

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Program Survey: Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) ADR

Purpose of Survey

The purpose of this survey is to allow employees, contractors, and applicants of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Bureau) who have participated in the Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Program to freely express their views with regard to the effectiveness of this program. This survey is conducted by the ADR Program in an effort to better understand any concerns or questions regarding Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)-related ADR and how to improve it.

Your participation in this survey is completely voluntary. This survey should take less than 10 minutes.

Your responses and/or comments will remain anonymous. The ADR Program will not try and identify you nor will ADR distribute your individual responses or comments to anyone else (unless required to do so by law). ADR will only analyze all survey responses from all survey participants on a quarterly basis in order to improve the effectiveness of the process. Your responses and/or comments (or lack thereof) will not be made part of the relevant complaint file, or be used or considered in any way in any current or subsequent informal or formal EEO complaint (unless required by law).

Confidentiality is critical to the integrity and success of the ADR Program. All participants in ADR must keep everything said and done during ADR sessions completely confidential. In answering the questions in this survey or providing comments below, please be sure not to include any information about the substantive discussions or anything specific that occurred during any particular ADR session.

If you need a reasonable accommodation to participate in or complete this survey, you can contact the Bureau's reasonable accommodation coordinator at CFPB_ReasonableAccommodations@cfpb.gov. If you have questions or concerns about the Bureau's reasonable accommodation policy or procedures, you can also contact the Office of Civil Rights at 202-435-9EEO, 1-855-233-0362, 202-435-9742 (TTY) or CFPB_EEO@cfpb.gov.

Participation in this study is voluntary; you are not required to participate.

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

According to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, an agency may not conduct or sponsor, and not withstanding any other provision of law a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a valid OMB control number. The OMB control number for this collection is 3170-0024. It expires on XX/XX/XXXX. Comments regarding this collection of information, including the estimated response time, suggestions for improving the usefulness of the information, or suggestions for reducing the burden to respond to this collection should be submitted to the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Attention: PRA Office), 1700 G Street NW, Washington, DC 20552, or by email to CFPB_PRA@cfpb.gov.

ADR Program – Aggrieved Individuals/Complainants

This page will ask you specific questions about your experience as an individual who has participated in the Bureau's informal and/or formal EEO process and who has elected to use the ADR program to help resolve your EEO matter. If you are not the individual who pursued EEO counseling or filed a formal EEO complaint, please skip to the next question.

Confidentiality is critical to the integrity and success of the ADR Program. All participants in EEO-related ADR must keep everything said and done during mediation sessions completely confidential. In answering the questions in this survey or providing comments below, please be sure not to include any information about the substantive discussions or anything specific that occurred during any particular mediation. For each question below, please select the best response.

Your experience during the Formal EEO Complaint Process – Complainants

The Formal EEO Complaint Process begins when you file a formal complaint of discrimination with the Bureau's Office of Civil Rights (OCR). This page will ask you specific questions about your experience as a complainant during the Formal EEO Complaint Process only. If you did not participate in the formal complaint process recently as a complainant, please skip to the next question.

1. Formal EEO Complaint Process – Complainants

After I filed my formal complaint, OCR or its contract EEO investigator clearly explained the steps and deadlines of the formal complaint process.

Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Survey: Informal Complaint Process

Purpose of Survey

The purpose of this survey is to allow individuals who have participated in the Informal Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Process (also called EEO counseling) at the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Bureau) to freely express their views with regard to the effectiveness of this process. This survey is conducted by the Bureau's Office of Civil Rights (OCR) in an effort to better understand any concerns or questions regarding the informal EEO process and how to respond to those concerns and questions.

Your participation in this survey is completely voluntary. This survey should take less than 10 minutes.

Your responses and/or comments will remain anonymous. OCR will not try and identify you nor will OCR distribute your individual responses or comments to anyone else (unless required to do so by law). OCR will only analyze all survey responses from all survey participants on a quarterly basis in order to improve the effectiveness of the process. Your responses and/or comments (or lack thereof) will not be made part of the relevant complaint file, or be used or considered in any way in any current or subsequent informal or formal EEO complaint (unless required by law).

If you need a reasonable accommodation to participate in or complete this survey, you can contact the Bureau's reasonable accommodation coordinator at CFPB_ReasonableAccommodations@cfpb.gov. If you have questions or concerns about the Bureau's reasonable accommodation policy or procedures, you can also contact the Office of Civil Rights at 202-435-9EEO, 1-855-233-0362, 202-435-9742 (TTY) or CFPB_EEO@cfpb.gov.

The information you provide through your responses as employees of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Bureau) who have participated in the Informal Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Process will allow the Bureau's Office of Civil Rights (OCR) to better understand any concerns or questions you may have about the Informal EEO Process and how to improve it.

The CFPB will not obtain or access personally identifiable information.

This collection of information is authorized by Pub. L. No. 111-203, Title X, Sections 1013 and 1022, codified at 12 U.S.C. §§ 5493 and 5512.

Participation in this study is voluntary; you are not required to participate.

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

According to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, an agency may not conduct or sponsor, and not withstanding any other provision of law a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a valid OMB control number. The OMB control number for this collection is 3170-0024. It expires on XX/XX/XXXX. Comments regarding this collection of information, including the estimated response time, suggestions for improving the usefulness of the information, or suggestions for reducing the burden to respond to this collection should be submitted to the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Attention: PRA Office), 1700 G Street NW, Washington, DC 20552, or by email to CFPB_PRA@cfpb.gov.

EEO Counseling – Aggrieved Individuals

This page will ask you specific questions about your experience as an "aggrieved individual" during the Informal EEO process/EEO counseling. Please answer this question if you are/were an individual who sought advice or help from the Bureau's OCR about possible violations of your rights under the EEO laws. If you are not the "aggrieved individual" please skip to the next question.
