GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Brine Pond: A type of non-focusing solar collector consisting of a pool of salt water heated by the sun.

De-Oiled: A breakdown of the fine structure of a bird's feathers that makes them waterproof. This waterproof system works by covering a thicker layer of material that traps air, keeping the wearer warm and dry. When this structure is disrupted, as can happen during an oil spill, the bird is no longer properly insulated from the cold air and water and can die from exposure to the elements.

Incidental Finding: is used to describe a bird was found any way other than a structured survey process (either a Mortality Survey or Structured Research). Examples of incidental findings are: (1) the finding occurred as a result of a power outage; (2) an individual was found during the course of another activity; (3) an individual was out looking for birds, but not using any structured survey protocol or recording protocol (they may go out every day, but walk a different route and search for different periods of time and do not record either).

Mortality Survey: Refers to a structured survey designed to find dead/injured birds within a defined area and time. It includes a defined search area, search times and intervals, and standardized search protocols.

Project Proponent: An entity with overall responsibility for the implementation and registration of projects. This is as opposed to a partner who simply owns and finances these projects. For instance, project proponent Western Wind is a developer that is owned by the parent company.

Routine Infrastructure Survey: Refers to a routine and systematic facility or infrastructure survey (e.g., monitoring of buildings, turbine pads, towers, oil pits, pipes, fences) that includes a consistent and clearly defined search area, search times and search intervals. Staff goes out every week day (Mon-Fri) for 4 hours and walks the same route to systematically inspect each turbine pad in the area. This is a Routine infrastructure survey. If consistent search areas, times and intervals such as these cannot be applied to the monitoring of a finding, then the option Incidental finding should be used.

Structured Research: Refers to research activities such as field work, bird re-release and use of telemetry (satellite, VHF, PIT tags).

Sub-Adult: A bird that has some adult characteristics but is not yet sexually mature. The term Sub-Adult usually refers to large birds that may take several years to reach full maturity and recognizable adult plumage.
