

SUPPORTING STATEMENT - PART A

DoD Consent to Conduct Installation Records Check (IRC) – DD Form 3058

OMB Control Number 0704-XXXX

1. Need for the Information Collection

The information collection requirement is necessary to obtain consent from impacted individuals to conduct an installation records check (IRC) of the Family Advocacy Program (FAP) Central Registry and military law enforcement records and the Defense Central Index of Investigations (DCII) to determine suitability to work with children under 18 years of age in DoD Child Care Services Program. Impacted individuals include: employees, applicants for employment, contractors, volunteers, Family Child Care (FCC) providers, and adult family members of FCC providers residing in the home.

Authority is granted by 34 United States Code § 20351, DoDI 1402.05 and DoDI 1400.25 (731) of individuals who work or support DoD Child Care Services programs on a military installation to ensure appropriate background investigation are conducted to determine suitability or fitness of the individual engaged with children under 18 years of age with regular and recurring contact. The data collected will provide military installation criminal history background information used to screen and analyze an individual's suitability or fitness to work with children under 18 in DoD Child Care Services Programs.

2. Use of the Information

The form gives consent to obtain an IRC of Individuals who provide child care services on a military installation. The information will be used to obtain a favorable suitability or fitness determination prior to working with children under 18 years of age. Respondents include DoD applicants, current employees, contractors, family child care providers, adult family members residing in the home, and volunteers. Disclosure is voluntary; however, failure to furnish requested information may impact the individual's ability to work with and around children.

The collection instrument is electronic and/or optional hard copy. Respondents are provided the collection instrument during the initial hiring, annually for FCC in-home providers and upon the 5 year reverification for employees and volunteers. The collection instrument requires each respondent to complete the form using a computer. The respondent may receive assistance in filling out the form, such as having the form read to them by the human resource officer or security manager. The individual must sign the form.

The form is completed at the program site and electronically filed in the program's system of record or employees' personnel file. There are no other communications sent to the respondent associated with the information collection.

Installation Family Advocacy Program (FAP), military law enforcement/security and the Defense Central Index of Investigation (DCII) will certify that these checks have been completed and no information exists that precludes the individual from working with children. The human resource or security office will review the certification and, if no derogatory information is disclosed, maintains the data securely in the Service Component's system of record or employee's personnel file. If derogatory information is disclosed, the submitting program manager will consult with the installation human resource officer or security monitor. The consent does not expire and may be utilized to conduct periodic reverification annual checks.
