

Welcome Message and Screener

Welcome

Welcome to our survey for ClinicalTrials.gov, and thank you for agreeing to participate!

OMB Control Number: 0925-0648

Expiration Date: 05/31/2021

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 10 minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a current valid OMB control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to NIH Project Clearance Branch, 6705 Rockledge Drive, MSC 7974, Bethesda, MD 20892-7974, ATTN: PRA (0925-0648). Do not return the completed form to this address.

This survey is being conducted by ICF, a consulting services company working with the National Library of Medicine to explore ways to enhance the usability of the ClinicalTrials.gov website.

ClinicalTrials.gov is the largest online database of privately and publicly funded clinical studies conducted around the world. Patients, their family members, health care professionals, researchers, and others visit the site for information about clinical studies on a wide range of diseases and conditions.

This activity will help us better organize the information on the ClinicalTrials.gov website so that visitors can easily find what they are looking for. It should take you under 10 minutes to complete. There are no right or wrong answers to the questions. We are testing the organization of the information on the website, not you!

Click on the "Continue" button to get started.

Continue

Questions

In order to direct you to the correct test, please tell us why you typically visit the ClinicalTrials.gov website? *

Please select a link below.

To find a trial for yourself or someone else to participate in

To do research

To register a study or submit study results

Continue

 Indicates required fields*

Screener Option: To find a trial for yourself or someone else to participate in

Before we begin

Please answer the following questions

When did you last use the ClinicalTrials.gov website to look for a trial? *

- Within the last week
- Within the last month
- Within the last 6 months
- Within the last year
- Never used ClinicalTrials.gov
- Not sure
- Other

How did you hear about ClinicalTrials.gov? *

- Internet search (for example, Google)
- Social media (for example, Twitter, Facebook)
- Referred by someone
- News
- Don't remember

Continue

 indicates required fields*

Instructions

Here's how it works:

1. For each scenario, please select the label where you think you might find the information you are asked to find.
2. Click through the list until you arrive at one that you think helps you complete the task.
3. If you click on something unintentionally you can always change your selection by clicking one of the above selections.

This is not a test of your ability, there are no right or wrong answers.

That's it, let's get started!

Continue

Task 1 of 5

Skip this task

You want to search for studies, but the search options on the homepage don't include what you're looking for. Where else would you go to search?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Find studies

Advanced search

← I'd find it here

Task 2 of 5

Skip this task

You are reading a study on ClinicalTrials.gov and there is a term you are not familiar with. Where on the site would you go to find the meaning of that term?

ClinicalTrials.gov

About studies

Glossary of common site terms

← I'd find it here

Task 3 of 5

Skip this task

You want to learn about potential risks and benefits of study participation. Where do you think you will find information about that?

ClinicalTrials.gov

About studies

Learn about studies

← I'd find it here

Task 4 of 5

Skip this task

Where would you go to understand which studies on ClinicalTrials.gov qualify for listing on the website?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Homepage

Disclaimer

← I'd find it here

Task 5 of 5

Where would you go to find out how to get updates on studies that interest you?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Resources

RSS feeds

← I'd find it here

Thanks

Survey complete! Thanks again for your participation. Your feedback is incredibly useful in helping to determine how our content should be organized, so we can make our website easier to use.

You may now close this window or navigate to another web page.

Screener Option: To do research

Before we begin

How often do you visit ClinicalTrials.gov to do research? *

- Daily
- Several times a week
- Once a week
- Once a month
- Only as needed
- Other

Continue

 indicates required fields*

Instructions

Here's how it works:

1. For each scenario, please select the label where you think you might find the information you are asked to find.
2. Click through the list until you arrive at one that you think helps you complete the task.
3. If you click on something unintentionally you can always change your selection by clicking one of the above selections.

This is not a test of your ability, there are no right or wrong answers.

That's it, let's get started!

Continue

Task 1 of 9

You want to see if there is any information specific to researchers on ClinicalTrials.gov. Where might you find that information?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Homepage

For Researchers

← I'd find it here

Task 2 of 9

You want to use the advanced search features to find a specific type of clinical study, but you're not sure how it works. Where would you go for help?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Find studies

How to Search

← I'd find it here

Task 3 of 9

You want to customize the columns and filters shown with your search results but you're not sure how to change them. Where might you find help with that?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Find studies

How to use search results

← I'd find it here

Task 4 of 9

You've created a good search strategy and your search results are accurate. Where would you go to find out how to get updates when new studies are added that fit your search?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Resources

RSS feeds

← I'd find it here

Task 5 of 9

You've found a set of clinical studies relevant for your research and you want to download this set to take a closer look. You're not sure how to do it. Where might you go for help?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Resources

Downloading content for analysis

← I'd find it here

Task 6 of 9

You want to find tips and guidance on using ClinicalTrials.gov information for research. Where would you expect to find information about that?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Resources

Selected publications

← I'd find it here

Task 7 of 9

To help you interpret study information, you want to understand the definition of a term on a record. Where would you look up the meaning of the term?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

Support materials

← I'd find it here

Task 8 of 9

You want to see if there are any expert tools, such as an API, to help you with downloading and analyzing study information. Where do you think you will find information on that?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Resources

Downloading content for analysis

← I'd find it here

Task 9 of 9

You want to see if there are limitations in using or repurposing data found on ClinicalTrials.gov. Where would you look for that information?

ClinicalTrials.gov

About site

Terms and conditions

← I'd find it here

Thanks

Survey complete! Thanks again for your participation. Your feedback is incredibly useful in helping to determine how our content should be organized, so we can make our website easier to use.

You may now close this window or navigate to another web page.

Screener Option: To register a study or submit study results

Before we begin

How often do you visit ClinicalTrials.gov to do research? *
...

- Daily
- Several times a week
- Once a week
- Once a month
- Only as needed
- Other

Continue

 indicates required fields*

Instructions

Here's how it works:

1. For each scenario, please select the label where you think you might find the information you are asked to find.
2. Click through the list until you arrive at one that you think helps you complete the task.
3. If you click on something unintentionally you can always change your selection by clicking one of the above selections.

This is not a test of your ability, there are no right or wrong answers.

That's it, let's get started!

Continue

Task 1 of 11

You want to see if there is any general information about submitting information to ClinicalTrials.gov for study sponsors and investigators. Where might you find that information?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Homepage

For Study Record Managers

← I'd find it here

Task 2 of 11

You want to check on the status of a study you submitted. Where would you go to log in to the PRS?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Homepage

For Study Record Managers

← I'd find it here

Task 3 of 11

Your organization wants to submit a study to ClinicalTrials.gov but you don't have an account. Where would you go to apply for an account?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

How to apply for an account

← I'd find it here

Task 4 of 11

You've just submitted a record for registration and want to know how long quality control review generally takes. Where would you find that information?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

How to register your study

← I'd find it here

Task 5 of 11

Where would you find information on how to update a study record listed on ClinicalTrials.gov?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

How to edit your study record

← I'd find it here

Task 6 of 11

Your organization's study is complete. You want to enter the results for that study, but you're not sure how to do it. Where can you find help on how to do that?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

How to submit your results

← I'd find it here

Task 7 of 11

Where would you go to find videos and slides from webinars?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

Training materials

← I'd find it here

Task 8 of 11

You want to search for studies that are similar to yours to see how results information was provided. How would you do that?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Find studies

Advanced search

← I'd find it here

Task 9 of 11

Where would you go to understand FDAAA/Final Rule (42 CFR Part 11) requirements that your study may be subject to?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

FDAAA 801 requirements

← I'd find it here

Task 10 of 11

You want to review other policies that your study may be subject to. Where would you find that information?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

Support materials

← I'd find it here

Task 11 of 11

Where might you find step-by-step instructions on how to use PRS to submit your study record?

ClinicalTrials.gov

Submit studies

Support materials

← I'd find it here

Thanks

Survey complete! Thanks again for your participation. Your feedback is incredibly useful in helping to determine how our content should be organized, so we can make our website easier to use.

You may now close this window or navigate to another web page.