H-1B Registration Tool: Overview

Heading	Sub-Heading	Body Text	Revised Body Text
H-1B Registration		A U.S. employer or agent (prospective petitioner) who seeks to obtain H-1B nonimmigrant classification on behalf of an individual subject to the H-1B numerical allocations will need to submit a registration during a designated registration period, unless the registration requirement is suspended by USCIS. Prospective petitioners, or their attorneys or accredited representatives, may submit up to 250 registrations per submission. The annual initial registration period will last a minimum of 14 calendar days and will start at least 14 calendar days before the earliest date on which H-1B cap-subject petitions may be filed for a particular fiscal year. If a sufficient number of registrations projected as needed to reach the H-1B regular cap have not been received within the initial registration period, USCIS will notify all registrants who have properly registered that their registrations have been selected. USCIS will keep registration open past the initial registration period until USCIS has determined that it has received enough registrations projected as needed to meet the H-1B regular cap. After the end of the initial registration period, if USCIS has received more registrations than needed to meet the projected number of registrations to reach the regular cap, USCIS will first select registrations generally based on the highest Occupational Employment Statistics (OES) wage levels that the proffered wages equal or exceed for the relevant Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) codes and area(s) of intended employment. A similar process will apply for those who may be eligible for the advanced degree exemption. This ranking process will not affect the order of selection as between the regular cap and the advanced degree exemption; the wage level ranking will occur first for the regular cap selection and then for the advanced degree exemption. A Form I-129, Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker, may then be filed by the petitioner, during the applicable filing period, based on a selected registration to request classification of the beneficiary as an H-1B worker.	A U.S. employer or agent (prospective petitioner) who seeks to obtain H-1B nonimmigrant classification on behalf of an individual subject to the H-1B numerical allocations will need to submit a registration during a designated registration period, unless the registration requirement is suspended by USCIS. Prospective petitioners, or their attorneys or accredited representatives, may submit up to 250 registrations per submission. The annual initial registration period will last a minimum of 14 calendar days and will start at least 14 calendar days before the earliest date on which H-1B cap-subject petitions may be filed for a particular fiscal year. If a sufficient number of registrations projected as needed to reach the H-1B regular cap have not been received within the initial registration period, USCIS will notify all registrants who have properly registered that their registrations have been selected. A similar process will apply for those who may be eligible for the advanced degree exemption.
