- 1. Explain the circumstances that make the collection of information necessary. Identify any legal or administrative requirements that necessitate the collection.

Chapter 31 of Title 31 of the United States Code authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to prescribe the terms and conditions, including the form, of United States Treasury bonds, notes and bills. The information collected is essential to establish and maintain Tax and Loss Bond accounts (31 CFR Part 343). This regulation governs issues, reissues and redemptions of Tax and Loss bonds. The information requested will be used to issue a Statement of Account to the entity, establish issue and maturity dates for the bonds, and provide electronic payment routing instructions for the proceeds.

- 2. Indicate how, by whom, and for what purpose the information is to be used.
The information currently being collected is used by the Bureau of the Fiscal Service to perform functions in connection with the issuance, reissue and payment of Tax and Loss bonds. - 3. Describe whether, and to what extent, the collection of information involves the use of automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology. What consideration is given to use information technology to reduce burden?

The offering of Tax and Loss Bonds utilizes information technology to reduce burden by allowing funds for purchases to be submitted via the Fedwire funds transfer system; when bonds are redeemed, payment will be made through use of the ACH system, a direct deposit method of payment through which participating institutions exchange funds electronically; and registering bonds in book-entry form.

- 4. Describe efforts to identify duplication. Why can't any similar information already available be used or modified for use for the purposes described in item 2 above?
Duplicate information is not requested. The information is collected for a single purpose as described in item 1. No other federal governmental agency collects this type of information, therefore, no duplication exists
- 5. If the collection of information impacts small business or other small entities describe any methods used to minimize burden?

6. What consequences to Federal program or policy activities and what, if any, technical or legal obstacles to reducing burden will occur if this collection is not conducted or is conducted less frequently?
