

Instructions for Request for Exemption for Intending Immigrant's Affidavit of Support

Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services

USCIS
Form I-864W
OMB No. 1615-0075
Expires 03/31/2020

What Is the Purpose of Form I-864W?

Form I-864, Affidavit of Support Under Section 213A of the INA, (or in certain cases, Form I-864 EZ, Affidavit of Support Under Section 213A of the INA) is legally required for most family-based immigrants and some employment-based immigrants to show that they have adequate means of financial support and are not likely to become a public charge. Certain classes of immigrants are exempt from the Form I-864 or Form I-864EZ requirement and therefore must file Form I-864W instead.

How Is Form I-864W Used?

You must use Form I-864W instead of Form I-864 or Form I-864EZ with your application for an immigrant visa or adjustment of status if any of the following apply:

1. You have earned or can receive credit for 40 quarters of coverage under the Social Security Act (SSA). If you have 40 quarters of SSA coverage, you are exempt from the requirement to file Form I-864 or Form I-864EZ. You can acquire 40 qualifying quarters in the following ways:
 - A. Working in the United States for 40 quarters in which you received the minimum income established by the Social Security Administration;
 - B. By being credited under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) section 213A(a)(3)(B) with quarters worked by your spouse during the marriage or a parent during the time you were under 18 years of age; or
 - C. A combination of the above.

If you are claiming credit for quarters worked by a spouse or parent, you may not count any quarter in which your spouse or parent was receiving means-tested public benefits. Include all SSA forms necessary to establish that you have or can receive credit for 40 quarters of coverage.

2. The intending immigrant is a child who will become a U.S. citizen upon entry under INA section 320. Under INA section 320, some children become U.S. citizens immediately upon admission to the United States or adjustment of status to that of a lawful permanent resident (LPR).

A child becomes a citizen under INA section 320 if:

- A. At least one parent of the child is a U.S. citizen;
- B. The child is under 18 years of age;
- C. The child is residing in the United States in the legal and physical custody of the U.S. citizen parent after having been lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

For this purpose, a child is "residing" with the parent in the United States if their principal actual home is at the same address in the United States.

INA Section 320 applies to an adopted child if the child meets the requirements applicable to adopted children under INA Section 101(b)(1)(E), (F) or (G).

If the adopted child, after becoming an LPR, will be residing in the United States in the legal and physical custody of the citizen parent, then Form I-864W may be filed instead of Form I-864 or Form I-864EZ if the child is classified:

- A. Under INA section 101(b)(1)(E) on the basis of an approved Form I-130;

- B. Under INA section 101(b)(1)(F) on the basis of an approved Form I-600, AND the child was adopted by the petitioner (and spouse, if any) abroad AND at least one adoptive parent personally saw and observed the child before or during the adoption proceeding; or
- C. Under INA section 101(b)(1)(G) on the basis of an approved Form I-800, if the child was adopted by the petitioner (and spouse, if any) abroad.

Form I-864 or Form I-864EZ is required, instead of Form I-864W if the child is classified:

- A. Under INA section 101(b)(1)(F) on the basis of an approved Form I-600, but the child will be adopted in the United States (if the petitioner is married, this includes a child who will not be adopted by the spouse until after the child's admission to the United States);
 - B. Under INA section 101(b)(1)(G) on the basis of an approved Form I-800, but the child will be adopted in the United States (if the petitioner is married, this includes a child who will not be adopted by the spouse until after the child's admission to the United States); or
 - C. If a child classified under INA section 101(b)(1)(F) was adopted by the petitioner (and spouse, if any) abroad, but neither adoptive parent personally saw and observed the child before or during the adoption proceeding, the child will be considered to be coming to be adopted in the United States unless the adoptive parents establish that, under the law of the state of residence, the foreign adoption will be recognized without the need for a "re-adoption" or similar formal court proceeding.
3. You are filing for an immigrant visa as a self-petitioning widow(er). If you are filing as a self-petitioning widow(er) using Form I-360, Petition for Amerasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant, you are exempt from the Form I-864 requirements if your Form I-360 is approved and you are applying for lawful permanent residence.
 4. You are filing for an immigrant visa as a self-petitioning battered spouse or child. If you are filing as a self-petitioning battered spouse or child using Form I-360, you are exempt from the Form I-864 requirements if your Form I-360 is approved and you are applying for lawful permanent residence.
