Confirmation Questions

Following the gender questions shown below, one of the treatment groups will receive an additional question if they respond via the web or through a phone interview.

d. How do you currently describe yourself?

xxxx Male

xxxx Female

xxxx Transgender

xxxx None of these, specify: xxxxx

e. Was your sex recorded as male or female at birth?

xxxx 1 Male

2 Female

The confirmation question will be programmed to appear when the responses to questions d and e differ.

Logic:

If (e = male and d = female), (e = female and d = male), (e = male and d = transgender), (e = female and d = transgender), then display:

Just to confirm, you were recorded as [response] at birth and currently describe yourself as [gender response]. Is that correct?

Yes

No

If the respondent selects “none of these” in the gender question the wording should be:

Logic:

If (e = male and d = none of the these) or (e = female and d = none of these), then display:

Just to confirm, you were recorded as [response] at birth and currently do not describe yourself as male, female or transgender. Is that correct?

Yes

No

If the response to the confirmation question is “No” respondents will be prompted to confirm or correct their answers to the two gender identity questions.
