

All information you provide in this form is protected under the National Science Foundation Act of 1950 and the Privacy Act of 1974, specifically, under two systems of records: NSF-12, "Fellowships and Other Awards" and NSF-50, "Principal Investigator/Proposal File and Associated Records." Both systems include records maintained by NSF as a result of applications for financial support and subsequent evaluation of applicants and their proposals. System 12 contains records on individuals applying or nominated for and/or receiving NSF support, either individually or through an academic institution, including fellowships or other awards to individuals of various types. System 50 contains records on Individuals (known as principal investigators) who have requested and/or received research or other support from NSF, either independently or through an academic or other institution.

The primary purpose of collecting this information is to enable NSF to identify outcomes of projects funded under NSF awards for use in management evaluation and for reporting to the Administration and Congress, especially under the Government Performance and Results Act, 5 U.S.C. 306 and 39 U.S.C. 2801-2805. In addition, it also helps NSF to evaluate the progress and results of NSF-funded projects for program management, evaluation or reporting.

Data collected may be merged with other data files to carry out statistical studies. Disclosure may be made for this purpose to NSF contractors and collaborating researchers, other Government agencies, and qualified research institutions and their staffs for the purpose of analyzing data, preparing scientific reports and articles, and selecting samples for a limited number of carefully defined follow-up studies. NSF contractors are subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act. The results of such studies are statistical in nature and do not identify individuals.

As published in Federal Register Notice, 79 FR 76398, information collected under System 12 maybe disclosed to: 1) Members of Congress in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual, 2) Department of Justice or the Office of Management and Budget under the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act, 3) NSF's legal representatives and other outside counsel, where the agency is a party in litigation or has an interest in litigation, 4) General Services Administration (GSA) and the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) under the authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906, 5) Appropriate agencies, entities, and persons in response to an actual or suspected compromise or breach of personally identifiable information, 6) Department of Justice or other agencies in the event of a pending court or formal administrative proceeding, 7) Government agencies and other entities authorized to perform audits of the agency and its activities, 8) Appropriate Federal, state, or local law enforcement agencies in cases when NSF becomes aware of an indication of a violation or potential violation of civil or criminal law or regulation, and 9) News media and the public when a matter has become public knowledge and/or when the Office of Director determines that there exists a legitimate public interest in the disclosure of the information.

Per the Federal Cybersecurity Enhancement Act of 2015, your data are protected from cybersecurity risks through screening of the federal information systems that transmit your data. Information collected under this form will be kept confidential. Any information released publicly (such as statistical summaries) will be in a form that does not personally identify you or other respondents. Your response is voluntary and failure to provide some or all of the requested information will not in any way adversely affect you.
