

- Yes
- No

Findings: No issues. Some respondents noted that even though no one was assigned, they would serve private schools.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

8. Do the majority of officers in your SRO program serve on a single permanent assignment (i.e., only serve as an SRO) or rotate to other assignments (e.g., juvenile detective, routine patrol)? Mark only one.

- Single permanent assignment
- Rotate to other assignments

Findings: One respondent noted that a typical SRO assignment was for 5-6 years, thus questioned the use of "permanent", but interpreted it to mean that if someone was assigned as an SRO, that would be all they did. This interpretation was shared by most respondents, who commented that SROs might move between schools (e.g., from high to middle), but since they were assigned as SROs, they would consider such assignments one assignment as it did not involve other duties. Respondents who noted that SROs were assigned to schools only during the school year, also picked single permanent assignment, despite the fact that SROs might have other duties over the summer. One respondent seemed to interpret "rotate to other assignments" as rotation across schools, rather than an assignment to a single school.

Recommendations: Replace "permanent" with "continuous" in both the question stem and response options. Change the second response option to read "Rotate to other assignments, different from an SRO assignment".

SRO POLICIES AND ASSIGNED RESPONSIBILITIES

9. Does your agency have written a departmental policy specifically for your SRO program?

- Yes
- No

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

10. With how many entities (school districts and/or individual schools) does your agency have an agreement (e.g., memorandum of understanding, contractual or verbal agreement, legislation)? Enter the number of entities by type of agreement in the table below.

	Formal agreement in place	No formal agreement in place
School districts	_____	_____
Individual schools	_____	_____

If you answered “No” to Q9 above AND “0” under “Formal agreement in place” in Q10, GO TO Q13.

Findings: One participant was unclear how to answer as their school district had its own agency, so there was no formal agreement in place. Another respondent left the question blank despite the fact that all three school districts use MOUs; yet another left the question blank because they did not know the answer.

Most respondents interpreted “formal agreement” to mean something on paper, a contract, MOU, or other document that outlined responsibilities. Respondents did not seem to have problems with the navigation instructions.

Recommendations: Consider adding a filter question that would skip LEAs that belong to school districts out of this question (similarly, in the electronic version of the questionnaire, agencies who checked “school district” in question 1, may skipped this question).

11. Which of the following best describes the type of agreement in place between your agency and the primary school/school district served by your SRO program? Mark only one.

- Memorandum of understanding (MOU)
- Contractual agreement, such as through a grant or other basis
- Legislation
- Verbal agreement
- Other (Please specify): _____

Findings: One respondent noted that sometimes they have MOAs (Memorandum of Agreement), not MOUs and there is a legal difference between them. One respondent checked "legislation" as their school district had the right to establish its own department.

"Primary" was interpreted as the school district with the greatest presence of SROs by some, as the largest school district by others, and as the county school district. One participant left the question blank because their county only had one school district and the agreement is with the county.

Recommendations: Define "primary" as the district to which the majority of SROs are assigned. Reword the question to read:

"Which of the following best describes the type of agreement in place between your agency and the school district served by majority of your SRO officers? Mark only one."

Attachment 31: Round 2 cognitive testing report

12. Please select whether the following SRO program characteristics are specified in either the formal agreement between your agency and the primary school/school district served by your SRO program or within your internal departmental policy:

SRO program characteristic:	Yes	No
a. Goals of the SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Number of officers in your SRO program	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Schedule (e.g., before the school day begins, the full school day, etc.) that officers in your SRO program will spend at school	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Supervision or administrative control of SROs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Primary functions (e.g., law enforcement, teaching, mentoring/counseling) of SROs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Responsibilities/duties of the school	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Role of SROs with school discipline	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Expectations regarding citations and arrests by SROs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
i. Expectations regarding collaboration between school officials and SROs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
j. Expectations for SROs when working with students	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
k. Procedures for resolving disagreements between school officials and SROs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
l. Requirement of regular meetings between school officials and SROs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: For some respondents, “expectation” was the same as “guidance”; for others, it was much stronger; yet for others it was what the school district would want the department to do based on previous experience.

One respondent marked some “yes” responses despite the fact that there were no formal policy, or written internal policy, noting that the goals could be written, but not formalized into policy.

Most respondents noted that the difference between response options e) and f) was that e) referred to the functions of SROs, while f) referred to duties/responsibilities of the school. Two respondents noted that both options were overlapping and f) should be removed.

Recommendations: Revise the question to ask whether the “following SRO program characteristics are specified in writing as departmental goals, internal policy, or in a formal agreement between your agency and the primary school/school district served by your SRO program”.

13. Are SROs required to inform school executive staff about any of the following actions?

Action:	Yes	No
a. Stop, question, and interview of student/staff in an official law enforcement capacity	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Question students during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Question school employees during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Search student	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Search premises	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Conduct criminal investigation	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Arrest of student during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Arrest of school employee during school hours	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Use of restrain on student that does not result in arrest	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: One respondent was not clear what “required” meant – required by law, best practice, policy, or all? Interpreted as “common practice”. Another respondent also commented on “required”, suggesting just to ask whether SROs inform school staff; yet another participant noted that this was not required, but often done as a courtesy. One participant noted that it depended on whether or not these things happened on school grounds - some crimes they were required to report to the school under state law.

Recommendations: Consider rewording the question to read “Do SROs inform school executive staff about any of the following actions?”

The response scale can also change from Yes/No to Always, Most of the Time, Some of the Time, Never.

SRO RECRUITMENT, TRAINING, AND SUPERVISION

14. Do schools participate in the selection process when your agency recruits and hires SROs?

- Yes
- No → GO TO QUESTION 16

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

15. How does the school participate? Mark all that apply.

- Through active recruitment of officers
- Through participation in requirements/selection criteria
- By reviewing SRO candidates prior to selection
- By providing feedback on SROs after placement to help determine a “good fit”
- Other (Please specify): _____

Findings: No issues.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

16. How does your agency select officers for the SRO program? Mark all that apply.

- Through an application process from within the department
- Through an application process external to the department (i.e. officers are hired specifically to be SROs)
- By nomination of officers from within the department
- Through assignment as part of regular duty schedule
- As a result of input and/or recommendations by school(s)/school district
- Other (Please specify): _____

Findings: No issues. Under “other”, respondents wrote “through civil service exam”; “gauge interest and look at their background.”

Recommendations: Leave as is.

17. Does your agency require supervisors to visit schools periodically in order to observe SROs?

Yes

No → GO TO QUESTION 19

Findings: The interpretation of “periodically” varied across respondents – from “a minimum number of times”, “regularly, as mandated by policy”, “on a set schedule”, “any kind of regular visits, such as 4 times per year” to “spot checks”, “once every couple of weeks”, or “at least once a week”. One respondent commented that the question was unnecessary.

Two participants said they did visit the schools, but it was not a written policy. One of them selected ‘Yes’, one of them selected ‘No’ as response options to this question.

Recommendations: Remove the question and ask about frequency directly (introducing a “never” response option for agencies that do not visit SROs in schools).

18. How often do supervisors visit schools to observe SROs?

At least once a week

Several times a month

Once a month

Several times a year

Once a year

Other (Please specify): _____

Findings: No issues. One respondent indicated “daily” should be an option; another commented that “several times a week” should also be an option.

Recommendations: Leave open-ended, or consider the following scale:

Never

Once a year

Several times a year

Once a month

Several times a month

Attachment 31: Round 2 cognitive testing report

- Once a week
- Several times a week
- Daily

19. Does your agency have access to data (e.g., number or type of incident) on any of following measures related to SRO activities in the schools they serve?

	Yes	No
a. Arrests made by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Citations issued by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Classes/programs taught by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Mentoring activities performed by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Mentoring of faculty/staff performed by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Mentoring of parents/community performed by SRO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Property crimes reported at school	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Reports of violence at school	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
i. Substance violations recorded at school (e.g. possession, use, buying/selling)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
j. Suspensions recorded at school	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
k. Use of force incidents	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Several respondents identified the subcategories for which they would not have information, but said they could get it from the school district, or the Board of Education.

Some respondent found the example in the question stem unnecessary; others found it helpful.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

SRO STAFFING

20. As of [DATE], how many of the following personnel are primarily assigned to any public K-12 schools?

	Number of employees
a. Sworn officers.....	_____
b. Nonsworn employees.....	_____
c. Total	_____

IF YOUR RESPONSE to QUESTION 20A IS LARGER THAN "0" GO TO QUESTION 21.

IF YOUR RESPONSE TO QUESTION 20A IS "0" AND YOUR RSEPONSE TO QUESTION 20B IS LARGER THAN "0", GO TO THE NONSWORN OFFICERS SECTION ON PAGE X.

Findings: No issues. One respondent was not clear if the total number should include their Sergeant. At least two respondents left the total blank, commenting that if it is computerized, this will not be necessary.

One respondent noted that there was no space to put vacancies. Another participant found the instructions in the box to be confusing, along with the 'Total' in 20c.

Recommendations: Remove "Total" (can be calculated automatically in the web version of the instrument). For the paper self-administered version, rewrite the instruction to say:

IF THE NUMBER SWORN OFFICERS IS LARGER THAN "0", GO TO QUESTION 21.

IF THE NUMBER OF SWORN OFFICERS IS "0" AND THE NUMBER OF NONSWORN EMPLOYEES IS LARGER THAN "0", GO TO THE NONSWORN OFFICERS SECTION ON PAGE X.

Attachment 31: Round 2 cognitive testing report

SWORN SROs

Please answer the following questions for the sworn officers who serve your SRO program.

21. Enter the number of sworn SROs in your agency by race/Hispanic origin and sex:

	Male	Female
a. White, not of Hispanic origin
b. Black or African American, not of Hispanic origin
c. Hispanic or Latino
d. American Indian or Alaska Native, not of Hispanic origin
e. Asian, not of Hispanic origin
f. Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander, not of Hispanic origin
g. Two or more races
h. Race/Hispanic origin not known
TOTAL SWORN SROs (SUM OF A-H, should match 20a)

Findings: At least two participants missed the 'Total' box and did not provide their totals. Only one participant thought this table was confusing and suggested simplifying the table (e.g., take out all of the "not of Hispanic origin" text, based on respondent's perception that that category seemed obsolete).

Recommendations: Leave as is. Change the Total instructions to read:

TOTAL NUMBER OF SWORN SROs (SUM OF A-H, should match the number provided in Question 20a)

22. Do the sworn officers who are primarily assigned to public K-12 schools...	All	Some	None
a. carry a firearm while working in schools?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. wear a uniform while working in schools?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. have arrest powers?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. receive specialized SRO training?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

[IF YOUR ANSWER TO Q22 IS "NONE", GO TO Q24]

Findings: No issues. One respondent questioned why we offered "some" as an option, if we were interested in sworn officers. Another respondent noted that options a) and b) should also be asked in Q30 (equipment) and that sworn officers would have arrest powers.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

23. Which entities provide SRO-specific training to sworn officers in your agency? Mark all that apply.

- Our agency itself (e.g., academy or in-service)
- School district
- State organization
- National organization (e.g., NASRO)
- Other (Please specify): _____

Findings: Several respondents mentioned in house training.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

TRAINING TOPICS OFFERED TO SWORN SROs
--

24. Which of the following law enforcement training topics are offered by your agency to sworn officers in your SRO program? Please consider training provided to all sworn officers or specifically for SROs.

Law enforcement activity/topic	Yes	No
a. De-escalation strategies and techniques	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Gangs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Procedures for handling juvenile offenders	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Responding to calls for service on the school campus	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Responding to incidents in the classroom	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Social media monitoring	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Use of deadly force	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Use of less lethal force	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: One respondent commented that the question was confusing – viewed as asking about stand-alone training. Most respondents noted that the listed topics were offered for everyone in the department, not specifically for SROs. One participant said their agency was small and did not host trainings, but they offered them through outside organizations. One participant was unclear why social media monitoring was on the list, given that it was not a law enforcement activity.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

25. Which of the following prevention and planning training topics are offered by your agency to sworn officers in your SRO program? Please consider training provided to all sworn officers or specifically for SROs.

Prevention and planning topic/activity	Yes	No
a. Administering special safety programs (e.g., drugs, legal issues, crime awareness, distracted driving)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Bullying deterrence	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Crisis preparedness planning	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Security audits/assessments of school campuses	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Substance abuse recognition	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Truancy intervention	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/> Findings: No issues. Two respondents commented that truancy was generally through the school district and another participant left it blank. One participant noted that for d), they mostly got on-the-job training, but no formal training.

Recommendations: Leave as is. Consistent with round 1 findings, consider removing “truancy intervention” from the response options.

26. Which of the following social and behavioral training topics are offered by your agency to sworn officers in your SRO program? Please consider training provided to all sworn officers or specifically for SROs.

Social and behavioral topics	Yes	No
a. Child/adolescent psychology/development	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Conflict resolution	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Cultural sensitivity and/or cultural competency	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Mental health issues	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Mentoring staff, students, and/or families	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Positive school discipline (e.g., PBIS)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Students with disabilities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: No issues. Suggested an “Other” option to be added.

Recommendations: Leave as is.

ACTIVITIES PERFORMED BY SWORN SROs

27. Please indicate whether each law enforcement activity is required of any of your agency’s sworn SROs while on duty. Mark ‘yes’ if the activity is included in your internal departmental policy, included in a formal agreement with schools/school districts, or expected by department executives.

Law enforcement activity:	Yes	No
a. Crisis preparedness planning	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Issuing criminal citations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Making arrests	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Patrolling school facilities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Responding to calls for service on the school campus	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. Responding to incidents in the classroom	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Security audits/assessments of school campuses	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h. Social media monitoring	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: No issues. Respondents found the instructions clear and helpful. At least three respondents got hung up on “required” and noted that a better rewording might be to ask whether the officers participated in the listed activities as part of their daily responsibilities.

One respondent was unclear what “crisis preparedness planning” referred to. Another participant was not sure why “social media monitoring” would be part of their responsibilities outside of an investigation.

Recommendations: Similarly to Q13, replace “required” with an active voice: Do sworn officers in your agency participate in each of the following law enforcement activities while on duty?

28. Please indicate whether each mentoring activity is required of any of your agency’s sworn SROs while on duty. Mark ‘yes’ if the activity is included in your internal departmental policy, included in a formal agreement with schools/school districts, or expected by department executives.

Mentoring activity:	Yes	No
a. Advising school staff, students, or families (e.g., one-on-one, in a group, etc.)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Coaching athletic programs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Field trip chaperone	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Supervising/coordinating non-athletic extra-curricular activities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Truancy intervention	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: One respondent commented that truancy issues in their state were handled by the school. Several respondents noted that nothing was “required” and said that it suggested a formalized agreement. One respondent suggested clarifying whether we were interested in agreed upon activities in writing, or informal.

One participant was unclear on what they would be advising on in option a). The same respondent was not sure what was included under e) - making sure kids do not leave school grounds, or knocking on doors to see where students were?

Recommendations: Similarly to Q27, replace “required” with an active voice: Do sworn officers in your agency participate in each of the following mentoring activities?

29. Please indicate whether each teaching activity is required of any of your agency’s sworn SROs while on duty. Mark ‘yes’ if the activity is included in your internal departmental policy, included in a formal agreement with schools/school districts, or expected by department executives.

Teaching activity:	Yes	No
a. Administering special safety programs (e.g. drugs, legal issues, crime awareness, distracted driving)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Conflict resolution	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Faculty / staff in-service presentations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Parent organization presentations	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Findings: Several respondents commented on “required”, noting that SROs would involve themselves in these activities, but were not required to do so. At least two respondents correctly selected “no” when answering this question; another incorrectly selected “yes” as the question was interpreted to ask about activities “despite the lack of formalized agreement”.

Recommendations: Similarly to previous questions, reword the question to avoid “required”:

Do sworn officers in your agency participate in each of the following teaching activities?

30. Which of the following equipment are issued to your agency’s sworn SROs while on the school campus? Mark all that apply.

Item:	Issued by department for use	Not formally issued, but allowed use	Not allowed
a. Baton/nightstick	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
b. Body-worn camera	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c. Conducted energy device (e.g. Taser)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d. Handheld metal detector wand	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e. Hobble restraints	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f. OC Spray/foam	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g. Other (Please specify): _____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

IF YOU REPORTED “0” NONSWORN OFFICERS IN QUESTION 20, PART B, GO TO QUESTION 41 ON PAGE X.

Findings: One respondent noted that none of the response options fit, as for example, all officers were issued a baton, but the agency did not want the SROs to have them in schools. Similarly, metal detectors were not “issued”, but could be allowed. The respondent suggested to distinguish among “regularly used/carried”, “not regularly used/carried”, and “not issued/permitted”. Another respondent made a similar comment for tasers; yet another gave body-worn cameras in schools as an example of something that is issued, but not allowed in schools.

“Other” response to this questions included “Velcro or alternative restraints”, and “handcuffs”. One respondent did not know what “hobble restraints” meant.

One respondent noted that the same equipment was issued across the department, regardless of SRO status and commented that the question made it sound that we were interested of what only SROs were issued.

One participant did not see the skip instructions in the box and continued on to answer Q31, entering zeros.

Recommendations: Consider adding “firearms” and “uniform” from Q22 here as well, as suggested by a respondent.

Consider adding a response option, so the response categories include:

- Issued and carried
- Issued, but not carried
- Not issued, but allowed
- Not allowed

NONSWORN SROs

2.3.2 LEA Survey Rostering Component

41. In addition to this survey, we provided you with a form to list all of the sworn officers from your jurisdiction who are primarily assigned to work in K-12 public schools. We will use this list to randomly select some of these individual officers to receive a survey about activities they perform. Included on the form is guidance for anonymizing the list of officers should you prefer not to provide direct identification of the officers.

Are you willing to provide this information?

- Yes—please complete the Officer Roster Form
- No—please indicate why you are not willing to provide this information:

Findings: In general, respondents did not have any issues providing this information. The survey itself was estimated to take 15-40 minutes to complete (including checking with other sources for certain information).

The completion of the roster itself ranged from 2-3 min to 16 hours. The purpose of the roster was clear to respondents. One respondent questioned why we needed to collect race, but said he did not mind providing it. Another respondent questioned why we needed to make the selection and suggested that once the agency was committed, it would select officers based on the specified criteria. In general, respondents did not need additional approvals to provide that data. Suggestions for what roster identifiers to use varied from initials, name and command, employee number, badge/shield numbers (even though it was noted that some agencies recycle badge numbers and might be a problem to link back at a later stage), and numbers provided by state academies. Interestingly, among the 14 returned rosters, 6 contained only initials, 1 contained initials and ID number, 3 provided full names, 3 provided last names, and 1 provided an ID number only. Table 2 summarizes the number of SROs reported by agency type, the identifiers selected by the agency and the estimated burden to fill out the roster.

Table 2. Roster Information and Estimated Burden by Agency Type

Agency Type	SRO count	Information provided to uniquely identify SROs	Requested information about each SRO provided	Estimated Burden
Local PD	8	Initials	All	Minimal
Local PD	2	Initials	All	A couple of minutes
Local PD	2	First Initial, Last Name	All	5 minutes
Local PD	17	Last name	All	(not provided)
Local PD	19	Initials	All	Few minutes
Local PD	4,746	Full name	All	16 hours
Local PD	17	Initials and ID number	All	5 minutes
Local PD	3	Initials	All	Negligible
Sheriff's office	3	Initials	All	30 min (survey + roster)
Sheriff's office	12	Full Name	All	Less than 10 minutes
Sheriff's office	16	First Initial, Last Name	All	(not provided)
Sheriff's office	25	Full Name	All	About 5 minutes
Sheriff's office	6	Initials	All	2-3 minutes
Sheriff's office	1	ID number	All	5 minutes

One respondent noted that initials and badge numbers were public information; another respondent suggested collecting e-mail addresses, so we could contact SROs directly, as he was afraid that a request coming from him might influence the responses. Participants did not have any concerns completing the roster.

Recommendations: Given that half of the respondents provided SROs' names rather than badge numbers or other identifiers, we would recommend abbreviating the text in the request to explicitly ask for names. Such change would later allow us to follow up with SRO nonrespondents by mailing a package directly to them. In order to minimize burden, we would also suggest considering asking LEAs to indicate whether they would prefer to distribute the invitation letters/packages to their SROs, or whether we could contact them directly and provide mailing address(es) if different from the agency address.

INTRODUCTION

READ THE INTRODUCTION:

Thank you for agreeing to participate in this interview and fill out the survey form. The survey is designed to collect information on a wide range of topics related to School Resource Officer programs. The purpose of our interview today is to evaluate our survey questions pertaining to the characteristics of your law enforcement agency and its school resource officer program. The study is sponsored by the Bureau of Justice Statistics. Today, we are hoping to get your feedback and opinions on these questions, as well as your thoughts on whether you were able to answer them.

This is how it will work. We would go over the survey question by question and will talk about how you came up with your response. If you find anything confusing or if the question was challenging to answer, please let me know. I may ask you some follow-up questions. Please feel free to tell me anything that comes to mind or ask me anything you are unclear about. We are very interested in finding out which questions needed a lot of effort to answer, which ones confused you, and which ones you were not able to answer at all. Your participation in this interview is very important because it will help us improve the questionnaire. Before we begin, please take a moment to read the consent form that I emailed you.

Do you have any questions? Do I have your consent to continue with the interview?

1. Yes
2. No – END INTERVIEW

OK let's begin.

41. In addition to this survey, we provided you with a form to list all of the sworn officers from your jurisdiction who are primarily assigned to work in K-12 public schools. We will use this list to randomly select some of these individual officers to receive a survey about activities they perform. Included on the form is guidance for anonymizing the list of officers should you prefer not to provide direct identification of the officers.

Are you willing to provide this information?

Yes—please complete the Officer Roster Form

No—please indicate why you are not willing to provide this information:

Probes:

- Is the purpose of the Roster Form clear?
- Do you require additional approvals to complete and submit the Roster Form?
- If providing unique identifiers other than the officers' names, what is the simplest identifier for you to use yet still be able to link it back to individual SROs (e.g., badge number? Officer initials?)?
- Is SRO race/ ethnicity readily available?
- Is SRO gender readily available?
- Do you have any concerns about completing the Roster Form?
- Would you have any concerns about distributing the SRO surveys to the officers randomly identified by RTI?
- Not including time spent on the call, approximately how much time was spent filling out the survey and roster form (if possible, note two separate numbers for survey and roster form)?

END. Thank you very much. Those are all the questions we have for you.
