Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute (SIPI) accepts American Indian and Alaskan Natives who meet one of two tribal affiliation criteria:

1. Verification of US Federal tribal membership from a Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) agency or tribal census office; or
2. Must be one-quarter percent or more blood quantum of a federally recognized tribe(s), verified by either a BIA agency or tribal census office

Documents needed for Admission:

- Admission Application
- Verification of Tribal Affiliation (CDIB)
- Official High School Transcript (showing graduation date)
- Transfer students must provide all official college transcripts
- Physical Record (New Applicants Only – If you are a continuing or readmit at SIPI and have not been out of school for two or more consecutive trimesters, you do not need to submit another physical record.) Physical records can be turned in 30 days after instruction begins.
- Immunization Record (can be turned in 30 days after instruction begins)
- DD 214 Form (if claiming veteran status)

Please Note: Incomplete applications will not be eligible for Federal Financial Aid or scholarships. For example, if you do not submit Official Transcripts from other colleges you have attended in the past for review, your application will be incomplete until all required documents have been received by the Admissions office.

Reporting any false information on a student's application may be grounds for denying admission or suspension from the institution. The Admissions Office will not be able to copy, transfer or return documents submitted for admission to SIPI. All accepted new and transfer students are required to take the ACCUPLACER Test for placement. Based on the student's placement and individual minimum test scores, the student may be required to enroll in Developmental Studies or Technical Preparation courses.

Admitted students are required to register for each trimester they attend.

Minimum age of acceptance to SIPI is 17 years of age; accepted students who are 17 years of age are not eligible to reside in the lodges until their 18th birthday.

Minimum age of acceptance into the HSET program (formerly the GED® Program) is 18 years of age.
