PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT NOTICE

The FDIC may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB number. Section 19 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. § 1829) requires the FDIC's written consent prior to any participation in the affairs of an insured depository institution by a person who has been convicted of crimes involving dishonesty, breach of trust, or money laundering. Individuals or insured depository institutions can seek the FDIC's written consent by filing Section 19 Application Form 6710/07. This form distinguishes between applications that are sponsored by an insured depository institution and applications that submitted by individuals requesting a waiver of the institution sponsorship requirement. The estimated burden for this collection of information is 16 hours per response. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to the Paperwork Reduction Officer, Legal Division, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20429

Pursuant to Section 19 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. § 1829(a), persons convicted of certain criminal offenses are prohibited from participating in the affairs of an insured depository institution without the express written consent of the FDIC. This prohibition applies to any person convicted of a criminal offense involving dishonesty, breach of trust, or money laundering or who has entered into a pretrial diversion or similar program in connection with a prosecution for such offense. In the absence of prior FDIC approval, such persons are prohibited from being directly or indirectly affiliated with an insured depository institution, owning or controlling an insured depository institution, or otherwise directly or indirectly participating in the conduct of the affairs of an insured depository institution. Insured depository institutions are also prohibited from permitting such persons from engaging in any of the aforementioned activities.

APPLICATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 19 OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE ACT

FDIC RULES AND POLICIES WITH RESPECT TO SECTION 19 (12 U.S.C. §1829)

On September 21, 2020, the FDIC entered into its Rules of Practice and Procedure Part 303, Subpart L: Section 19 of the FDI Act (Consent to Service of Persons Convicted of, or Who Have Program Entries for, Certain Criminal Offenses) (12 C.F.R. part 303, subpt. L) (Subpart L). Subpart L replaces the FDIC's former Statement of Policy on Section 19 and establishes the FDIC's standards for implementing Section 19 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. § 1829) (Section 19) and for accepting and processing applications filed under Section 19. Applicants should review Subpart L, these application instructions, the FDIC's informational brochure Your Guide to Section 19, and contact the applicable FDIC Regional or Area Office prior to filing an application. These resources can be found at <https://www.fdic.gov/regulations/applications/resources/section19.html>.

As amended by the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989, the Comprehensive Thrift and Bank Fraud Prosecution and Taxpayer Recovery Act of 1990, and the Financial Services Relief Act of 2006, Section 19 prohibits, without the prior written consent of the FDIC, a person convicted of any criminal offense involving dishonesty or breach of trust or money laundering (covered offenses), or who has entered into a pretrial diversion or similar program (Program Entry) in connection with a prosecution for such covered offense, from becoming or continuing as an institution-affiliated party, owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, an insured depository institution, or otherwise participating, directly or indirectly, in the conduct of the affairs of an insured depository institution (covered individual). In addition, Section 19 forbids an insured depository institution from permitting such a person to engage in any conduct or to continue any relationship prohibited by Section 19.

The FDIC is precluded from granting consent for ten years, beginning on the date the conviction or agreement of the person becomes final, to a person convicted of certain crimes enumerated in Title 18 of the United States Code, absent a motion by the FDIC and approval by the sentencing court. Convictions or Program Entries for a violation of the Title 18 sections specified in Section 19 cannot qualify for the de minimis exceptions described below.

Whoever knowingly violates the prohibitions of Section 19 shall be fined not more than $1,000,000 for each day such prohibition is violated or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

De Minimis Rule: Automatic Consent

Subpart L provides that consent is automatically granted and an application will not be required where the covered offense is considered de minimis. Subpart L establishes general de minimis criteria where any conviction or Program Entry for a covered offense may qualify, and further states that the de minimis exception will apply to specified circumstances and offenses. The general de minimis rule and the additional categories of de minimis rules are described below.

(a) *De Minimis Offenses - In General

Approval is automatically granted and an application will not be required where the covered offense is considered de minimis because it meets all of the following criteria:

- There are no more than two convictions or Program Entries of record for a covered offense; and
- Each offense was punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less and a fine of $2,500 or less, and the individual served 3 days or less of jail time; and
- All of the sentencing requirements associated with the conviction, or conditions imposed by the Program Entry, have been completed; and

- The offense was not committed against an insured depository institution or insured credit union; and
- If there are two de minimis covered offenses, each conviction or Program Entry was entered at least 3 years before an application would otherwise be required (i.e., prior to the date that the most recent conviction or Program Entry began).

The FDIC considers jail time to include any significant restraint on an individual's freedom of movement which includes, as part of the restriction, confinement to a specific facility or building on a continuous basis where the person may leave temporarily only to perform specific functions or during specified times periods or both. Jail time includes confinement to a psychiatric treatment center in lieu of a jail, prison, or house of correction on mental-competency grounds. The definition is not intended to include any of the following: (i) persons on probation or parole who may be restricted to a particular jurisdiction, or who must report occasionally to an individual or to a specified location; (ii) persons who are restricted to a substance-abuse treatment program facility for part or all of the day; and (iii) persons who are ordered to attend outpatient psychiatric treatment.

(b) De Minimis Offenses - Additional Categories

Age at Time of Covered Offense

- If there are two convictions or Program Entries for a covered offense, and the actions that resulted in the convictions or Program Entries all occurred when the individual was 21 years of age or younger, then the general de minimis criteria in (a), above, shall apply, except that the waiting period is reduced to 18 months (not 3 years).

NOTE: All of the sentencing requirements associated with the conviction, or conditions imposed by the Program Entry, must be completed.

Convictions or Program Entries for Small-Dollar, Simple Theft

- Convictions or Program Entries based on a simple theft of goods, services and/or currency (or other monetary instrument) shall be considered de minimis offenses if the following conditions apply:
  - The value of the currency, goods, or services taken is $1,000 or less; and
  - The theft was not committed against an insured depository institution or insured credit union; and
  - The convictions or Program Entries did not include burglary, forgery, robbery, identity theft, or fraud; and
  - The individual has no more than one other de minimis offense subject to Section 19; and
  - If there are two de minimis covered offenses under any category, each conviction or Program Entry was entered at least 3 years before an application would otherwise be required (i.e., such time must pass since the date that the most recent conviction or Program Entry began) or at least 18 months prior to the date an application would otherwise be required if the actions that resulted in the conviction or Program Entry all occurred when the individual was 21 years of age or younger.

NOTE: All of the sentencing requirements associated with the conviction, or conditions imposed by the Program Entry, must be completed.

Convictions or Program Entries for Insufficient Funds Checks

- Convictions or Program Entries based on the writing of "bad" or insufficient funds check(s) shall be considered a de minimis offense if the following conditions apply:
  - The aggregate total face value of all "bad" or insufficient funds check(s) cited across all the conviction(s) or Program Entry(ies) for bad or insufficient funds checks is $1,000 or less; and

- o No insured depository institution or insured credit union was a payee on any of the “bad” or insufficient funds checks that were the basis of the conviction(s) or Program Entry(ies); and
- o Other than for bad checks, the individual has no more than one other de minimis offense subject to Section 19.

NOTE: For “bad” checks offenses, the individual need not have completed all of the sentencing requirements associated with the conviction, or conditions imposed by the Program Entry, before the covered offense may qualify as de minimis.

Convictions or Program Entries for the Use of a Fake, False, or Altered Identification Card

- Convictions or Program Entries for the creation or possession of a fake, false, or altered form of identification by a person under the age of 21 or for the use of such identification by a person under the age of 21 to circumvent age-based restrictions on purchases, activities, or premises entry, shall be considered de minimis if the following conditions apply:
  - o The individual has no more than one other de minimis offense subject to Section 19, and
  - o If there are two de minimis covered offenses under any category, each conviction or Program Entry was entered at least 3 years before an application would otherwise be required (i.e., such time must pass since the date that the most recent conviction or Program Entry began) or at least 18 months prior to the date an application would otherwise be required if the actions that resulted in the conviction or Program Entry all occurred when the individual was 21 years of age or younger.

NOTE: For fake identification offenses, the individual need not have completed all of the sentencing requirements associated with the conviction, or conditions imposed by the Program Entry, before the covered offense may qualify as de minimis.

In addition, Subpart L requires that any person who meets these criteria must be covered by a fidelity bond to the same extent as others in similar positions. A person availing themselves of the automatic consent under this provision is required to disclose the presence of the conviction or Program Entry to which they have claimed such consent pursuant to the de minimis criteria to all insured depository institutions in which affairs such person will participate. If an insured depository institution or person avails themselves of the criteria, the institution should maintain documentation to support the de minimis nature of the covered crime(s).

Written Application for FDIC Consent

There are two methods by which a covered individual can apply to the FDIC for written permission to become an institution-affiliated party or participate in the affairs of an insured depository institution. The first method involves an insured depository institution filing a Section 19 application on behalf of a prospective director, officer, or employee (Sponsorship). When an insured depository institution will not file a Section 19 application on behalf of a covered individual, a second method allows that individual to seek a waiver of the requirement that an insured depository institution file a Section 19 application on their behalf (Individual Waiver).

Sponsorship

When an application is required, forms and instructions should be obtained from, and the application filed with, the appropriate FDIC Regional or Area Office where the sponsoring institution is headquartered (a list of FDIC Offices is included in this application). Only an insured depository institution may file an application on behalf of a covered individual, under Section 19, unless the FDIC first grants a waiver for an individual to file a Section 19 application on his or her behalf. Sponsorship applications are generally intended to allow the covered individual to work in a specific job at a specific institution and may also be subject to the condition that the prior consent of the FDIC will be required for any proposed significant changes in the person's duties or responsibilities. Upon FDIC review, such proposed changes may require a new application. Sponsorship approvals are not transferable to another insured institution. If the FDIC has granted approval for a person to participate in the affairs of a particular insured institution, and that person subsequently seeks to participate at another insured depository institution, another application must be submitted.

Individual Waivers

Individual Waivers per Section 19 will be considered on a case-by-case basis where substantial good cause exists for granting the waiver. An application for an Individual Waiver and for consent to participate in the affairs of an insured depository institution are both contained within this form and must be submitted to the appropriate FDIC Regional or Area Office where the applicant currently resides. Since de minimis offenses may qualify for automatic approval (see de minimis discussion above), the expectation is that Individual Waivers will be granted only in truly meritorious cases and upon good cause shown. For Individual Waivers, the FDIC's approval results in the issuance of a published order and allows the covered individual to participate in the affairs of any insured depository institution in any capacity, subject to the FDIC's conditions of approval. The approval is limited to the convictions or Program Entries covered by the order. If such covered individual is convicted or enters into a pretrial diversion or similar program for a subsequent offense covered by Section 19, he or she is prohibited from participating in the affairs of any insured depository institution and must reapply to the FDIC via the Sponsorship or Individual Waiver process, unless the offense is considered de minimis.

If an individual is seeking a waiver, do not complete Sections I & II of the application. An individual should complete Sections IV, V, and VI, and in particular the INDIVIDUAL WAIVER STATEMENT, as well as the INDIVIDUAL WAIVER CERTIFICATION.

Application Considerations

I. STANDARDS TO BE APPLIED IN DETERMINING WHETHER AN APPLICATION FOR CONSENT IS REQUIRED UNDER SECTION 19

Section 19 applies to employees of an insured depository institution as well as to any other person who is in a position to influence control over the management or participate in the affairs of an insured depository institution. Please note that in addition to the requirement to file an application with the FDIC, some individuals may also need to comply with any filing requirements established by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, in the case of a bank holding company or savings and loan holding company. Absent the FDIC's written approval, persons covered by Section 19 are precluded from owning or controlling an insured depository institution. A person will be deemed to exercise "control" if that person has the power to vote 25 percent or more of the voting shares of an insured depository institution (or 10 percent of the voting shares if no other person has more shares) or the ability to direct the management or policies of the institution. Under the same standards, a person will be deemed to "own" an insured depository institution if that person owns 25 percent or more of the institution's voting stock, or 10 percent of the voting shares if no other person owns more. These standards would also apply to an individual acting in concert with others so as to have such ownership or control. Absent the FDIC's consent, persons subject to the prohibitions of Section 19 will be required to divest their control or ownership of shares above the foregoing limits. The following standards are used in the determination as to whether Section 19 is applicable.

- A. There must be a conviction of record. Section 19 does not cover arrests, pending cases not brought to trial, acquittals, or any conviction that has been reversed on appeal, unless the reversal was for the purpose of re-sentencing. A conviction that is being appealed will require a Section 19 application until or unless otherwise reversed. If an order of expungement or an order to seal has been issued in regard to a conviction, or if a record has been otherwise expunged by operation of law, then the conviction shall not be considered a conviction of record and shall not require an application. A conviction for which a pardon has been granted will require an application.

Entrance into pretrial diversion or similar program. A Program Entry, whether formal or informal, is characterized by a suspension or eventual dismissal of charges or criminal prosecution often upon agreement by the accused to treatment, rehabilitation, restitution, or other noncriminal or non-punitive alternatives. Whether a program constitutes a pretrial diversion or similar program is determined by relevant federal, state, or local law, and if not so designated under applicable law, then the determination of whether it is a pretrial diversion or similar program will be made by the FDIC on a case-by-case basis. Participation in a Program Entry in connection with a prosecution for a covered offense is included within the provisions of Section 19, and an application is required. If, after successful completion of a Program Entry, the initial charge for a covered offense is reduced to a charge for an offense that is not a covered offense, or is dismissed, the offense will require an application unless the initially charged offense is de minimis. Program Entries that are expunged or sealed will be treated the same as expunged or sealed convictions and shall not require an application. Program Entries prior to November 29, 1990, are not covered by Section 19.

Before an application is considered by the FDIC, all of the sentencing requirements associated with a conviction or conditions imposed by the Program Entry, including but not limited to, imprisonment, fines, condition of rehabilitation, and probation requirements, must be completed, and the case must be considered final by the procedures of the applicable jurisdiction.

- B. The conviction or Program Entry must be for a criminal offense involving dishonesty, breach of trust, or money laundering. Misdemeanors as well as felonies are included. "Dishonesty" means directly or indirectly to cheat or defraud, to cheat or defraud for monetary gain or its equivalent, or wrongfully to take property belonging to another in violation of any criminal statute. Dishonesty includes acts involving lack of integrity; lack of probity; or a disposition to distort, cheat, or act deceitfully or fraudulently, and may include crimes that federal, state, or local laws define as dishonest. "Breach of trust" means a wrongful act, use, misappropriation, or omission with respect to any property or fund that has been committed to a person in a fiduciary or official capacity, or the misuse of one's official or fiduciary position to engage in a wrongful act, use, misappropriation, or omission. Whether a crime involves dishonesty or breach of trust will be determined from the statutory elements of the crime itself.

The FDIC Board has determined that Section 19 applies to certain drug-related crimes. All convictions or Program Entries for offenses concerning the illegal manufacture, sale, distribution of, or trafficking in controlled substances shall require an application, unless they fall within the provisions for de minimis offenses. Convictions or Program Entries for criminal offenses involving the simple possession of a controlled substance are not covered under Section 19.

C. Youthful Offenders

Adjudication by a court against a person as a "youthful offender" under any youth offender law or adjudication as a "juvenile delinquent" by a family court or any other court having jurisdiction over minors as defined by state law will not require an application under Section 19. Such adjudications are not considered convictions for criminal offenses.

D. Adults and All Minors Convicted of Crimes

The conviction of any adult or minor by a court of competent jurisdiction for any criminal offense involving dishonesty, breach of trust, or money laundering as defined in paragraph B and not excluded under the automatic consent provision of the de minimis criteria will require an application to, and consent by, the FDIC prior to an insured depository institution's employment of such person, or such person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, the insured depository institution, or otherwise participating in the affairs of an insured depository institution.

II. EVALUATION OF APPLICATIONS MADE UNDER SECTION 19

- A. The essential criteria in assessing an application is whether the person has demonstrated his or her fitness to participate in the conduct of the affairs of an insured depository institution, and whether the affiliation, ownership, control, or participation by the person in the conduct of the affairs of the insured depository institution may constitute a threat to the safety and soundness of the insured depository institution or the interests of its depositors or threaten to impair public confidence in the insured depository institution. In determining the degree of risk, the FDIC will consider certain factors for both Sponsorship applications and Individual Waiver applications. These factors are:
- The conviction or Program Entry and the specific nature and circumstances of the covered offense;
  - Evidence of rehabilitation, including the person's age at the time of conviction or Program Entry, the amount of time that has elapsed since the conviction or Program Entry, and the person's employment history and full legal history;
  - The position to be held or the level of participation by the person at an insured institution;
  - The amount of influence the person will be able to exercise over the operation, management, or affairs of an insured depository institution;

- The ability of management of the insured institution to supervise and control the person's activities;
- The level of ownership or control the person will have at the insured institution;
- The applicability of the insured depository institution's fidelity bond coverage to the person;
- The opinion or position of the primary federal or state regulator; and
- Any additional factors in the specific case that appear relevant.

- B. These are the important considerations in determining the risk to insured depository institutions. However, Sponsorship applications differ from Individual Waiver applications in several aspects. In a Sponsorship application, an insured depository institution seeks the FDIC's consent for the covered individual to participate only in a specific role at the sponsoring institution. The sponsoring depository institution is aware of the covered individual's conviction and rehabilitation history and is willing to sponsor that individual. The depository institution, in applying on behalf of a covered individual, has agreed to supervise the covered individual for a specific duty or job range and must ensure the person is covered by the institution's fidelity bond to the same extent as others in similar positions. Furthermore, the degree of scrutiny accorded a Sponsorship application will be directly proportional to the individual's proposed position.
- C. When evaluating Individual Waiver applications, the FDIC must consider that, upon issuance of an order granting a waiver and approval, generally, the covered individual will not be barred by Section 19 from holding any position or participating to any extent in the ownership, affairs, or influence over management of any insured depository institution. In addition, the FDIC is unable to assess the degree of supervision and controls that may prospectively exist over the covered individual's activities at any insured depository institution. Accordingly, such consent is granted only in meritorious cases where the applicant has demonstrated substantial good cause and a record of rehabilitation sufficient to mitigate the seriousness of the offense. The record of rehabilitation must be detailed, commensurate with the seriousness of the offense, and demonstrate that the individual is fit to participate in the conduct of the affairs of an insured financial institution. Item number 22 in Section V of this application form provides examples of documentation that may be submitted as evidence of rehabilitation. Approved Individual Waiver orders are generally subject to conditions. The conditions typically require the covered individual to provide a copy of the FDIC's order to all insured institutions in the affairs of which he or she intends to participate and that the covered individual be covered by fidelity insurance to the same extent as those who hold similar positions. Other conditions may be imposed as deemed appropriate.
