5. Description of service Touchpoint is measuring:

Voluntary Protection Programs (VPP) support the safety of 130 million workers employed across 8 million worksites. To participate, employers must submit an application to OSHA and undergo a rigorous onsite evaluation by a team of safety and health professionals. Union support is required for applicants represented by a bargaining unit. VPP participants are re-evaluated every three to five years to remain in the programs. VPP participants are exempt from OSHA programmed inspections while they maintain their VPP status.

6. Point of service at which the Touchpoint survey is presented:

A link to the survey is included in a follow-up email sent to New VPP customers post-interaction.
