

Justification for Non-substantive/not material change
OMB No. 3133-0193
Joint Standards for Assessing the Diversity Policies and Practices

The National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) is seeking OMB approval for a revision to its Annual Voluntary Credit Union Diversity Self-Assessment Form 15004, which OMB approved on September 19, 2019, as part of its approval of “Joint Standards for Assessing the Diversity Policies and Practices” information collection (OMB control no. 3133-0193; expiration date – 9/30/2021). The agency seeks to revise this form by making updates to modernize the page design of the form, condense/remove certain information to accurately capture the self-assessment by credit unions. There will be no impact to the currently approved burden based on these changes. The NCUA believes that this constitutes a non-substantive change that can be approved by OMB under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) without undertaking a full PRA clearance, and requests OMB approval of the revision as a non-substantive change.
