Community Development Revolving Loan Fund – Loan and Grant Programs
12 CFR Part 705
OMB No. 3133-0138

A. JUSTIFICATION

1. Circumstances that make the collection of information necessary.

NCUA's Community Development Revolving Loan Fund (CDRLF or Fund) was established by Congress (Pub. L. 96-123, November 20, 1979) to stimulate economic development in low-income communities. Part 705 was adopted by the Board under section 130 of the Federal Credit Union Act (12 U.S.C. 1772c-1), which implements the Community Development Credit Union Revolving Loan Fund Transfer Act (Pub. L. 99-609, 100 Stat.3475 (Nov. 6. 1986)).

The Fund is used to support credit unions that serve low-income communities by providing loans and technical assistance grants to qualifying institutions. The programs are designed to increase income, ownership, and employment opportunities for low-income residents, and to stimulate economic growth. In addition, the programs provide assistance to improve the quality of services to the community and formulate more effective and efficient operations of credit unions.

2. Purpose and use of the information collection.

CDRLF loan and technical assistance grant opportunities are available to eligible designated low-income credit unions. A Notice of Funding Opportunity is published in the Federal Register identifying the period in which funds are available. It also announces special initiatives, the amount of funds available, funding priorities, permissible uses of funds, funding limits, deadlines, and other pertinent details. The Notice of Funding Opportunity advises potential applicants on how to obtain an application and related materials. Through a competitive application process, NCUA's Office of Credit Union Resources and Expansion will determine credit unions' eligibility and administer the funds.

Additional reporting requirements are required of awardees, such as a promissory note and a loan agreement (loans) and extension document and additional documents based on grant initiative (grants).

The documents are used to evaluate and administer applications for financial assistance from the CDRLF and to monitor the use of funds and monitor the effectiveness of funds utilized by participating credit unions

The Fund supports the efforts of participating credit unions by providing basic financial and related services to members and the communities that they serve; stimulating economic activities in the communities they serve which will result in increased income, ownership and employment opportunities for low-income residents, and other community growth efforts.

3. Use of information technology.

NCUA administers both the loan and technical assistance program with a fully-automated online system (from CyberGrants) to increase internal and external efficiencies. Applicants will be required to submit the information using the online system and NCUA uses the same system to evaluate and manage applications.

4. Efforts to identify duplication.

The information collection consists of legal documents necessary to support NCUA's administration of the CDRLF and the information the rule calls for is unique to each credit union loan transaction and grant application. There is no duplication with any other required submission or recordkeeping. The information requested in the application is not available from other sources.

5. Minimizing the burden on small entities.

The use of CyberGrants online portal for the application process was deployed in 2012 and provided burden relief to low-income designated credit unions by streamlining all forms, processes, and guidelines.

6. Consequence of not conducting collection.

Loans – The information collected is necessary to support the legal requirements and obligations associated with administering a loan program in which funds are lent with an expectation of repayment. In accordance with its statutory mandate, the CDRLF is a revolving fund; money lent to one credit union is returned and re-lent to others. Failure to require these collections could result in funds being distributed to applicants that are financially unable to repay the loan or used for purposes inconsistent with the purpose and objectives of the statute and its regulation.

Technical Assistance – The information collected is used to assess financial viability and suitability to receive funding under the program guidelines. Without the information, there would be no basis upon which to award grant funding. The information is requested only once and could not be collected less frequently.

7. Inconsistencies with guidelines in 5 CFR 1320.5(d)(2).

No special circumstances exist that would cause this collection to be conducted in a manner inconsistent with OMB guidelines.

8. Consultations with persons outside the agency.

The Technical Assistance Application process is discussed at regional conferences, credit union meetings, league conferences, and other federal agency conferences on an ongoing basis. The credit union community provides feedback on the application process at these forums. In addition, a 60-day notice was published in the Federal Register on July 20, 2021, at 86 FR 38361, soliciting comments from the public on the renewal of this information collection. No comments were received in response to this notice.

9. Payments or gifts to respondents.

NCUA will not make any payment, gift or remuneration to anyone in connection with this collection of information.

10. Assurance of confidentiality.

There is no assurance of confidentiality other than those provided by law.

11. Information of a sensitive nature.

No questions of a sensitive nature are asked. The information collection does not collect any Personally Identifiable Information (PII).

12. Estimate of burden of information collection.

Grants: Of the 450 grant applications, NCUA estimates 300 reimbursement requests, and 30 irregular extension and/or re-allocation requests annually. Additionally, a justification from those applicants requesting emergency consideration is required. Burden associated with the disclosure of a credit unions progress of grant initiative and services provided to members from loan funds under the CDRLF are provided to members (§705.9(b)(2)(ii)) at their annual meeting as prescribed by Article IV, Section 4(c) of Appendix A to part 701.

Loans: NCUA estimates four loan applications per year. The approved applications requires additional documentation such as the loan agreement, promissory note etc. It also calls for a report describing the use of loan proceeds, the impact of any new programs supported or funded by loan proceeds, and any obstacles encountered affecting the credit union's ability to accomplish the objectives identified in its loan application. This reporting must be provided to NCUA once a year. Additional justification is also needed from those applicants requesting emergency consideration.

Based on the previous application cycle, adjustments have been made to NCUA estimates to reflect current information collection activity as follows:
