This program's paper documents have been totally replaced with an on-line electronic system. it now takes an applicant roughly 8 to 12 hours to collect information, apply online, and attach the required data. The average hourly rate should be between $65 and $100 dollars per hour, as the applicants are senior company officials applying. In addiion, the applicant usually requires 3 phone calls to the FAA to obtai assistance in finding what they need to apply.

To apply you now start here: How to become a Designee:
