INTRODUCTION

Purpose of Form 4062(e)-01, Form 4062(e)-02, Form 4062(e)-03, and Form 4062(e)-04

Form 4062(e)-01 is used to report to the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) the occurrence of an event described in section 4062(e) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) (“4062(e) event”) and to request that PBGC determine the liability of an employer following the event. Form 4062(e)-02, Form 4062(e)-03, and Form 4062(e)-04 are used to provide required notifications to PBGC when an employer elects a certain payment option to satisfy its resulting liability.

Section 4062(e) of ERISA applies to an employer only if it has one or more single-employer pension plans covered by title IV of ERISA. In these instructions, “plan” always means such a plan, unless otherwise stated. The section was substantially amended in December 2014. See www.pbgc.gov for further information.

Occurrence of a 4062(e) Event

In general, a 4062(e) event occurs for an employer with one or more plans, when:

- There is a permanent cessation of the employer’s operations at a facility;
- That permanent cessation results in separation from employment of the employer’s eligible employees at the facility, and
- Those separated eligible employees are more than 15 percent of the employer’s total number of eligible employees; where
- Eligible employees are employees eligible to participate in any of the employer’s employee pension benefit plans, including defined benefit plans and defined contribution plans.

The date of the 4062(e) event is the later of the date of the permanent cessation of the employer’s operations at the facility or the first date by which more than 15 percent of eligible employees have been separated.

See sections 4062(e)(2)(C) and (D) and (6)(B) of ERISA for special rules about counting eligible employees where employees are replaced or relocated by the employer or another employer or where there is a related separation of employment of eligible employees within three years before the permanent cessation.

Exemptions

Section 4062(e)(3) of ERISA provides that a plan is exempt from section 4062(e), if for the plan year preceding the plan year in which the cessation occurred:

- Fewer than 100 participants had accrued benefits under the plan as of the plan valuation date (note: not the participant count date for premium purposes), or
- The variable-rate premium (VRP) funded status was 90 percent or greater.

A cessation is not considered a 4062(e) event with respect to a plan that fits one of these exemptions.

Notice of 4062(e) Event and Request for Determination of Employer Liability

In general, if there is a 4062(e) event for an employer at a facility in any location, then under section 4062(e)(1) of ERISA the employer is treated, with respect to its plans covering participants at the facility, as if the employer were a withdrawing substantial employer under a multiple-employer plan. Under section 4063(a), PBGC must receive notice of the event and determine the employer’s liability arising from it. See 29 CFR part 4062 (PBGC’s regulation on Liability for Termination of Single-Employer Plans). Submission of Form 4062(e)-01 satisfies this notice requirement.

Election to Make Additional Contributions to Satisfy Liability

Section 4062(e)(4) of ERISA provides that an employer may elect to satisfy its liability by making certain annual additional contributions to the plan for seven years following the event. See Form 4062(e)-02 for how this additional contribution is calculated. If a funding waiver is received for a plan year within this period, no additional contribution is due for that plan year. The additional contributions end once the plan has a VRP funded status of 90 percent or more for a plan year within this period or until all seven annual contributions are made.

Information on additional options for satisfying liability can be found on PBGC's website (www.pbgc.gov).

Policy of Non-Enforcement of Employer Liability

PBGC will not initiate enforcement of liability against a liable employer if:

- (1) the employer meets the October 2012 guidelines, in effect on June 1, 2014, for strong-company cases, or
- (2) each of the employer's affected plans has a participant count for purposes of the flat-rate premium of less than 100 as of the most recent participant count date before the 4062(e) event.

See October 2012 Guidelines for Enforcement of ERISA section 4062(e) (www.pbgc.gov/sites/default/files/legacy/docs/4062\(e\)-enforcement-of-guidelines.pdf-enforcement-of-guidelines.pdf)).

Note: Meeting one or both of these criteria does not affect the obligation to report the 4062(e) event to PBGC. If an employer believes it meets one of these criteria, it may include with the event notice supporting information for why it believes it qualifies for non-enforcement.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Who Must File Forms 4062(e)-01, 02, 03, and 04

Form 4062(e)-01

Form 4062(e)-01 is used to notify PBGC of the 4062(e) event and request a determination of the employer's liability. Both the employer causing the 4062(e) event and the plan administrator of a plan covering participants at the facility that is the location of the 4062(e) event are responsible for filing Form 4062(e)-01. However, if either the employer or the plan administrator files the form, then the obligation to file is satisfied for both parties.

Form 4062(e)-02

Form 4062(e)-02 is used to notify PBGC that an employer is electing to make a series of seven annual additional contributions to a plan pursuant to section 4062(e)(4) of ERISA to fulfill its liability arising from the 4062(e) event. The employer is responsible for filing Form 4062(e)-02.

Form 4062(e)-03

Form 4062(e)-03 is used to notify PBGC that an employer that previously elected to make annual additional contributions under section 4062(e)(4) of ERISA: (1) has made an annual additional contribution; (2) has received a funding waiver from the IRS and is not required to make an additional contribution for a specific plan year; or (3) is no longer required to make annual additional contributions because the plan has a VRP funded status of 90 percent or more. The employer is responsible for filing Form 4062(e)-03.

Form 4062(e)-04

Form 4062(e)-04 is used to notify PBGC that an employer that previously elected to make annual additional contributions under section 4062(e)(4) of ERISA has failed to make one of its required annual additional contributions. The employer is responsible for filing Form 4062(e)-04.

When to File Forms 4062(e)-01, 02, 03, and 04

The following chart shows due dates for the Form 4062(e) series

To notify PBGC that:	Form	Due Date
A 4062(e) event occurred	4062(e)-01	60 days after the event occurred
The employer elected to make additional contributions under 4062(e)(4)	4062(e)-02	30 days after the earlier of the date the Form 4062(e)-01 was filed or the date PBGC makes a determination that a 4062(e) event occurred
The employer paid a 4062(e)(4) annual additional contribution for one of the years	4062(e)-03	10 days after the contribution was made
The IRS granted a funding waiver for one of the plan years (and thus, no 4062(e)(4) annual additional contribution is due for that plan year)	4062(e)-03	30 days after IRS grants a funding waiver
The plan’s VRP funded status is at least 90 percent (and thus, no 4062(e)(4) annual additional contribution is required for that plan year or any future year)	4062(e)-03*	10 days after the contribution would have otherwise been due
A 4062(e)(4) additional contribution was not paid	4062(e)-04	10 days after the contribution was due

* If a VRP funded status of at least 90 percent for the year of cessation is known by the time Form 4062(e)-02 is filed, this notification may be made as part of that filing. In such situations, the requirement to file Form 4062(e)-03 is waived.

How to File

Submit the 4062(e) forms by email, U.S. mail, or a commercial delivery service.

Multiple Plans

A separate set of forms is required for each plan covering participants at the facility where the 4062(e) event took place, unless the plan is exempt (see above).

Information Previously Provided to PBGC
