11 Describe the purpose of the system.

Public Law 107-188 requires maintenance of a national database of entities that are registered for possession of Select Agents and Toxins, laboratory compliance with national safety guidelines, security measures including controlled access to Select Agents and Toxins, security screening of entities and personnel, and criminal/civil penalties for inappropriate use of Select Agents & Toxins.

The Import Permit Select Agent System (IPSAS) is a joint CDC and USDA Agriculture Select Agent Services (AgSAS) system is designed to control, protect, and store the use, possession and transfer of Select Agents and Toxins. IPSAS maintains information regarding an entity's Select Agent registration: facility information; a list of select agents or toxins to be possessed, used, or transferred by the entity; a list of individual(s) who will have access to select agents and toxins; characterization of the select agents and toxins; and additional laboratory information.

IPSAS is a Project Matrix, Surveillance, and Resource Management Information System for the management and processing of Import Permit (IP) and Select Agent (SA) information. It provides the Select Agent program with the document and records management support in compliance with National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) standards. It also provides for a secure national database and processing environment, to include data entry, scanning and complex reporting capability in support of national incident response or appropriate law enforcement queries.

IPSAS maintains information regarding an entity's (i.e., institution or organization) Select Agent registration: facility information; a list of select agents or toxins to be possessed, used, or transferred by the entity; a list of individual(s) who will have access to select agents and toxins; characterization of the select agents and toxins; and additional laboratory information.
