

Phone interview introduction:

Hello. I'm (Researcher Name) from the Department of Navy Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office and am calling to get any insights you may have on how to best improve future Regional Discussions on Sexual Assault and Harassment at America's Colleges, Universities and Service Academies. Thank you for agreeing to speak with us today.

We will not be collecting any identifying information and we have a handful of questions for you that should take no more than ten minutes of your time. The information collected today will help us improve future Regional Discussions and ensure that we provide participants with the tools needed to support university, college, service academy and broader military efforts to reduce sexual violence. Please know that your participation is voluntary and you are welcome to end the interview at any time. Do you have any questions before we get started? Move to interview questions from here, providing the OMB control number, date, and agency disclosure notice prior to start.