SETTLEMENT OFFER INSTRUCTIONS

This Office has no authority to completely forgive any debt owed to the United States Government. However, we can accept less than the full amount due in satisfaction of the debt (or part of the debt, as in a release of one party or security) if accepting less than the full amount due is in the best interests of the Government.

Compromise Offers: After successfully completing a Compromise Offer, we will release all debtors from liability to this Department for this debt. We will forgive any remaining debt and the entire claim will be settled. Since a successful Compromise Offer ends all further HUD collections, the offer must be large enough to justify releasing all parties. Department of Treasury regulations require HUD to report any debt forgiven as a result of a Compromise Offer to the Internal Revenue Service. HUD makes no representation as to any tax liability that may exist due to this reporting. Questions concerning tax liability should be directed to a tax attorney, advisor or accountant, or the IRS.

Partial Settlement Offers: After successfully completing a Partial Settlement Offer, we will release only the settling parties from liability to this Department for this debt. The settling parties no longer will owe this Department any money for this claim. We reserve the right to continue to pursue any co-maker(s) not expressly released. A partial settlement release from this Department will not affect any liability between co-debtors as a result of the subject debt.

The amount of the offer should be based upon the amount owed as well as your ability to pay. An offer must typically be paid in a lump sum. You may wish to consider sources of borrowing money (such as lending institutions, relatives, friends or against life insurance policies) so that you can make an adequate offer and take advantage of this opportunity. Short term payment plans may be accepted if in our best interests. To submit an offer, please follow these instructions:

1. Complete and sign the attached Settlement Offer Form. Be sure to state the type of offer and the exact dollar amount of your offer. Please indicate the source of funds to be used to pay this offer.
2. Thoroughly complete and sign the attached Financial Statement, and any attachments, and return them with your offer form. Be sure to include your HUD debt under Schedule B of the Financial Statement. Attach supporting documentation to verify the information on the Financial Statement. Also, attach a copy of your most recently filed Federal income tax return, with all schedules.

Financial Statements and tax returns are required from each party to be released. If you live with a non-indebted party, your Financial Statement must disclose the financial condition of the entire household.

When submitted, we will review your offer promptly. This review includes an analysis of your financial position based on your Financial Statement, any verifying evidence or information you submit with the Statement, your most recent Federal income tax return and other credit and income information available to us.
