Your Health Information in MHS GENESIS Patient Portal Data

The MHS GENESIS Patient Portal provides a view into your Electronic Health Record (EHR) and allows you and your Military Health System providers to communicate securely. The information available for you to view through the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal is not a comprehensive view of all the data in your EHR. When you send information to your healthcare provider through the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal, MHS clinical policies will determine if that information is stored in your EHR where it will be accessible to members of your care team and staff. Information that becomes a part of your EHR remains in your EHR even if you stop using MHS GENESIS Patient Portal. In accordance with MHS clinical policies, only secured messages that become part of your EHR will be viewable.

Messages sent through the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal may not be limited to your Military Health System provider. Your physician or other professional health care provider may designate other Military Health System personnel to manage and respond to your messages. These may include nursing or other administrative staff who review messages and either respond or route the message to a provider for response. You should consider this before using the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal messaging feature to communicate sensitive matters. You may prefer to discuss such matters directly with a specific Military Health System provider to better preserve your privacy.

To access the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal, patients will login using their DS LOGON Username and Password (<https://myaccess.dmdc.osd.mil/>). Access/authentication will be governed by DS LOGON.

Sharing Your Protected Health Information

Through the self-service portal, you may set up family member proxy access by granting viewing privileges to family members. The family member who is granted proxy access to your account will be able to view the same information through the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal as you are able to view. If you grant proxy access to another individual through the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal, you acknowledge and accept responsibility for your decision to provide them access to potentially sensitive information.

How Information is Collected and Used

The MHS GENESIS Patient Portal collects certain information from you in three primary ways: (i) from web server logs, (ii) with cookies and web analytics tools, and (iii) user-supplied information.

(i) IP Addresses (Server Log Information). An IP address is a number automatically assigned to your computer whenever you access the Internet. All computer identification on the Internet is conducted with IP addresses, which allow computers and servers to recognize and communicate with each other. The MHS GENESIS Patient Portal collects IP addresses in order to conduct system administration, report Aggregate Information (as defined below) to affiliates or partners, and to conduct web site analysis. The MHS GENESIS Patient Portal will also use IP addresses to identify any connecting devices and aid in the identification of users that do not comply with the Terms of Use agreement, or threaten the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal service, web site, users, clients or others.

(ii) Cookies and Web Analytics Tools. The MHS GENESIS Patient Portal places a text file called a 'cookie' in the browser files of your computer. Cookies are pieces of information that a website transfers to an individual's hard disk for record-keeping purposes. The MHS GENESIS Patient Portal uses cookies during your online session, secures your information, and improves performance of the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal. These cookies do not contain any personal information. You may disable cookies in your browser but doing so will restrict your access to only public pages and you will no longer be able to access the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal. In addition to cookies, some web analytics tools used by the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal place a single-pixel GIF file on a computer as a tracking indicator.

(iii) User Supplied Information. Information about you is collected during the registration process. Information is collected for the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal through the DS LOGON process (through an interface with Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System). DoD or its EHR Contractor may use your account and registration information to communicate with you about your health care services, including Cerner services related to MHS GENESIS.

Use of Cookies

Cookies may be categorized as session or persistent, which describes the length of time that they stay on your system. Persistent cookies are not used on MHS GENESIS Patient Portal. A session cookie is a small piece of textual information that a server places temporarily on your browser during the time your browser is open. Session cookies in the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal enable the recognition of your logon identification when you log on so your identity does not need to be established for every request.

How Information is Shared and Disclosed

DoD and its EHR Contractor does not rent, sell or share personal information about you with other people or nonaffiliated companies, except when we have your permission, or under the following circumstances:

(a) Disclosures to Third Parties Assisting In Our Operations. Your personal information may be provided to affiliates, subsidiaries and trusted partners who work on behalf of or with us under confidentiality agreements. These companies may use your personal information to assist us in our operations.

(b) Aggregate Information. Information about you that does not allow you to be identified or contacted ("Aggregate Information") may be provided to third parties, such as usage information and trends. When Aggregate Information is provided, it is pooled with many individual records and stripped of any data that could be used to identify you before it is used.

(c) Disclosures Under Special Circumstances. Information about you may be provided to respond to subpoenas, court orders or legal process, or to establish or exercise our legal rights or defend against legal claims. We believe it is necessary to share information in order to investigate, prevent or take legal action regarding illegal activities, suspected fraud, situations involving potential threats to the physical safety of any person, violations of the Terms of Use, or as otherwise required by law.

Notice of Privacy Practices

The Health Information Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) Privacy Rule requires the Military Health System (MHS) to provide its patients and beneficiaries a Notice of the MHS' Privacy Practices (NoPP). The HIPAA required MHS NoPP is available here: <http://www.health.mil/NOPPBrochure>. Use and disclosure of HIPAA protected health information is subject to such privacy practices.

Your records may be disclosed to the Department of Veterans Affairs for determining benefits and providing care, as well as to certain other federal agencies to facilitate research and analysis. Use and disclosure of your records outside of DoD may also occur in accordance with the DoD Blanket Routine Uses published at <http://dpclid.defense.gov/Privacy/SORNSIndex/Blanket-Routine-Uses/> and as permitted by the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended (5 U.S.C. 552a(b)).

Logging Out

You should remember to log out when you are finished accessing the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal. This prevents someone else from accessing your personal information if your session has not automatically "timed out" or shut down. Logging out is critical if you share or use a public (e.g., library, kiosk, café) computer.

These restrictions on disclosure of information may include accessing personal health and medical information through electronic or Internet based services. If you have questions regarding this matter, contact your local Military Treatment Facility or the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System Support Office for more information about disclosure of health information and applicable privacy laws within the state or jurisdiction that you or your family receive care.

Security

The MHS Genesis Patient Portal uses encryption software and other security measures to provide for the secure management and transmission of information. While we use state-of-the-art security, no system can perfectly guard against risks of intentional intrusion or inadvertent disclosure of information. Furthermore, when using the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal from your home or public locations (e.g., a hotel, a café, a public hotspot), information may be transmitted over servers and networks beyond the control of DoD and its suppliers.
