Dear [Teacher/Health Professional],

We are writing to you to let you know about an exciting research opportunity. The USDA Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) is looking for feedback from teachers of health education to help inform the development of free educational resources for teachers. If you are interested, please click the link below to be taken to an online survey where you will complete a 10-minute survey.

The information gathered from these surveys will be vital for understanding how technology can best support health and nutrition education for children in a way that is convenient and useful for teachers and schools.

You will answer questions about your experiences with and attitudes about educational technology, including what you use in your classroom to help students learn and ways you communicate with students and their families. Please know that we want to hear from you, regardless of your level of educational technology experience.

All information will be kept confidential; your name will not be associated with any of your responses. Participation is completely voluntary and you may stop at any time. Please select the link below to be taken to survey.
