Coronavirus Food Assistance Program

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) is requesting EMERGENCY CLEARANCE because of the possible sign-up date in early January to begin accepting applications and distributing payments for contract growers & sod and pullet producers.

FSA is requesting EMERGENCY CLEARANCE because FSA was directed by USDA to implement additional CFAP provisions due to the feedback from local office staff and the agricultural industry. These changes will provide additional CFAP assistance to growers that suffered COVID-related revenue losses, to ensure that calculations and most accurately reflect sales, to provide equitable producer treatment and to clarify certain provisions appearing in CFAP 2. The CFAP assists producers of agricultural commodities marketed in 2020 who face continuing market disruptions, reduced farm-level prices, and increased production and marketing cost due to COVID-19. The CFAP application period for all additional CFAP assistance will end in the middle of February.

1. Circumstances that make the collection of information necessary.

Producers will receive payments under the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Stability (CARES). Estimated gross outlays for CFAP Additional Assistance are estimated at $5.06 billion. After taking into account payment limitations, net outlays are estimated at $3.73 billion. Top-up payments to beef cattle producers and swine producers account for the bulk of net outlays (79 percent of the total), followed by payments to contract swine, chicken, egg, and turkey producers (at 17 percent of the total)..
