2. Eligibility Requirements

Attorneys in private practice are not eligible to be included on the List unless they establish that they cannot provide pro bono legal services through or in association with a non-profit organization or pro bono referral service. They must declare under penalty of perjury that such organizations or referral services are unavailable, or that the range of services provided by the existing organizations or referral services is insufficient to address the needs of the community.

Attorneys must also describe the good-faith, but unsuccessful, efforts that they have made to volunteer and work through, or in association with, a non-profit organization or referral service. A “good-faith-efforts” declaration should include the phone number, email, physical address, and website for the organizations/referral services contacted by the attorney, the name of the individual(s) spoken with at the organization(s), and dates and times of those communications. If the organizations/referral programs are unable to accept a private attorney as a volunteer or refer pro bono immigration court cases to him or her, the declaration should explain why the organizations/referral programs will not accept his or her assistance.

List below the 50 hours per year of pro bono legal services provided in the [PLACE HOLDER FOR IMMIGRATION COURT] for the past three years. Pro bono legal services are those uncompensated legal services performed for indigent individuals or the public good without any expectation of either direct or indirect remuneration, including referral fees (other than filing fees or photocopying and mailing expenses), although a representative may be regularly compensated by the firm, organization, or pro bono referral service with which he or she is associated. You may only count hours spent on cases before the immigration court(s) where an attorney or representative has filed an EOIR-28. Those hours may include both in-court and out-of-court preparation time. Do not include clients served "low bono" or hours spent on appeals filed before the Board of Immigration Appeals.

2. Eligibility Requirements

Attorneys in private practice are not eligible to be included on the List unless they establish that they cannot provide pro bono legal services through or in association with a non-profit organization or pro bono referral service. They must declare under penalty of perjury that such organizations or referral services are unavailable, or that the range of services provided by the existing organizations or referral services is insufficient to address the needs of the community.

Attorneys must also describe the good-faith, but unsuccessful, efforts that they have made to volunteer and work through, or in association with, a non-profit organization or referral service. A “good-faith-efforts” declaration should include the phone number, email, physical address, and website for the organizations/referral services contacted by the attorney, the name of the individual(s) spoken with at the organization(s), and dates and times of those communications. If the organizations/referral programs are unable to accept a private attorney as a volunteer or refer pro bono immigration court cases to him or her, the declaration should explain why the organizations/referral programs will not accept his or her assistance.

List below the 50 hours per year of pro bono legal services provided in the [PLACE HOLDER FOR IMMIGRATION COURT] for the past three years. Pro bono legal services are those uncompensated legal services performed for indigent individuals or the public good without any expectation of either direct or indirect remuneration, including referral fees (other than filing fees or photocopying and mailing expenses), although a representative may be regularly compensated by the firm, organization, or pro bono referral service with which he or she is associated. You may only count hours spent on cases before the immigration court(s) where an attorney or representative has filed an EOIR-28. Those hours may include both in-court and out-of-court preparation time. Do not include clients served "low bono" or hours spent on appeals filed before the Board of Immigration Appeals.
