Survey on Crime Prevention for Truckers

Hi. We're interested in learning about harassment and assaults against female and minority truck drivers. We want to know when and where these things happen. We want to know about the types of people who do these things. If you are a female or minority male truck driver, please take this survey even if you have not experienced harassment or crime yourself. It will take 15 to 20 minutes.

We are from Battelle, a research and development company, and we are conducting this survey for the United States Department of Transportation.

This is an anonymous survey. We will do everything we can to protect your identity. We won't ask your name. We won't track where your phone or computer connects from. Please don't tell us anything else that could identify you. Don't tell us your employer's name or the name of anybody you work with. We will read your answers and try to remove any names or other identifying information you accidentally give.

We will use this information to understand how big the problem is. We believe that your sharing your experiences will help us think of ways to make a safer environment for all drivers. We want to know what kinds of crimes happen to female and minority drivers.

The results of this survey will be available from the Department of Transportation. Anyone can see the results. We will try to make sure the results do not have any information that could identify you.

We will ask you a few questions to see if you are eligible for the survey. If you are not eligible, the survey will excuse you with our thanks for your willingness to participate.

You may find some of the questions sensitive or personal. You could get upset when you try to remember your experiences. You may skip any question you do not want to answer. There are some questions you have to answer to be eligible to take the survey. Your information is important for promoting drivers' safety. We hope you will answer all of the questions.

If you have questions about the survey, please contact xxxx at xxx-xxx-xxxx or xxx@xxxx.com [The contact will probably be in the Women in Trucking office.]

[These three companies are examples. The selection of gift cards will be made when the survey is implemented.]

At the end of the survey, we will offer you a $25 gift card from Amazon, Apple iTunes, or PayPal. To receive a gift card, you will need an account with one of the gift card companies. When you finish the survey, you will switch to a separate web site. All your survey responses will be separated from the information we need to give you a gift card. We do not want to know anything that could identify you in our survey.

This survey is voluntary. If you are willing to take part in our survey, please click Continue.

[Participants who click Continue begin the survey.]

[Q1. through Q7. and Q12. screen for eligibility. Participants can proceed only if they answer all of these questions and meet all of the criteria.

Q8. through Q11. are background. Answers are not required.

Q13. through Q24. are the basic questions of what happened. Participants must answer them to receive the incentive.

Q25. and onward probe for details of what, who, where, and so forth. Participants may skip questions they do not wish to answer.]

Truck drivers sometimes experience harassment or even violence. Please tell us about threats or crimes that happened to you. We are especially interested in knowing what happened because you are a female or minority truck driver. Think of what happens at work. Do not tell us what happened at your home. But, if somebody from work came to your house or somewhere else, include that.

	In the past two years . . .

Continue

[When the participant clicks Continue, we will have one of three cases:

Case 1: The participant said there was at least one instance of something more serious than name calling (that is, at least one of Q14. through Q21. has a check in other than the far left box) or the participant entered text in the box for Q23.. In this case, proceed to the dotted line after these three cases.

Case 2: If nothing happened (i.e., Q14. through Q21. are all "It did not happen to me" and Q23. is blank) or the only event was name calling on the first row (Q13.), we thank and dismiss the participant. We will offer the incentive to the participant. Skip to Q61., which is the open-ended question before the Normal Exit Page.

Case 3: One or more rows in the matrix are missing an answer. If so, leave the above questions visible and put up Q24..]

Q24. You left some blanks. We would like your answers to all of these questions, even if they never happened. You are not required to answer any question. If you want to receive the gift card, please put a check on every row, whether something happened to you or not. If you have said all you want to say, we are glad for what you have told us.

You may put checks on the blank rows and click Continue again. Or you may click this button to Stop here.

[If the participant clicks Stop here, go to Exit Page B. If the participant clicks Continue again and Case 1 or Case 2 applies, proceed accordingly. If the participant clicks Continue but rows are still blank, emphasize Q24.. If the participant clicks Continue a second time with blank rows, go to Exit Page B.]

-----

[Arrive here if the previous set of questions resulted in Case 1, something significant happened. The rest of the survey is asking for details on one of the items from the previous page. We will ask about the one the participant took the time to write out if the participant did so. If the participant answered no for Q22. or wrote nothing in the box for Q23., then we will ask about one of the listed items. If the participant marked that only one of the items happened, that's the one. If the participant marked more than one, we will randomly select the one to pursue. There are three cases.]

[Case A: If the participant filled in the box for Q23., put up this message and the Intro for Q25..]

We want to ask a few more questions about the situation you described.

[Case B: If the participant entered nothing for Q23. and marked "It did not happen to me" on all but one of Q14. through Q21., then display the one where something happened. Display one of the following and the Intro for Q25..]

 We want to ask you a few more questions about rape.
 We want to ask you a few more questions about human trafficking or forced labor.

[Case C: If the participant marked an occurrence for more than one of Q14. through Q21., then we will randomly select one for follow-up. Select from among the events the participant experienced at least once. Display the above sentence that was randomly chosen and the Intro for Q25..]

[Intro for Q25.. Display this message and Q25. along with the message for Case A, B, or C.]

If you don't want to answer a question, please skip it.

[All of the remaining questions are optional; the participant may skip any of them. In most cases, if the participant does not answer a question, proceed to the next question. If an unanswered question is followed by an unconditional skip, take the skip. The instructions note some exceptions where the survey will skip to a different question if the participant chooses not to answer.]

[Exit Page A. This is the page for people who begin the survey but do not meet the selection criteria. Participants reach this page because one of their answers to the screening questions on profession or demographics excluded them (Q1. through Q7.). They come to this page as soon as we learn they are ineligible. They are not offered the gift card.]

Thank you for taking time to visit. We have enough responses from people in your group.

If you have questions, please contact xxxx at xxx-xxx-xxxx or xxx@xxxx.com [The contact will probably be in the Women in Trucking office.]

[Display the same list of places to go for help.]

[Exit Page B. Participants reach this page if they have taken the survey before (Q12.) or if they decide not to finish answering the basic questions (Q24.). They do not take the main part of the survey and they are not offered the gift card.]

Thank you for taking time to visit.

If you have questions, please contact xxxx at xxx-xxx-xxxx or xxx@xxxx.com [The contact will probably be in the Women in Trucking office.]

[Display the same list of places to go for help.]

[This is the totally different web site. It will be on a different domain than the survey. Even this page will not collect any information to identify the participant.]

Thank you for completing the survey. We would like to give you a gift card for $25. Please select one of the places to have your gift card.

You will have to tell your account name to the company you select. There will be no way for anybody to connect your account name to the answers on the survey. We will not keep track of which gift card you select. The company giving you the gift card has promised not to tell us who came for it.

[These are examples. The selection of gift cards will be made when the survey is implemented. Participants will provide their account information to the company so the gift can be credited. The company will control the login.]
