Appeal A Decision

If you recently applied for benefits and were denied, you may request an appeal online. If you have supporting documents, you may provide them online and/or by mail. You can file an appeal online even if you live outside of the United States.

If you were denied for medical reasons, use "Appeal Medical Decision" option below. If you were denied due to the issues related but not limited to income, resources, overpayments, or living arrangements, use "Appeal Other Decision" option.

Non-Medical Appeal

Getting Ready

Before you start, you should gather the information you need to complete your appeal, including:

- The notice you received from SSA in the mail informing you of our decision
- Supporting documents including forms, legal documents, and written statements
- Name, address, and phone number of your personal appointed representative if you have one

Being prepared will help you spend less time completing your appeal online.

You will be able to provide supporting documents either online by or mail. Certain documents we can only accept as originals or certified copies; you will need to bring or mail them to your local Social Security Office.

Submit an Appeal

Completing your appeal online may take 10 to 15 minutes. Your answers will be saved automatically as you go through your appeal, but you will not be able to leave the application and come back to it later.

1.3. Information You Need

Information You Need To Complete Your Non-Medical Appeal

If you recently received a non-medical determination concerning your Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, or Special Veterans Benefits you may request an appeal online.

The checklist below will help you gather the information you may need to appeal our decision.

Note: Please print this page to use while you gather your materials.

Gather Personal Information

- Name, Social Security number, address, and phone number.
- The date on the decision notice you received.
- The name, address, and phone number of your personal appointed representative if you have one.

Gather Supporting Documents

If you have documents that support your appeal, they will help Social Security make a decision on your claim. Electronic documents may be uploaded with your online appeal request. Documents that may be uploaded include:

- Pay stubs, W-2s, federal tax returns
- Letters from your employer about your retirement or reduction in hours of work

Certain documents must be originals or certified copies and cannot be uploaded during your online appeal request, including:

- Birth certificate, naturalization certificate, passport, marriage certificate, divorce decree

If you need to provide any of these documents to support your appeal, you should mail or bring them to your local Social Security Office. The originals will be returned to you.

After you submit your appeal, we will provide a cover sheet you can use to submit with any documents you want us to include with your request.

1.28. Appointed Representative

Definition: Appointed Representative

An appointed representative is an attorney or other legal representative, recognized by Social Security (SSA), who can assist individuals with their case or appeal and act upon their behalf.

Friends, family members, and others can help you with your appeal. However, if they are not your appointed representative, the answer to this question should be "no."

If you decide to have a representative, you must sign and submit a written statement to us appointing him or her to represent you in your dealings with Social Security. You may use form SSA-1696 \(Appointment of Representative\) and submit it to SSA.

To learn more on how to be represented, visit us at <http://mwww.ba.ssa.gov/representation/>

1.32. Options for appearing

Options for appearing

The advantages to appearing at your hearing are:

- A hearing is the only time you can appear before the judge who will decide your case.
- This is your opportunity to present your case in person.
- You have the right for representation at the hearing by an attorney or other person of your choice.
- The judge may ask questions to resolve issues raised by a review of the evidence and what he or she learns at the hearing.
- You can bring witnesses to the hearing who can provide relevant testimony.

If you choose not to have a hearing:

- The judge will decide the case based on the evidence in your file, without the benefit of your testimony.
- There may be evidence missing from your file, but that may not be apparent without a hearing.

Note: If you do waive your right to appear, you may withdraw the waiver of the right to appear at a hearing at any time prior to the official decision.
