Abstract: The survey is designed to gather feedback from planetary science community members that have a self-described interest in the use of terrestrial analogs or places on earth with past or present geological environmental or biological conditions. The survey is intended to assess the obstacles that exist related to training, research, sample collections, and data archiving within analog projects, the need for coordination across the community, and what products and services might be needed to further terrestrial analog use and support exploration. Results from the survey will not be targeted at a particular audience but will instead be used to encourage responses and actions by various parts of the community.
