

Thank you for taking the time to provide us with feedback on the Grad Path tool and adviser's guide. The questions are all open response. It should take no more than 45 minutes to complete. Please skip any questions that are not relevant to your experience.

Privacy Notice

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Bureau) is collecting feedback from individuals who participated in the Grad Path tool and advisor's guide pilot using this questionnaire. The information you provide will be used by the Bureau to improve and refine the tool and advisor's guide for future use.

No personally identifiable information (PII) will be collected through this questionnaire. You will be assigned a random identifier, and any feedback you provide will not be attributed to you or associated with your PII, such as your name or contact information. At the conclusion of the questionnaire, you may opt to participate in a subsequent group listening session with the Bureau to provide further feedback on the advisor's guide. If you choose to participate, the Bureau will use your contact information to schedule a session.

The collection of information is authorized by Pub. L. No. 111-203, Title X, Sections 1013 and 1022, codified at 12 U.S.C. §§ 5493 and 5512.

Participation in this questionnaire and the subsequent listening session is voluntary.

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice

According to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, an agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a valid OMB control number. The OMB control number for this collection is 3170-0024. It expires on 05/31/2022. The time required to complete this information collection is estimated to average approximately 1 hour per response. Comments regarding this collection of information, including the estimated response time, suggestions for improving the usefulness of the information, or suggestions for reducing the burden to respond to this collection should be submitted to the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (Attention: PRA Office), 1700 G Street NW, Washington, DC 20552, or by email to PRA_Comments@cfpb.gov.

How did you and your students use Grad Path? (E.g., in a group activity, individually, in one-on-one conversations, other scenarios?)

To what extent did it help students decode the cost of attendance and their offers?

How did your students adjust their cost of attendance based on other information they had (if at all)?

How did you and your students use Grad Path to compare schools (if at all)?

What questions did students still have after using Grad Path?

How could we make Grad Path more useful or relevant to you and your students?

How could we make Grad Path easier to use?

What should we add or subtract from the Grad Path tool?

Did your students go back and revise their plans in Grad Path as their situations changed? (I.e., they received more scholarships)

How did you use the guide? How often did you use it? (E.g., you read it once, you used a couple handouts with students and families, you didn't use it all – or something else!)

Did you ever look at the word doc version or just the PDFs and budget spreadsheet?

Which handouts and worksheets did you use the most?

Which handouts and worksheets did you use the least (or not at all)?

How could we change the adviser's guide (including the handouts and worksheets) to make it more useful or relevant to you and your students?

What should we add or subtract from the guide and handouts/worksheets?

We'd like to conduct a group listening session to get further feedback on the adviser guide. It would take about one hour of your time, ideally the week of July 12th. Are you willing to participate? If so, tell us your best days/times of day.

No, I will not participate.

Yes, I am willing to participate. I am available during these days/times:
