AGENCY: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

ACTION: Notice and request for comment.

Collection of Information

Proposal for the Following New

1. Title: Information Collection for Innovation Pilot Programs.

OMB Number: 3064–NEW. Form Number: None.

Affected Public: FDIC-supervised institutions (state-chartered banks and savings institutions that are not members of the Federal Reserve System) and innovative companies that partner or plan to partner, or provide services to such institutions.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 50.

Estimated Total Annual Burden: 3,000 hours.

General Description of Collection: The FDIC seeks to engage and collaborate with innovators in the financial, nonfinancial, and technology sectors to, among other things, identify, develop and promote technology-driven innovations among community and other banks in a manner that ensures the safety and soundness of FDICsupervised and insured institutions. An innovation pilot program framework will provide a regulatory environment in which the FDIC, in conjunction with individual proposals collected from innovators, including banks, will provide tailored regulatory and supervisory assistance, when appropriate, to facilitate the testing of innovative and advanced technologies, products, services, systems, or activities.

While greater detail and the parameters of a planned innovation pilot program framework will be separately announced at a later date, innovators (banks and firms in partnership with banks) will be invited to voluntarily propose time-limited pilot programs, which will be collected and considered by the FDIC on a case-by-case basis. Innovators may request to participate by submitting proposals during a set time period for submissions. Applicants will propose the design and parameters of the pilot program tests, as well as any tailored regulatory and supervisory assistance needed from the FDIC. Collected proposals will be assessed, prioritized and identified for testing, either on their own or as part of a subject-area focused grouping of pilot programs.

The FDIC anticipates that proposals will involve cutting-edge innovations and novel approaches or applications involving a banking product, service, system, or activity that benefits and can lead to better outcomes for consumers through, for example, an increased range of products and services, reduced costs, or improved access to financial services, or that decreases operational, risk management, or compliance costs for insured depository institutions.

Accepted pilot programs may be conducted and monitored concurrently with a number of pilot programs selected in a given cohort with limited participants. Subject-area groupings could include pilot programs that match a general theme or product area of great promise or particular interest to the banking sector or the FDIC. This may be announced in advance of the collection or afterwards if multiple pilot programs proposals are found to share key attributes or defining characteristics (e.g., similar product concept; banks of certain size; like customer focus).

Proposals will be collected from FDIC-supervised institutions (statechartered banks and savings institutions that are not members of the Federal Reserve System), who may submit a pilot program proposal individually or together with companies that provide or aim to provide technologically driven products, services, or systems through direct contractual arrangements, partnerships, or joint ventures (this includes third-party service providers). Proposals may also be collected from innovators that are not themselves FDIC-supervised institutions and do not have a partnering institution but who may submit a pilot program proposal; however, the nonbank will be eligible to receive only a preliminary nonobjection to its proposal conditioned on later submission (and collection) of the proposal in partnership with an FDICsupervised institution.

The collection will be limited by eligibility for consideration. FDIC-supervised institutions that wish to participate in a pilot program must: (1) Have a demonstrated record of engaging in appropriate risk management; (2) be well-capitalized; (3) be well-rated for compliance and safety and soundness; and (4) not have significant pending supervisory or enforcement actions (or significant regulatory investigations). Other firms seeking to participate in a pilot program must: (1) Be a U.S. domicile; (2) conduct all pilot program banking activity (products and services) through an FDIC-supervised institution partner; and (3) not involve persons who have been convicted of any criminal offense involving dishonesty, breach of trust, or money laundering.

Request for Comment
