Y_YAINTRO. I'm calling today about a research study, called the National Survey of Child and Adolescent Well-Being sponsored by the Administration for Children and Families (ACF). You took part in an earlier round of the study. Our next round of interviews is underway. We recently sent you a letter and a fact describing this next phase in more detail. Did you have a chance to review the materials?

1 = YES (GOTO YA_Review)

2 = NO (GOTO YA_NoReview)

YA_NoReview

Before we begin, I must review the consent form with you to ensure you are fully informed about study participation and your rights as a respondent. This will take just a few minutes.

GOTO YA_FULLCON (VERSION 2YA)

YA_Review

This study is sponsored by the Administration for Children and Families, a part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. We are following up with over 4,000 families roughly 36 months after the initial interview. Your interview for this round of the study will take approximately 45 minutes to complete. There are two parts: first a telephone survey, and then a web survey. The telephone interview includes questions about your community environment, social supports in your life, income, employment, and independent living skills. The web survey includes questions that you can answer on your own time and in private and includes questions about services you might have received, substance abuse, delinquency, involvement with the law, coercion, and intimate partner violence. Knowledge gained from this study will improve child welfare services and programs. Any data you provide will only be used by qualified individuals for research purposes. The only exceptions to this promise of confidentiality are if you tell me you intend to seriously harm yourself or someone else, or if a child in your care is in danger. In this situation I may need to notify a mental health professional or other authorities.

Your participation is voluntary. You may consider some of the questions to be sensitive and some of the questions may also make you feel certain emotions, such as sadness. Remember you can choose not to answer any questions you do not want to answer, and you can stop the interview at any time. If you become upset at any time during the interview and wish to speak to a mental health professional about how you are feeling, I will provide you with the toll-free hotline numbers to call. A $50 electronic gift card will be sent to you after the telephone and web surveys. We may also telephone you in the future to check on the quality of my work during this interview.

Do you have any questions before we begin? ANSWER RESPONDENT QUESTIONS.

Can we go ahead and get started?

1 = YES, AGREES TO STUDY PARTICIPATION

2 = NO, DOES NOT AGREE TO STUDY PARTICIPATION

IF R STILL UNWILLING TO PARTICIPATE: Thank you for your time. END CALL. DOCUMENT THE SITUATION.

YA_FUTURE

At some point in the future, a different group of researchers may take over this study. If that happens, with your consent, we would give your contact information to the other group.

Do you agree to have your contact information given to another research company if they start doing the study?

1 = YES, AGREES TO HAVE CONTACT INFORMATION GIVEN TO ANOTHER RESEARCH COMPANY IF THEY START DOING THE STUDY.

2 = NO, DOES NOT AGREE TO HAVE CONTACT INFORMATION GIVEN TO ANOTHER RESEARCH COMPANY IF THEY START DOING THE STUDY.

YA_CARI

We also use a laptop quality control system for this study. The system runs on my computer. This system will make audio recordings of what you and I say to each other during the interview. Neither you nor I will know when the computer records what we say. Project staff at RTI will listen to the recordings only to review my work. The recordings will be destroyed at the end of the study after data have been cleaned and analyzed.

Do you we have your permission to run this system during the interview?

This study is sponsored by the Administration for Children and Families, a part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. We are following up with over 4,000 children and their caregivers roughly 36 months after the initial interview. The interview with your child will last around 45 minutes. There are two parts to your child's interview: first a telephone survey, and then a web survey. The interview will ask your child about their development, family experiences, school, and relationships with friends. At the end of the telephone survey, we will provide your child with a secure web link and a PIN to complete the rest of the questions online where they can work at their own pace and answer questions in private. The questions on the Internet will ask your child about services received, substance abuse, delinquency, sexual activity, and involvement with the law. Knowledge gained from this study will improve child welfare services and programs.

Any data your child provides will only be used by qualified individuals for research purposes. We will not tell anyone your child's answers unless we are worried about your child's safety. If your child tells us they might hurt themselves or someone else, we may tell someone. If they tell us someone hurts them, we will inform the appropriate authorities to keep people safe.

Your child's participation is voluntary. Remember your child can choose not to answer any questions they do not want to answer, and your child can stop the interview at any time. The information you have provided so far is very helpful to the study. The NSCAW interview with you can be even more useful when we combine your answers with other data. This includes information available now as well as future information. We want to ask for your okay to add other types of information to your survey answers.

We would add three types of information to your interview data.

- We would add records collected from child welfare services agencies taking part in the study. Adding this information will help us learn about foster care, adoption, or other services you receive.
- We would add information about your household's income, such as wages and disability benefits from the Social Security Administration and from data available to the Administration for Children and Families—the agency funding the study.
- Researchers interested in NSCAW data may wish to add other information in the future. This could include data on county or state child welfare policies.

If you give your okay now, we will collect these other kinds of information to combine with your survey data. Your okay to link your survey data to other information will last until you turn 18 years old unless you change your mind before then. Your okay means we can start adding information about you now or in the future. When you turn 18 years old, we will ask if it is okay to collect information about you as an adult. If you say no then, we will stop adding information about you as an adult and only keep and share the information collected before you turned 18 years old.

How will you add information and who will use it?

We will allow some researchers to do studies using your data that combine your survey answers to other sources. We created a clear plan to protect the data shared with other researchers. The study must first be approved by persons in charge of protecting the rights of those who take part in research studies. Researchers will use the data to write reports. None of these reports will include your name.

What are the risks and benefits for saying OK to this?

We have protections in place to collect and store your information securely. However, there is a small risk. If someone does not follow the rules we set, someone outside the study team might see your information. We reduce this risk by using a study ID and not your name when moving and storing your interview data.

Combining your survey data with other information presents no direct benefits to you. Your decision will not affect any services that you receive now or in the future.

By answering "Yes", you give your "okay" for us to link your survey data with information in the future. You have the right to say yes or no to this request. Your okay also allows us to share it with researchers for other approved research studies.

If you change your mind, please call Jennifer Keeney, at RTI International RTI) (toll-free at 800-334-8571, extension 23525) or RTI's Office of Human Research Protections at 1-866-214-2043 (a toll-free number) to record this request.

01 = Yes, I agree to share my NSCAW information with other sources like those listed above. My okay takes effect when RTI releases information from this round to researchers.
02 = No, I do not want to add the other types of information described above to my first NSCAW interview.
