

2021 Your Money, Your Goals Cohort

Important facts about the Your Money, Your Goals cohort:

- Training and technical assistance will be available to up to 40 organizations
- It is NOT a grant, contract, sub-contract, or funding to organizations
- Applications due X/X/20XX

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) will provide Your Money, Your Goals toolkits, training, and technical assistance to up to 40 organizations across the country that are committed to helping financially empower the populations they serve. The CFPB will support chosen organizations in the 2021 cohort, with 1) Your Money, Your Goals and related financial empowerment and consumer education materials; 2) Training tailored to each organization to prepare staff, volunteers, or other community partners to use and to train others on the use of the tools and resources included in Your Money, Your Goals; and 3) Technical assistance to help each organization integrate financial empowerment and capability strategies into their existing delivery model. Training and technical assistance will be provided through a CFPB-contracted vendor.

The toolkit and other materials are available in English and Spanish on our website (consumerfinance.gov/your-money-your-goals). When combined with the training, these materials provide resources that staff and volunteers need to help people set goals, choose financial products, and build skills in managing money, credit, and debt.

If you are selected, the Bureau will provide the following:

- A Train-the-Trainer event (in-person or via webinar) led by specialized trainers and/or CFPB staff for designated members of the organization's team. These designated trainers would then lead workshops for frontline service providers, volunteers, or community partners to help them use Your Money, Your Goals in their work. In some organizations, these individuals may have or take on a formal training role. In others, they may be informal leaders, champions and mentors who share resources and motivate their colleagues to learn about and use the tools.
- Hard copies of the toolkit and other Your Money, Your Goals materials for the staff/ volunteers the organization trains.
- Technical assistance in determining training priorities and adapting materials to the unique needs and context of the organization or program.
- Coordination calls for all cohort participants at key points during the year to promote peer learning, support and to share promising practices.

To participate

The CFPB anticipates that training and technical assistance will begin in January 2021 and conclude in December 2021.

Your Money, Your Goals is designed for organizations that serve low-income and/or economically vulnerable people. The tools and training approach is designed for organizations and frontline staff that have one-on-one interactions with vulnerable consumers. While the materials may be used in wide variety of settings, past participants have generally been most successful in integrating the tools if they work in a setting that allows them repeated, direct contact with consumers over a period of time. Other criteria for the cohort include:

- Commitment to integrating financial empowerment into their work. Demonstrate an understanding of the benefit of helping the people you serve become more financially capable and how their increased financial capability may help them achieve their goals and the outcomes your organization's services support.
- Staff capacity for training on and use of the Your Money, Your Goals toolkit. Demonstrate capacity to dedicate staff time to provide support or assistance and lead training of other staff within the organizations and/or other partners within your community.
- Staff capacity to use toolkit with clients. Demonstrate capacity to commit staff or volunteer time to using the Your Money, Your Goals toolkit with low-income and/or economically vulnerable populations.
- Commitment to fulfill survey collection responsibilities. This includes collecting and returning training surveys to the CFPB's contracted vendor for compilation of data.

We are interested in engaging organizations with a variety of capacities and approaches. We welcome both organizations experienced in the work of financial empowerment and those interested in learning how to integrate financial capability topics into their work to increase the value of their existing services. As you consider how you would implement Your Money, Your Goals, you may find the Your Money, Your Goals Implementation Guide helpful. It contains detailed information on the process of planning training workshops, considering how to integrate use of the tools into your work (including links to in-depth integration resources created by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services), and understanding how you can use CFPB's Financial Well-being Scale with the people you serve.
