PAID Program

The Wage and Hour Division's (WHD) new nationwide pilot program, the Payroll Audit Independent Determination (PAID) program, facilitates resolution of potential overtime and minimum wage violations under the Fair Labor

Standards Act (FLSA). The program's primary objectives are to resolve such claims expeditiously and without litigation, to improve employers' compliance with overtime and minimum wage obligations, and to ensure that more employees receive the back wages they are owed—faster.

Under the PAID program, employers are encouraged to conduct audits and, if they discover overtime or minimum wage violations, to self-report those violations. Employers may then work in good faith with WHD to correct their mistakes and to quickly provide 100% of the back wages due to their affected employees.

How the PAID Program Works

On this website, interested employers can find the resources they need to participate in PAID compliance assistance materials.

After reviewing these materials, employers must then audit their compensation practices for compliance. Once an employer identifies any potential claims it wants to resolve, the employer must then:

- Specifically identify the potential violations;
- Identify which employees were affected;
- Identify the timeframes in which each employee was affected; and
- Calculate the amount of back wages the employer believes are owed to each employee.

Next, the employer should contact WHD to discuss the issues for which it seeks resolution. the manner in which the employer must submit required information, including the followin

- The back wage calculations described above, along with supporting evidence and metf
- A concise explanation of the scope of the potential violations for possible inclusion in a
- A certification that the employer reviewed all of the PAID program's information, terms and
- A certification that the employer meets all eligibility criteria of the PAID program.

WHD will then evaluate this information and contact the employer to discuss next steps, inc information necessary for WHD to assess the back wages due for the identified compensati for issuing payment by the end of the next full pay period after receiving the summary of u proof of payment to WHD.
