Sponsored by: Administration for Children and Families

Conducted by: RTI International • The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill • Washington University in St. Louis

Dear [SUPERVISOR NAME],

The Administration for Children and Families (ACF), an agency within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, provides funding for activities related to the interests of children and families. ACF has hired RTI International (RTI) to conduct the National Survey of Child and Adolescent Well-Being (NSCAW).

NSCAW is the only source of nationally representative information on children and families being served by the child welfare system. NSCAW also offers the unique opportunity to learn more about the work experiences of the staff who serve these vulnerable children and families. In this phase of the study, we are asking agency directors/administrators, supervisors, and caseworkers in agencies participating in NSCAW to share their work experiences. ACF will use the information collected to improve child welfare policies and programs.

Your agency agreed to help us with this important study. You were randomly selected for participation from a list of supervisors at your agency. This one-time survey will take about 35 minutes to complete. The survey will ask about your roles and responsibilities as a supervisor, your educational background and skills, training and professional development, job satisfaction, your relationship with the caseworkers you supervise, and how the COVID-19 pandemic may have influenced your work.

A local interviewer will contact you to answer any questions you may have and to schedule your survey. We understand the heavy demands on your time. The interviewer will work with you to schedule the survey at a convenient time. If needed, the survey can be completed in more than one session. We will use the information you share for research purposes only and will keep your information private to the extent permitted by law. Reports or data files released by RTI will not identify you or any other participant.

The success of the study depends on those selected to take part. Thank you in advance for your support.

Sincerely yours,

Christine Fortunato, Ph.D., Project Officer
Administration for Children and Families
